A Blacklist Education Jane S. Smith, 2025-07-15 In A Blacklist Education a mysterious file of family papers triggers a journey through the dark days of political purges in the 1950s Jane S Smith tells the story of the anticommunist witch hunt that sent shockwaves through New York City's public schools as more than a thousand teachers were targeted by Board of Education investigators Her father was one of them a fact she learned only long after his death Beginning in 1949 amid widespread panic about supposed communist subversion investigators questioned teachers in their homes accosted them in their classrooms and ordered them to report to individual hearings The interrogations were not published filmed open to the public or reported in the news By 1956 hundreds of New York City teachers had been fired often because of uncorroborated reports from paid informers or anonymous accusers Most of the targeted teachers resigned or retired without any public process their names recorded only in municipal files and their futures never known Their absence became the invisible outline of an educational void a narrowing of thought that pervaded classrooms for decades In this highly personal story family lore and childhood memory lead to restricted archives forgotten inquisitions and an eerily contemporary campaign to control who could teach and what was acceptable for students to learn
