Living Proof A Medical Mutiny:

Living Proof Michael Gearin-Tosh, 2002 Written six years after the author was given only months to live Living Proof is a beautifully told compelling examination of how one cancer patient battles the conventional health system and chooses the crazy way through alternative medicine

Living Proof Michael Gearin-Tosh, 2010-05-11 I was told I had cancer and that I must expect to die soon Almost eight years later I still do my job and enjoy life I have not had conventional treatment Did my cancer simply disappear Did I do nothing Far from it A number of things happened some by accident most by design Michael Gearin Tosh is diagnosed with cancer at the age of fifty four The doctors urge immediate treatment He refuses Intuitively not on the basis of reason But as the days pass Gearin Tosh falls back on his habits as a scholar of literature He begins to probe the experts words and the meaning behind medical phrases He tries to relate what each doctor says and does not say to the doctor's own temperament And the more questions he asks the more adamant his refusal to be hurried to treatment The delay is a high risk gamble He listens to much advice especially that of three women friends each with a different point of view one a doctor They challenge him They challenge medical advice They challenge one another On no occasion do they speak with one voice He also turns to unexpected guides within his own memory and in the authors he loves from Shakespeare and Chekhov to Jean Renoir Arthur Miller and Vclav Havel In the end he chooses not to have chemotherapy but to combat his cancer largely through nutrition vitamin supplements an ancient Chinese breathing exercise with imaginative visualizations and acupuncture No how to book or prescriptive health guide Living Proof is a celebration of human existence and friendship a story of how a man steers through conflicting advice between depression and seemingly inescapable rationalism between the medicine he rejects and the doctors he honors Clear eyed and unflinching Gearin Tosh even includes his own medical history The Case of the 005% Survivor explores general questions about cancer and examines the role of individual temperament on medical attitudes the choice of treatments and of course survival
