Armed Ambiguity Julie Koser, 2016-03-31 Armed Ambiguity is a fascinating examination of the tropes of the woman warrior constructed by print culture including press reports novels dramatic works and lyrical texts during the decades long conflict in Europe around 1800 In it Julie Koser sheds new light on how women's bodies became a battleground for competing social cultural and political agendas in one of the most pivotal periods of modern history She traces the women warriors in this work as reflections of the social and political climate in German speaking lands and she reveals how literary texts and cultural artifacts that highlight women's armed insurrection perpetuated the false dichotomy of public versus private spheres along a gendered fault line Koser illuminates how reactionary visions of ideal femininity competed with subversive fantasies of new femininities in the ideological battle being waged over the restructuring of German society

E.D.E.N. Southworth Melissa Homestead, Pamela Washington, 2013-01-20 The prolific nineteenth century writer E D E N Southworth enjoyed enormous public success in her day she published nearly fifty novels during her career but that very popularity combined with her gender led to her almost complete neglect by the critical establishment before the emergence of academic feminism Even now most scholarship on Southworth focuses on her most famous novel The Hidden Hand However this new book the first since the 1930s devoted entirely to Southworth shows the depth of her career beyond that publication and reassesses her place in American literature Editors Melissa Homestead and Pamela Washington have gathered twelve original essays from both established and emerging scholars that set a new agenda for the study of E D E N Southworth's works Following an introduction by the editors these articles are divided into four thematic clusters The first Serial Southworth treats her fiction in periodical publication contexts Southworth's Genres the second grouping considers her use of a range of genres beyond the sentimental novel and the domestic novel In the third part Intertextual Southworth the essays present intensive case studies of Southworth's engagement with literary traditions such as Greek and Restoration drama and with her contemporaries such as Harriet Beecher Stowe and French novelist George Sand Southworth's focus on social issues and reform figures prominently throughout the volume but the pieces in the fourth section Southworth Marriage and the Law present a sustained inquiry into the ways in which marriage law and the status of women in the nineteenth century engaged her literary imagination The collection concludes with the first chronological bibliography of Southworth's fiction organized by serialization date rather than book publication For the first time scholars will be able to trace the publication history of each novel and will be able to access citations for lesser known and previously unknown works With its fresh approach this volume will be of great value to students and scholars of American literature women's studies and popular culture studies

Maximillian E. Novak, 2014-10-24 This book explores significant problems in the fiction of Daniel Defoe Maximillian E Novak investigates a number of elements in Defoe's work by probing his interest in rendering of reality what Defoe called the Thing itself Novak examines Defoe's interest in the relationship between prose fiction and painting as well as the various ways in which Defoe's works were read by contemporaries and by those novelists who attempted to imitate and comment upon his Life and Strange Surprising Adventures of Robinson Crusoe decades after its publication In this book Novak attempts to consider the uniqueness and imaginativeness of various aspects of Defoe's writings including his way of evoking the seeming inability of language to describe a vivid scene or moments of overwhelming emotion his attraction to the fiction of islands and utopias his gradual development of the concepts surrounding Crusoe's cave his fascination with the horrors of cannibalism and some of the ways he attempted to defend his work and serious fiction in general Most of all Transformations Ideology and the Real in Defoe's Robinson Crusoe and Other Narratives establishes the complexity and originality of Defoe as a writer of fiction High Anxiety Kathleen Perry Long, 2002-03-01 This collection explores the evolution of notions about masculinity during the intense crisis of Renaissance and early modern France Authors of the period reflect the anxieties about masculinity that became more pronounced against the backdrop of major events and innovations of the period the religious conflict in France the repeated questioning of religious and royal authority the revival of Greek skepticism the discovery of the New World and the rise of clinical medicine These events in turn fueled growing doubt concerning the fixed and hierarchical nature of gender distinction a distinction upon which many felt French culture was dependent for its very survival Monk Lewis David Lorne Macdonald, 2000-01-01 A modern critical biography of Matthew Gregory Lewis 1775-1818 until now neglected as a cultural figure This is the first study to consider all of Lewis's works and their connections to his personal and public life More Things Than are Dreamt of Alain Silver, 1994

