Justified Questioning Military Indoctrination:

Justified? Nadine Andrea Forbes, 2002 Be All That You Can Be but at what cost Behind the guarded gates of the U S military is an institution riddled with abuse of power Justified is a first person look into military life It traces a path of shame from civilian to recruit to the transformation into a soldier where training deteriorates into injustice where the recruit has no support and sadly no voice This unfamiliar and gut wrenching story is not unique but rather is the grave reality of how civilians newly entering the military are broken and how soldiers are made A soldier must defend this country and its interests A soldier must obey orders without question A soldier must be able to resist the enemy and survive under the most difficult of conditions Furthermore a soldier must never leave a post unguarded or unprotected and ultimately a soldier must be able to kill and kill on command In the military a fine line is walked daily between intensity of training and torture of recruits torture as defined by this government as any act that inflicts severe pain or suffering physical or mental But what does it take to mold the perfect soldier who is obedient strong and a killing machine In order to attain the soldier s primary goals of marksmanship resiliency and fitness are beatings sleep and sensory deprivations sexual assaults and humiliating directives all necessary or justifiable Justified leads you through real events and real emotions from a female recruit s perspective It takes the reader back to the underlying reasons of why the author originally became infatuated with a military career back to her then seemingly unwavering passion Both author and reader begin negotiating through the physical and even more emotionally painful process of indoctrination At the end the question is asked Communist Interrogation, Indoctrination, and Exploitation of American Military and Civilian Prisoners United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Government Operations, United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Government Operations. Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations, 1956 Communist Interrogation, Indoctrination and Exploitation of American Military and Civilian Prisoners United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Government Operations. Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations, 1956 Guatemala, the Question of Genocide Elizabeth A. Oglesby, Diane M. Nelson, 2018-12-07 In Guatemala it was called the trial of the century the 2013 prosecution of former de facto head of state 1982 1983 General Jos Efra n R os Montt and his intelligence chief General Jos Mauricio Rodr guez S nchez on charges of genocide and crimes against humanity against the Maya Ixil people R os Montt s seventeen month reign was one of the bloodiest periods in Guatemala s history with scorched earth massacres the destruction of hundreds of Maya communities and militarized resettlement of Mayas into model villages R os Montt was convicted on all charges Ten days later a higher court vacated the verdict on dubious procedural grounds Nevertheless Guatemala s genocide trial held in the domestic courts in the country where the crimes were committed was precedent setting In this volume Guatemalan and international scholars rigorously explore the complexities of the Guatemala experience and reflect upon the case s implications for understanding and prosecuting the category of genocide more broadly Topics include the nexus of racism and counterinsurgency in explaining

Guatemala's genocide the politics of Maya collective memory the intersections of gender sexuality and ethnicity in genocide the decades long interconnections of national and transnational justice processes that brought the case to trial and the limits and contributions of tribunal justice This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Genocide Research
