Living With Breast Cancer And Mastectomy A Self Help Guide:

Living with Breast Cancer and Mastectomy Nicholas Tarrier, 1987 Breast Cancer Nursing Sylvia Denton, 2013-11-11 In recent years an expanding body of research evidence has begun to highlight the value of nursing care. This evidence confirms what nurses have known for many years that nursing care helps more patients to get better quicker. Patients value nurses as those members of the health care team that make them feel human and ensure that their treatment is not more of an ordeal than their illness. The research also shows that nursing care is value for money. For the 29000 women who are diagnosed with breast cancer annually the value of nursing is self evident. Every woman should have access to the care expertise and support of a breast care nurse. Nursing care is changing. Patients are rightly more informed about different treatment options and more assertive in seeking high quality services. They are much more likely to be aware that breast care nurses have a special service to offer and they are very likely to want help and support at home as well as or instead of in hospital. The outreach work of breast care nurses provides a model for many other patient services where people need continuous support from before diagnosis through diagnosis surgery or treatment to after care rehabilitation and monitoring.

A Woman's Decision Karen J. Berger, John Bostwick, 1994 A Woman's Decision is an extraordinarily sensitive and authoritative book that will help women assess their options familiarize themselves with the techniques used in treating breast cancer and prepare themselves for what to expect medically and emotionally from reconstructive surgery. It combines complete and fully updated medical information with a detailed look at the emotional issues a woman must face when confronting breast cancer. Especially reassuring are the interviews conducted with women and their loved ones discussion feelings and reactions at every stage including the decision to seek reconstructive surgery. In easy to understand language this new edition features the newest therapies available for breast cancer treatment including Genetic and hormonal therapy Endoscopic minimally invasive surgery Image guided biopsy and sentinel node biopsy Lumpectomy versus mastectomy Skin sparing mastectomy and immediate reconstruction Partial reconstruction after lumpectomy.

The Breast Cancer Digest National Cancer Institute (U.S.). Office of Cancer Communications, 1979 Relate Guide To Living In Later Life Marj Thoburn, Suzy Powling, 2012-05-31 Is sex wasted on the young? Marj Thoburn thinks it might be. This complete guide to sex loving and relationships for the 50s 80s age group is a positive constructive and celebratory guide which suggests that life and loving sex BEGIN at 50. Inside every older person is a young person trying to come to terms with ageing. This book looks at the physical and psychological changes that may present challenges to older couples and provides practical exercises and strategies for coping and learning together. For example How do you maintain your self esteem when your body stops responding the way it used to? What can you do if your partner seems more attracted to people who are younger than you? How do you begin a new relationship if you find yourself divorced separated widowed or single in later life? How do you begin to get to know each other again once the children have left home? Written with understanding and humour and drawing on a Cancer Risk Reduction and Early Detection Edward R. Sauter, Mary B. Daly, 2010-01-22 While many comprehensive texts have been written on the treatment of breast cancer the most common cancer among women there are relatively few which cover in depth the prevention and early detection of the disease The goal of this work is to present what experts in the field feel is the current knowledge and future direction of breast cancer prevention and early detection We begin Part I of the book with a review of risk factors both genetic and environmental We next review progress in the use of chemoprevention Notably chemoprevention risk reduction studies have led to FDA approval of two medications which measurably reduce disease incidence among women at increased risk although with some risk of treatment related side effects Newer agents in the pipeline which may also reduce risk among normal risk women are also discussed Surgical risk reducing strategies complete the section on prevention including both the benefits and downsides to this more aggressive approach Even with aggressive prevention strategies some women will develop breast cancer For these women early detection is critical to minimize disease spread and maximize long term survival Part II of this book reviews current and upcoming approaches to early detection Imaging strategies including mammography breast ultrasound MRI and PET imaging are reviewed The potential for molecular tumor targeting to detect disease prior to the formation of a mass visible by anatomic imaging is presented NIH Publications List National Institutes of Health (U.S.).
