Justice Interruptus Rethinking Key Concepts Of A Postsocialist Age:

Justice Interruptus Nancy Fraser, 1997 Diagnosing the contemporary post socialist condition political philosopher Nancy Fraser identifies the tasks facing the critical theorists and political activists in the absence of a credible alternative to the present order

Carl Schmitt's Critique of Liberalism John P. McCormick, 1997 This is the first in depth critical appraisal in English of the political legal and cultural writings of Carl Schmitt perhaps this century's most brilliant critic of liberalism It offers an assessment of this most sophisticated of fascist theorists without attempting either to apologise for or demonise him Schmitt's Weimar writings confront the role of technology as it finds expression through the principles and practices of liberalism Contemporary political conditions such as disaffection with liberalism and the rise of extremist political organizations have rendered Schmitt's work both relevant and insightful John McCormick examines why technology becomes a rallying cry for both right and left wing intellectuals at times when liberalism appears anachronistic and shows the continuities between Weimar's ideological debates and those of our own age

The Classic Social Contractarians Janice Richardson, 2016-03-23 How can we live together without subordination and oppression What does it mean to treat each other as free and equal persons This book uses contemporary feminist insights to examine aspects of the classic social contractarians arguments focusing specifically upon the work of Hobbes Spinoza Locke Rousseau and Kant Considering the relationship between the self and the law this volume also looks at the points at issue between feminist political theorists and considers the usefulness of contractarian arguments for feminist politics today together with an examination of the relationship between their political legal and moral analyses

Global Justice and Recognition Theory Monica Mookherjee, 2023-06-16 In the light of intense international focus on ongoing forms of world poverty this book examines the potential of the concept of recognition in contemporary political philosophy to respond morally to this dire condition This book uses recognition theories to develop a two tiered response to the problem of global poverty First it highlights non degradation non humiliation and the avoidance of social suffering as essential components to the agency of the very poor This runs counter to liberal arguments that focus only on the deficit of basic material interests Second even if universal conditions of agency are met many of the world's extreme poor may still suffer domination The book argues that empowering the world's poor to resist domination is an essential response to global poverty By conceiving poverty in terms of agency and empowerment this book highlights the transnational relevance of recognition theory to one of the most crucial problems affecting a rapidly globalising world Global Justice and Recognition Theory will be of interest to scholars and advanced students working in social and political philosophy political theory and global justice

Self-Determination and Collective Responsibility in the Secessionist Struggle Costas Laoutides, 2016-03-03 The often violent emergence of new independent states following the end of the Cold War generated discussion about the normative grounds of territorial separatism A number of opposing approaches surfaced debating whether and under which circumstances there is a right for a community to secede from its host country Overwhelmingly these studies placed emphasis on the right to secession and neglected the moral stance of secessionist movements as agents in international relations In this book Costas Laoutides explores the collective moral agency involved in secessionist struggles offering a theoretical model for the collective responsibility of secessionist groups Case studies on the Kurds and the people of Moldova Transdnistria illustrate the author's theoretical arguments as he seeks to establish how although the principle of self determination was envisaged as a means of gradually bestowing political power upon the people it never managed to realize its full potential because it was interpreted strictly within a framework of exclusionary politics of identity

Demanding Sex: Critical Reflections on the Regulation of Prostitution Marina Della Giusta,2016-05-13 Interrogating supply demand from an inter and multi disciplinary perspective this collection broadens engagement beyond the routine analysis of the locus of violence in prostitution and the validity of the prostitute's consent. A focus on the supply demand dynamic brings into play a range of other societal economic and psychological factors such as the social construction of sexuality the viability of alternative choices for prostitutes and clients and the impact of regulatory regimes on the provision of sexual services. The factors which underlie each component of the supply demand dyad are also studied and an examination is made of their dynamic interrelation. The collection emphasizes the importance of rendering policy makers alert to the evidence emerging from empirical studies conducted in different fields of enquiry in the hope of moving beyond polarity and politics at the local national and international level.

Previous editions of the bestselling Deconstructing Special Education set a landmark for the understanding of inclusion. This completely re-written third edition continues in the tradition of critical analysis set by the first two editions and assesses how ideas and practice surrounding inclusion adapt to modern pressures and expectations. The new edition addresses the influence of intersectionality on the ways we think about special education and inclusion. Contemporary understandings of mental health and how these affect the way that we think about behaviour at school. Changing understandings of disability. The impact of research on the development of inclusion. Marketisation and its corrosive influence on inclusion. The impact of social media on children and young people. How spending on special needs impacts the development of inclusion. The authors address these complex issues in an open and accessible way making the book essential reading for a broad audience including students, teachers, educational psychologists, policymakers and researchers. Essential reading for anyone studying or working in either special or inclusive education. Few could build the case as well as Thomas and Loxley. Melanie Nind, Professor of Education, University of Southampton, UK. Few books in the field of education merit the soubriquet 'must read'. This is one such. Philip Garner, Professor, Brunel University, UK. An absolute must read for all of us committed to realising genuine inclusion within schools and society. Jan Valle, The City College of New York, USA. Finishing your first reading of their book makes you realise that you must return to it: such is the richness of the analysis and reach of its detail. This is a tour de force, a line in the sand for all successive work in the field of inclusive education. Roger Slee, Diamond Jubilee Professor of Disability Studies, University of Leeds, UK. Professor Gary Thomas is Emeritus Professor of Inclusion and Diversity at the School of Education, University of Birmingham, UK. Dr Andrew Loxley is an Associate Professor at the School of Education, Trinity College, Dublin, Ireland.

