The Social Life of Hagiography in the Merovingian Kingdom Jamie Kreiner, 2014-04-03 This book charts the influence of Christian ideas about social responsibility on the legal fiscal and operational policies of the Merovingian government which consistently depended upon the collaboration of kings and elites to succeed and it shows how a set of stories transformed the political playing field in early medieval Gaul Contemporary thinkers encouraged this development by writing political arguments in the form of hagiography more to redefine the rules and resources of elite culture than to promote saints cults Jamie Kreiner explores how hagiographers were able to do this effectively by layering their arguments with different rhetorical and cognitive strategies while keeping the surface narratives entertaining The result was a subtle and captivating literature that gives us new ways of thinking about how ideas and institutions can change and how the vibrancy of Merovingian culture inspired subsequent Carolingian developments

Cinema at the Crossroads Hyon Joo Yoo, 2012-04-25 In Cinema at the Crossroads Nation and the Subject in East Asian Cinema Hyon Joo Yoo argues that East Asian experiences of colonialism and postcolonialism call for a different conceptualization of postcoloniality subjectivity and the nation Through its analyses of Japanese Korean and Taiwanese cinemas this engaging study of cinema and culture charts the ways in which national cinemas visualize colonial and postcolonial conditions that derive from the history of Japanese colonialism and the post war alliance between Japan and the United States What does it mean to rethink postcolonial studies through East Asian cinema and experience Yoo pursues this question by bringing an East Asian postcolonial framework the notion of film as a manifestation of national culture and the methodology of psychoanalysis to bear on a failed hegemonic subject Cinema at the Crossroads is a profound look into how cinema and national culture intertwine with hegemony and power

Movie Medievalism Nickolas Haydock, 2014-01-10 This work offers a theoretical introduction to the portrayal of medievalism in popular film Employing the techniques of film criticism and theory it moves beyond the simple identification of error toward a poetics of this type of film sensitive to both cinema history and to the role these films play in constructing what the author terms the medieval imaginary The opening two chapters introduce the rapidly burgeoning field of medieval film studies viewed through the lenses of Lacanian psychoanalysis and the Deleuzian philosophy of the time image The first chapter explores how a vast array of films including both auteur cinema and popular movies contributes to the modern vision of life in the Middle Ages while the second is concerned with how time itself functions in cinematic representations of the medieval The remaining five chapters offer detailed considerations of specific examples of representations of medievalism in recent films including First Knight A Knight's Tale The Messenger The Story of Joan of Arc Kingdom of Heaven King Arthur Night Watch and The Da Vinci Code The book also surveys important benchmarks in the development of Deleuze's time image from classic examples like Bergman's The Seventh Seal and Kurosawa's Kagemusha through contemporary popular cinema in order to trace how movie medievalism constructs images of the multivalence of time in memory and representation
