Graphic narratives are one of the world s great art forms but graphic novels and comics from Europe and the United States dominate scholarly conversations about them Building upon the little extant scholarship on graphic narratives from the Global South this collection moves beyond a narrow Western approach to this quickly expanding field By focusing on texts from the Middle East Africa Latin America and Asia these essays expand the study of graphic narratives to a global scale Graphic Novels and Comics as World Literature is also interested in how these texts engage with fit in with or complicate notions of World Literature The larger theoretical framework of World Literature is joined with the postcolonial decolonial Global South and similar approaches that argue explicitly or implicitly for the viability of non Western graphic narratives on their own terms Ultimately this collection explores the ways that the unique formal qualities of graphic narratives from the Global South intersect with issues facing the study of international literatures such as translation commodification circulation Orientalism and many others

Graphic Design and Religion Daniel Kantor, 2008-09 Graphic Design and Religion by Daniel Kantor challenges the way we look at the role of graphic design within a religious context The beautiful and abundant illustrations coupled with the passionately written text transcend the mere visual aspect of symbols and graphic design elevating them to a spiritual way of seeing It is an ideal resource for design students teachers photographers illustrators copywriters clergy worship and environment planners and sacred art enthusiasts This vital work can help designers discover their role in the creation of sacred art One way in which Kantor accomplishes this is to draw a comparison between the illuminators of the Middle Ages with modern day graphic designers who serve religion today Kantor stresses the need for a heightened awareness of graphic design within religion and demonstrates how good design must be seen as an essential component of authentic religious hospitality
