Information Security Technologies for Controlling Pandemics Hamid Jahankhani,Stefan Kendzierskyj,Babak Akhgar,2021-07-29 The year 2020 and the COVID 19 pandemic marked a huge change globally both in working and home environments They posed major challenges for organisations around the world which were forced to use technological tools to help employees work remotely while in self isolation and or total lockdown Though the positive outcomes of using these technologies are clear doing so also comes with its fair share of potential issues including risks regarding data and its use such as privacy transparency exploitation and ownership COVID 19 also led to a certain amount of paranoia and the widespread uncertainty and fear of change represented a golden opportunity for threat actors This book discusses and explains innovative technologies such as blockchain and methods to defend from Advanced Persistent Threats APTs some of the key legal and ethical data challenges to data privacy and security presented by the COVID 19 pandemic and their potential consequences It then turns to improved decision making in cyber security also known as cyber situational awareness by analysing security events and comparing data mining techniques specifically classification techniques when applied to cyber security data In addition the book illustrates the importance of cyber security particularly information integrity and surveillance in dealing with an on going infectious crisis Aspects addressed range from the spread of misinformation which can lead people to actively work against measures designed to ensure public safety and minimise the spread of the virus to concerns over the approaches taken to monitor track trace and isolate infectious cases through the use of technology In closing the book considers the legal social and ethical cyber and information security implications of the pandemic and responses to it from the perspectives of confidentiality integrity and availability American Book