This revised edition of a popular text offers students an updated and comprehensive overview across special education It critically examines the intellectual foundations of special education and considers the consequences of their influence for professional and popular thinking about learning difficulties The chapters place inclusion within a social and political context to highlight how concepts have been influenced by theory and ideology across the years The book offers guidance to students on specific issues such as reading and behavioural difficulties with theoretically grounded information With a fresh chapter discussing current research intersectionality and increased marketisation within education this book reflects the new landscape and legislation of special education Essential reading for anyone studying or working in either special or inclusive education Few could build the case as well as Thomas and Loxley Melanie Nind Professor of Education University of Southampton UK Few books in the field of education merit the soubriquet must read This is one such Philip Garner Professor Brunel University UK An absolute must read for all of us committed to realising genuine inclusion within schools and society Jan Valle The City College of New York USA Finishing your first reading of their book makes you realise that you must return to it such is the richness of the analysis and reach of its detail This is a tour de force a line in the sand for all successive work in the field of inclusive education Roger Slee Diamond Jubilee Professor of Disability Studies University of Leeds UK

Ethics and Research in Inclusive Education Melanie Nind,Jonathan Rix,Kieron Sheehy,Katy Simmons,2014-01-02 The recent move towards inclusive education has radically influenced the way educational research is conducted Students need to become aware of the critical legal and ethical responsibilities that arise from investigation in this new and expanding area Written from the standpoint of inclusive education rather than special education this carefully edited collection of readings from a wide variety of sources will develop the student s ability to identify and respond to ethical dilemmas that occur within their particular research methodologies and settings respond appropriately to the myriad of complex legal issues that are pertinent to their own work The contributions to this book draw upon examples of inclusive practices from around the world Students taking postgraduate courses or diplomas in Inclusive education will find this an invaluable read International Handbook of Comparative Education Robert Cowen,Andreas M. Kazamias,2009-08-22 A big project like this Handbook means that you incur debts and not only to your authors and your publisher As editors we along with our colleague Elaine Unterhalter who edited the section on postcolonialism would like to thank most warmly those authors who delivered on time and who did not fuss but just got on and did a r rate job We would also like to thank all authors who did deliver which was almost everyone we asked We know that some of our authors worked in very dif cult private circumstances as they were nishing their chapters and we hope the publication of the Volumes will later be for them a happy reminder of dif culties and disasters overcome The only sad theme is that some very close colleagues with whom we were wo ing and for whom we had the greatest respect and liking became very ill and died while the volumes were being prepared We decided to ask for copyright permissions to publish something of theirs These permissions were graciously given by two major journals and with the agreement also of our publishers Springer Rolland Paulston and Terry McLaughlin have examples of their writing in this Handbook Older People, Ageing and Social Work Karen Heycox,2020-07-23 Essential reading for practitioners educators and researchers within the general field of social work with older people From the foreword by Mark Lymbery Associate Professor of Social Work University of Nottingham The reality of our ageing population means all social workers need to be confident in working with older people Social workers are engaged in ongoing practice with older people in a variety of contexts from hospitals aged care assessment teams and mental health services to employment services housing services and rehabilitation services Older People Ageing and Social Work draws on theoretical research policy and practice knowledge to inform contemporary practice with older people Hughes and Heycox demonstrate that high level professional skills are required in this area as well as detailed knowledge of the issues affecting older people s lives They argue that practitioners need to take into account the social and emotional needs of the older people they work with as well as the practical and administrative aspects of their roles They emphasise understanding the diversity of the older population and enabling older people to make the most of their strengths and capacities Justice and Vulnerability in Europe Trudie Knijn,Dorota Lepianka,2020-11-27 Justice and Vulnerability in Europe contributes to the understanding of justice in Europe from both a theoretical and empirical perspective It shows that Europe is falling short of its ideals and justice related ambitions by repeatedly failing its most vulnerable populations Law, Selfhood and Feminist Philosophy Janice Richardson,2023-08-22 At the intersection of law feminism and philosophy this book analyses the ways in which certain bodies and selves continue to be treated as monstrous aberrations from the ideal figure or norm Employing contemporary feminist philosophy to rethink accepted legal ideas the book is divided into three sections The first focuses on the different relational ontologies of philosophers Adriana Cavarero and Christine Battersby also considering their work via a third term Spinoza The second turns to diverse feminist engagements with the social contract theorists The third section employs insights from throughout the book to focus more explicitly on law and in particular privacy law and the so called wrongful birth cases Bringing together more than twenty years of sustained reflection this book offers an insightful account of how contemporary feminist philosophy can contribute to a richer understanding of law It will be of enormous interest to scholars and students working in the areas of legal theory feminist thought and philosophy
