Public Policy Jonathan Boston, Andrew Bradstock, David L. Eng, 2010-10-01 Ethics is a vigorously contested field There are many competing moral frameworks and different views about how normative considerations should inform the art and craft of governmental policy making What is not in dispute however is that ethics matters The ethical framework adopted by policy analysts and decision makers not only shapes how policy problems are defined framed and analysed but also influences which ethical principles and values are taken into account and their weighting As a result ethics can have a profound impact both on the character of the policy process and the choices made by decision makers PUBLIC POLICY WHY ETHICS MATTERS brings together original contributions from leading scholars and practitioners with expertise in various academic disciplines including economics philosophy physics political science public policy and theology The volume addresses three main issues first the ethical considerations that should inform the conduct of public officials and the task of policy analysis second the ethics of climate change and third ethics and economic policy While the contributors have varying views on these important issues they share a common conviction that the ethical dimensions of public policy need to be better understood and given proper attention in the policy making process environmental experts executives staff working in municipalities and public government organisations throughout the EU and Turkey It is nothing short of an ethical training manual that will guide environmental experts decision makers in making sound judgements and decisions and will act as a bridge between environmental knowledge and environmental behaviour The book will be essential reading for decision makers and experts working in local authorities and governmental organisations with responsibility for environmental protection for both graduate and postgraduate students in environment related disciplines and for vocational education teachers with a focus on the environment
