Atlantica ,1929 Atlantica Filippo Càssola,1926 Bulletin ,1897 Ennio Morricone Alessandro De Rosa,2019-02-01 Master composer Ennio Morricone's scores go hand in hand with the idea of the Western film. Often considered the world's greatest living film composer and most widely known for his innovative scores to The Good the Bad and the Ugly and the other Sergio Leone's movies The Mission, Cinema Paradiso and more recently The Hateful Eight. Morricone has spent the past 60 years reinventing the sound of cinema. In Ennio Morricone In His Own Words, composers Ennio Morricone and Alessandro De Rosa present a years-long discussion of life, music, and the marvelous and unpredictable ways that the two come into contact with and influence each other. The result is what Morricone himself defines beyond a shadow of a doubt: the best book ever written about me, the most authentic, the most detailed and well-curated. The truest Opening for the first time the door of his creative laboratory, Morricone offers an exhaustive and rich account of his life from his early years of study to genre-defining collaborations with the most important Italian and international directors including Leone, Bertolucci, Pasolini, Argento, Tornatore, Malick, Carpenter, Stone, Nichols, De Palma, Beatty, Levinson, Almodóvar, Polanski, and Tarantino. In the process, Morricone unveils the curious relationship that links music and images in cinema, as well as the creative urgency at the foundation of his experimentations with absolute music. Throughout these conversations with De Rosa, Morricone dispenses invaluable insights not only on composing but also on the broader process of adaptation and what it means to be human. As he reminds us, coming into contact with memories doesn't only entail the melancholy of something that slips away with time but also looking forward, understanding who I am now. And who knows what else may still happen.

Horace and Me Harry Eyres,2013-06-04 A wise and witty revival of the Roman poet who taught us how to carpe diem. What is the value of the durable at a time when the new is paramount? How do we fill the void created by the excesses of a superficial society? What resources can we muster when confronted by the inevitability of death? For the poet and critic Harry Eyres, we can begin to answer these questions by turning to an unexpected source: the Roman poet Horace, discredited at the beginning of the twentieth century as the smug representative of imperialism, now best remembered if remembered for the pithy directive Carpe diem. In Horace and Me: Life Lessons from an Ancient Poet, Eyres reexamines Horace's life, legacy, and verse. With a light lyrical touch deployed in new, fresh versions of some of Horace's most famous odes and a keen critical eye, Eyres reveals a lively, relevant Horace whose society, Rome at the dawn of the empire, is much more similar to our own than we might want to believe. Eyres's study is not only intriguing; he retranslates Horace's most famous phrase as taste the day but enlivening. Through Horace, Eyres meditates on how to live well, mounts a convincing case for the importance of poetry, and relates a moving tale of personal discovery. By the end of this remarkable journey, the reader too will believe in the power of Horace's lovely words that go on shining with their modest glow like a warm and inextinguishable candle in the darkness.
