New Essays on Life Writing and the Body Christopher Stuart, Stephanie Todd, 2009-03-26 In light of materialist revisions of the Cartesian dual self and the increased recognition of memoir and autobiography as a crucial cultural index the physical body has emerged in the last twenty five years as an increasingly inescapable object of inquiry speculation and theory that intersects all of the various subgenres of life writing New Essays on Life Writing and the Body thus offers a timely original focused and yet appropriately interdisciplinary study of life writing This collection brings together new work by established authorities in autobiography such as Timothy Dow Adams G Thomas Couser Cynthia Huff and others along with essays by emerging scholars in the field

Subjects range from new interpretations of well known autobiographies by Edith Wharton Gertrude Stein and Lucy Grealy as well as scholarly surveys of more recently defined subgenres such as the numerous New Woman autobiographies of the late 19th century adoption narratives and sibling memoirs of the mentally impaired Due to their wide interdisciplinary focus these essay will prove valuable not only to more traditional literary scholars interested in the classic literary autobiography but also to those in Women s Studies Ethnic and African American Studies as well as in emerging fields such as Disability Studies and Cognitive Studies

Why Animals Sleep So Close to the Road (and Other Lies I Tell My Children) Susan Konig,2006-08-08 Susan Konig s first book offers a uniquely frank look at the modern family by an exceptional humorist on the order of Erma Bombeck and Jean Kerr Library Journal The Konigs can barely turn around in a city apartment that seems to be shrinking With Baby 3 on the way they take drastic measures They buy a house and move to The Burbs Countless sticky adventures ensue In her hilariously unflinching account of motherhood and domestic pursuits Konig shares a supermom s little secrets from the importance of Cheerios to the truth about Bambi s mother she was running an errand

Inside the Dementia Epidemic Martha Stettinius,2012-07-23 One in 8 people over age 65 has Alzheimer s disease and nearly fifty percent of those over age 85 With the passion of a committed daughter and the fervor of a tireless reporter Martha Stettinius weaves a compelling story of her long journey caregiving for her demented mother with a broad exploration of the causes of dementia means of treating it and hopes for preventing it Her greatest gift to readers is that of optimism that caregiving can deepen love that dementia can be fought and that families can be strengthened Her book is appealing enlightening and inspiring Includes appendices on dementia research source notes resources for caregivers and an index

The Work of Life Writing G. Thomas Couser,2021-04-13 Life writing in its various forms does work that other forms of expression do not it bears on the world in a way distinct from imaginative genres like fiction drama and poetry it acts in and on history in significant ways Memoirs of illness and disability often seek to depathologize the conditions that they recount Memoirs of parents by their children extend or alter relations forged initially face to face in the home At a time when memoir and other forms of life writing are being produced and consumed in unprecedented numbers this book reminds readers that memoir is not mainly a literary genre or mere entertainment Similarly letters are not merely epiphenomena of our real lives Correspondence does not just serve to communicate it enacts and sustains human relationships Memoir matters and there s life in letters All life writing arises of our daily lives and has distinctive impacts on them and the culture in which we live

Alive and Kicking at All Ages Ulla Kriebner,Roberta Maierhofer,Barbara Ratzenböck,2014-06-15 The linking of age and ill health is part of a cultural narrative of decline as age is often defined as the absence of good health Research has shown that we are aged by culture but we are also culturally made ill when we age The cultural ambiguity of aging can thus deconstruct negative images of old age as physical decrepitude This volume investigates the topic of health within the matrix of time and experience by addressing issues such as how our understanding of health influences our notion of agency within a subversive

deconstruction of normative age concepts and what role the notion of health plays in such an interaction At Wit's End