Narratives of Women and Murder in England, 1680-1760 Kirsten T. Saxton, 2017-05-15 Arguing that the female criminal subject was central to the rise of the British novel Kirsten T Saxton provides fresh and convincing insights into the deeply complex ways in which categories of criminality gender and fiction intersected in the long eighteenth century She offers the figure of the murderess as evidence of the constitutive relationship between eighteenth century legal and fictional texts comparing non-fiction representations of homicidal women in biographies of Newgate Ordinaries and in trial reports with those in the early novels of Aphra Behn Delariviere Manley Daniel Defoe and Henry Fielding As Saxton demonstrates that legal narratives informed the budding genre of the novel and fictional texts shaped the development of legal narratives her study of deadly plots becomes a feminist intervention in scholarship on the literature of crime that simultaneously insists on the centrality of crime literature in feminist histories of the novel Her epilogue shows that more than two centuries later we still contend with displays of female violence that defy and define our notions of textual and sexual license and continue to shape legal and literary mandates even as the lines between the real and the fictive remain blurred Saving One's Own

Mordecai Paldiel,2017-02 In this remarkable historically significant book Mordecai Paldiel recounts in vivid detail the many ways in which at great risk to their own lives Jews rescued other Jews during the Holocaust In so doing he puts to rest the widely held belief that all Jews in Nazi dominated Europe wore blinders and allowed themselves to be led like lambs to the slaughter Paldiel documents how brave Jewish men and women saved thousands of their fellow Jews through efforts unprecedented in Jewish history Encyclopedic in scope and organized by country Saving One's Own tells the stories of hundreds of Jewish activists who created rescue networks escape routes safe havens and partisan fighting groups to save beleaguered Jewish men women and children from the Nazis The rescuers dramatic stories are often shared in their own words and Paldiel provides extensive historical background and documentation The untold story of these Jewish heroes who displayed inventiveness and courage in outwitting the enemy and in saving literally thousands of Jews is finally revealed

The Habit of Lying John Vignaux Smyth,2002-03-18 An investigation of deceit and concealment that proposes a new theory of fiction both as a new genre of literature and as a strategy in the social world Schools of Sympathy Nancy Roberts,UBC Academic Women's Association,1997 Schools of Sympathy is a feminist exploration of gender and identification in Samuel Richardson's Clarissa Nathaniel Hawthorne's The Scarlet Letter Henry James's Portrait of a Lady and Thomas Hardy's Tess of the D'Urbervilles In each of these novels the heroine is portrayed as a victim Nancy Roberts examines how the reader's sympathy for the heroines is constructed the motivations and desires involved in an identification with victimization and the gender and power roles that such an identification calls into play Written Maternal Authority and Eighteenth-Century Education in Britain Rebecca Davies,2016-02-11 Examining writing for and about education in the period from 1740 to 1820 Rebecca Davies's book plots the formation of a written paradigm of maternal education that associates maternity with educational authority Examining novels fiction for children conduct literature and educative and political tracts by Samuel Richardson Sarah Fielding Mary Wollstonecraft Maria Edgeworth Ann Martin Taylor and Jane Austen Davies identifies an authoritative feminine educational voice She shows how the function of the discourse of maternal authority is modified in different genres arguing that both the female writers and the fictional mothers adopt maternal authority and produce their own formulations of ideal educational methods The location of idealised maternity for women Davies proposes is in the act of writing educational discourse rather than in the physical performance of the maternal role Her book contextualizes the development of a written discourse of maternal education that emerged in the enlightenment period and explores the empowerment achieved by women writing within this discourse albeit through a notion of authority that is circumscribed by the rules of a discipline

The Great Depression on Film David Lührssen, 2022-08-23 This book presents the Great Depression through the lens of 13 films beginning with movies made during the Depression and ending with films from the 21st century and encourages readers to examine the various depictions of this period throughout history The Great Depression on Film is a unique guide to how the Great Depression was represented and is remembered making it an excellent resource for students or anyone interested in film history or U S history Each film is set in a different sector of American life focusing on such topics as white supremacy political protest segregation environmental degradation crime religion the class system and popular culture in the U S during the 1930s This book is indispensable for clearing away misconceptions fostered by the movies while acknowledging the power of film in shaping public memory The book separates fact from fiction detailing where the movies are accurate and where they depart from reality and places them in the larger context of historical and social events Eyewitness or journalistic accounts are referenced and quoted in the text to help readers differentiate between ideas attitudes and events presented in the films as well as the historical facts which inspired those films

