Communicative Rationality and Deliberative Democracy of Jürgen Habermas Ukoro Theophilus Igwe, 2004 This book critically investigates Jurgen Habermas s attempt to develop communicative conception of human rationality It explores Habermas s fundamental commitment to the practical import and ramifications of communicative rationality in the field of

African political philosophy Within this context Habermas's ambitious project to reconcile law justice and democracy is wide ranging This work explores how it is among other things that deliberative institutions can become more democratic through as Dewey put it improvements in the methods and conditions of debate discussion and persuasion Cultures of Migration Hans Peter Hahn, Georg Klute, 2007 International Migrations have become a central topic in the Humanities in the last years Understanding migration requires a closer look at the migratory phenomena and the continuities within the societies involved in the migration process This volume intends to overcome simplistic views on migration and the shortcomings of a push and pull factor analysis Instead the perspective of the migrants themselves orients the approach of cultures of migration In this view migration becomes a complex issue and motives and acceptance of migration appear to be a matter of negotiations in the migrants societies of origin and in the host societies as well The present volume brings together a number of essays exploring the cultures of migration in various contexts It is organised in three sections dealing with Migrations as Encounters Migration as Challenge and Transcontinental Migrants Ten contributions each based on original fieldwork in various parts of Africa examine the validity of the concept of cultures of migration as explained in the introduction

Ethiopia and the Missions Verena Böll, 2005 Since the sixteenth century Ethiopian Orthodox Christianity and the indigenous religions of Ethiopia have been confronted with and influenced by numerous Catholic and Protestant missions This book offers historical anthropological and personal analyses of these encounters The discussion ranges from the Jesuit debate on circumcision to Oromo Bible translation from Pentecostalism in Addis Ababa to conversion processes among the Nuer Juxtaposing past and present urban and rural the book breaks new ground in both religious and African studies Verena Böll and Evgenia Sokolinskaia are researchers at the department of African and Ethiopian Studies at the Asia Africa Institute University of Hamburg Steven Kaplan is professor of African Studies and Comparative Religion at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem Italian Colonialism R. Ben-Ghiat, M. Fuller, 2016-04-30 Italian Colonialism is a pioneering anthology of texts by scholars from seven countries who represent the best of classical and newer approaches to the study of Italian colonization Essays on the political economic and military aspects of Italian colonialism are featured alongside works that reflect the insights of anthropology race and gender studies film architecture and oral and cultural history The volume includes many essays by Italian and African scholars that have never been translated into English It is a unique resource that offers students and scholars a comprehensive view of the field Eritrea Mussie Tesfagiorgis G. Ph.D., 2010-10-29 This authoritative overview serves as a comprehensive resource on Eritrea's history politics economy society and culture Located in eastern Africa bordering the Red Sea between Djibouti and Sudan Eritrea is a poor but developing East African country the capital of which is Asmara Formerly a province of Ethiopia Eritrea became independent on May 24 1993 following a 30 year struggle that culminated in a referendum vote for independence Written materials on most aspects of Eritrean history and culture are quite scarce Eritrea fills that gap with an exhaustive thematically organized overview It examines Eritrean geography the history of Eritrea since the ancient period and the government politics economy society cultures and people of the modern nation Though based largely on the documentary record the book also recognizes the value of oral history among the people of Eritrea and incorporates that history as well Leading sources are quoted at length to provide analysis and perspective

The Shade of New Leaves Manfred O. Hinz, Helgard K. Patemann, 2006 Omudile muua ohapo epangelo liua ohamba Freely translated this proverb of the Ovakwanyama of northern Namibia means New leaves produce a good shade the laws of a king are always as good as new The proverb paints a picture of wisdom to express the dialectical relationship between continuity and change in customary law Since royal orders are supposed not to change from one king to the next they are always as good as new reads the explanatory note to the proverb by the anthropologist Loeb who recorded the proverb Traditional authority is like a tree standing on its roots rooted in the tradition created by the ancestors of the ruler and the community These roots remain firm stable and unchanged not so the concrete manifestation of authority that changes and responds to changes of the environment This makes that new leaves are produced by the rooted tree The new leaves are new and old They are old because in structure colour and their capacity to protect by giving shade they are more or less like the leaves of last year and the year before they are new because they react to the challenge of seasons The Shade of New Leaves emerged out of an international conference on the living reality of customary law and traditional governance held in Windhoek in 2004 The conference was organised by the Centre for Applied Social Sciences and the Human Rights and Documentation Centre both affiliated to the Faculty of Law of the University of Namibia in co operation with the Law Departments of the Universities of Bremen Germany and the School of Oriental and African Studies University of London The contributions to this book are grouped into six parts Part 1 Legal pluralism traditional governance and the challenge of the democratic constitutional order Part 2 Traditional administration of justice revisited Part 3 Ascertaining customary law prerequisite of good governance in traditional authority Part 4 Legal philosophy African philosophy and African jurisprudence Part 5 Research training and teaching of customary law Part 6 Afterthoughts Global Responsibility - Local Agenda Manfred O. Hinz, Frank Thomas Gatter, 2006 In various African countries governments are forced to accept and or establish decentral structures in order to facilitate ways in which the poor sections of their population might gain influence on and access to development resources Yet there is confusion about the role and functioning of such decentral structures as well as about sustainable political approaches to the top down transfer of government power in the context of local agendas The book highlights major aspects of the legitimacy of local power as presented by modern self government structures as well as traditional communal authorities Although the main focus is placed on Southern Africa Namibia South Africa Botswana examples from other regions Ghana Democratic Republic of the Congo are also put into perspective Contributors B Benzing Th Gatter G Hilliges M O Hinz H Kammerer Grothaus B Katjaerua E Okupa N Olivier B Oomen H Patemann D Quintern D Schefold G Stuby G T temeyer Igen M Wulfmeyer Demand-oriented Community Water Supply in Ghana

Veronika Fuest, 2006 The Center for Development Research ZEF is an international and interdisciplinary academic research institute of the Rheinische Friedrich Wilhelms University of Bonn Germany ZEF's research aims at finding solutions to global development issues The research programs build on the methods and analytical styles of the disciplinary research areas and link and integrate knowledge and capacities from these different areas ZEF's three research departments are Political and Cultural Change ZEF a Economic and Technological Change ZEF b Ecology and Natural Resources Management ZEF c

The Global Worlds of the Swahili Roman Loimeier, 2006 This multidisciplinary volume challenges established ideas about the world of the Swahili proposing a perspective that highlights the transitory shifting and plural character of East African coastal societies worldviews and identities The contributors give inside accounts of the broad spectrum of local perceptions of the world in the wider Swahili context They demonstrate how these perceptions have been shaped by the interconnections of the East African coast with other geographical spaces and cultural spheres especially Arabia the Indian Ocean and Europe Offering new insights into the interaction of local culture Islam colonialism the postcolony and globalization the volume shows that the Swahili belong to many worlds and continue to cultivate the interfaces between these worlds The book is the outcome of several years of collaborative research academic meetings and individual paper presentations coordinated by the editors under the umbrella of the Collaborativ Philosophy, Democracy and Responsible Governance in Africa Josephat Obi Oguejiofor, 2003 The essays presented in this collection set out to explore various aspects of the issue of governance and to reflect on how governance in Africa can be made to be more responsible All the contributors exhibit clear awareness of the stupendous problems confronting governance in Africa and make different suggestions aimed at obviating the difficulties The volume is a timely and welcome contribution to the never ending discussions about Africa its problems its leaders and managers and the possible ways of drawing it out of the quagmire into which decades of bad governance in addition to many other factors have thrown most countries of the continent