Moll Flanders Daniel Defoe, 2005-02-23 Born to a petty thief in London's notorious Newgate prison and determined to make her way in a rapacious and materialistic society Moll Flanders recounts the fortunes and misfortunes of her turbulent life in this 1722 novel Though Moll Flanders was shaped by the conventions of criminal biography Defoe also drew on other literary traditions and his own rich background to create a remarkably original and still controversial work In addition to a critical introduction and substantial footnotes this Broadview edition provides a wide range of writings by Defoe as well as contemporary responses to Moll Flanders Other appendices include a selection of eighteenth century writings on crime prisons and the Virginia colony

The Split Subject of Narration in Elizabeth Gaskell's First Person Fiction Anna Koustinoudi, 2011-12-16 The Split Subject of Narration in Elizabeth Gaskell's First Person Fiction analyzes a number of Elizabeth Gaskell's first person works through a post modern perspective employing such theoretical frameworks as psychoanalytic theory narratology and gender theory It attempts to explore the problematics of Victorian subjectivity bringing into focus the ways in which both her realistic and Gothic texts undercut and interrogate post Romantic assumptions about an autonomous and coherent speaking and or narrating subject The essential argument of the book is that the mid nineteenth century narrating I in its communal voyeuristic and Gothic manifestations emerges as painfully divided lacking unstable ailing and hence unreliable pre figuring at the same time later forms of self conscious narration in fiction Furthermore it is also exposed as performative one that can be seen as a simulacrum without an original and consequently at odds with post Romantic empiricist assumptions about the factuality centrality and rationality of the human subject while at the same time clinging to illusions of autonomy Plagued by its own self awareness the narrating I is alienated both from itself as well as from those it attempts to represent including its own narrated counterpart To this effect it argues that throughout a trajectory of configurations psychic investments and imaginary identifications embedded in and conditioned by the workings of desire and ideology both of which underpin discursive and representational practices narrative subjectivity in Gaskell s first person fiction manifests itself as the product of a misrecognized encounter between the subject who narrates and that which is being narrated Both are essentially unable to see their split character and the alienating chasm opened up between them for the former on the level of narration and for the latter on a thematic level

The Female Thermometer Terry Castle,1995 A collection of the author s essays on the history and development of female identity from the 18th to the early 20th centuries Throughout the book are woven themes which are constant in Castle s work fantasy hallucination travesty transgression and sexual ambiguity Errors and Reconciliations Anaclara

Castro-Santana,2018-03-21 Henry Fielding is most well known for his monumental novel Tom Jones Though not necessarily common knowledge Henry Fielding started his literary career as a dramatist and eventually transitioned to writing novels Though vastly different in their approach and subject there is a common thread in Fielding s work that spanned his career marriage Errors and Reconciliations Marriage in the Plays and Novels of Henry Fielding explores this theme focusing on Fielding s fascination with matrimony and the ever present paradoxical nature of marriage in the first half of the eighteenth century as a state easily attained but nearly impossible to escape Styles of Meaning and Meanings of Style in

Richardson's Clarissa Gordon D. Fulton,1999 Gordon Fulton provides a fascinating new study of styles in Samuel Richardson s masterpiece Clarissa connecting the style the characters deploy in their speech and letters with their positions in society Fulton argues that the novel is a critical examination of the relationship between language and power and an expression of Richardson s own understanding of social interaction as a struggle for personal pre eminence and sexual dominance Roxana Daniel Defoe,2009-04-14 Almost three hundred years after its first publication Roxana continues to challenge readers who though compelled by Roxana s story are often baffled by her complex relationships to her children her fortune and her vices As one of Daniel Defoe s four major fictions Roxana has long been understood as central to the history of the novel and provides readers with Defoe's sharpest and most specific commentary on the complexities of life in seventeenth century London. This edition offers a range of contemporary documents that will help readers understand the struggles of Roxana's life as series of metaphoric engagements with pressing issues of her time.