George Kraus, 2006 A simple straightforward and easy to read summary about Alzheimer's as a disease and condition written without technical jargon or impractical detail Many books delve into other areas of Alzheimer's emphasising the financial legal and treatment needs of the afflicted At Wit's End is unique because it not only explains the psychiatric and psychological aspects of Alzheimer's but it also helps family members and caregivers discover a wealth of effective interventions Kraus focuses on the whole person and his/her social psychological physical and spiritual life In this book find out how Alzheimer's can be distinguished from normal ageing and other diseases that mimic its symptoms including the wide array of associated behaviours Also find out what medical treatments are available both traditional and alternative The Truth about Death and Dying Karen Meyers, Robert N. creative writers can offer powerful and imaginative insights into the experience of dementia across cultures and over time This cross disciplinary volume explores how engaging with dementia through its myriad literary representations can help to deepen and humanise attitudes to people living with the condition Offering and interrogating a wide array of perspectives about how dementia might be imagined this book allows us to see how different ways of being can inflect one another By drawing on the lived experience of the individual unique person and their loved ones literature can contribute to a deeper and more compassionate and more liberating attitude to a phenomenon that is both natural and unnatural Novels plays and stories reveal a rich panoply of responses ranging from the tragic to the comic allowing us to understand that people with dementia often offer us models of humour courage and resilience and carers can also embody a range of responses from rigidity to compassion Dementia and Literature problematises the subject of dementia encouraging us all to question our own hegemonies critically and creatively Drawing on literary studies cultural studies education clinical psychology psychiatry nursing and gerontology this book is a fascinating contribution to the emerging area of the medical and health humanities The book will be of interest to those living with dementia and their caregivers as well as to the academic community and policy makers

Increasing the Quality of life for the Older Adult Susan Brhel,2005 Supportive care for the person with dementia Julian Hughes,Mari Lloyd-Williams,Greg Sachs,2009-12-03 Supportive care can be thought of as an extension of palliative care so that the person with dementia receives good quality holistic care that makes no distinctions between the dichotomies of care and cure from the time of diagnosis until and beyond death It recognizes the need for an interdisciplinary approach and for continuity of care Supportive care in dementia must therefore be broad in its scope and application Supportive Care for the person with dementia provides just such a broad and full perspective drawing upon the experience and expertise of a wide range of internationally based professionals to outline a model of supportive care that will provide good quality and holistic care for people with dementia Making use of real life reports from both patients and carers to help readers fully understand the reality of dementia the book examines the key principles that guide the practice of supportive care It looks at how supportive care can be used and specific benefits a care model of this type can bring to the complex problems that are frequently encountered when treating this condition It is an ideal resource for all clinicians who are part of an interdisciplinary team caring for sufferers with this debilitating illness

Canadian Graphic Candida Rifkind,Linda Warley,2016-05-20 Canadian Graphic Picturing Life Narratives presents critical essays on contemporary Canadian cartoonists working in graphic life narrative from confession to memoir to biography The contributors draw on literary theory visual studies and cultural history to show how Canadian cartoonists have become so prominent in the international market for comic books based on real life experiences The essays explore the visual styles and storytelling techniques of Canadian cartoonists as well as their shared concern with the spectacular vulnerability of the self Canadian Graphic also considers the role of graphic life narratives in reimagining the national past including Indigenous settler relations both world wars and Quebec's Quiet Revolution Contributors use a range of approaches to analyze the political aesthetic and narrative tensions in these works between self and other memory and history individual and collective An original contribution to the study of auto biography alternative comics and Canadian print culture Canadian Graphic proposes new ways of reading the intersection of comics and auto biography both within and across national boundaries

Living in Death's Shadow Emily K. Abel, 2017-02-28 Challenging assumptions about caregiving for those dying of chronic illness What is it like to live with and love someone whose death while delayed is nevertheless foretold In Living in Death's Shadow Emily K Abel an expert on the history of death and dying examines memoirs written between 1965 and 2014 by family members of people who died from chronic disease In earlier eras death generally occurred quickly from acute illnesses but as chronic disease became the major cause of mortality many people continued to live with terminal diagnoses for months and even years Illuminating the excruciatingly painful experience of coping with a family member's extended fatal illness Abel analyzes the political personal cultural and medical dimensions of these struggles The book focuses on three significant developments that transformed the experiences of those dying and their intimates the passage of Medicare and Medicaid the growing use of high tech treatments at the end of life and the rise of a movement to humanize the care of dying people It questions the exalted value placed on acceptance of mortality as well as the notion that it is always better to die at home than in an institution Ultimately Living in Death's Shadow emphasizes the need to shift attention from the drama of death to the entire course of a serious chronic disease The chapters follow a common narrative of life threatening disease learning the diagnosis deciding whether to enroll in a clinical trial acknowledging or struggling against the limits of medicine receiving care at home and in a hospital or nursing home and obtaining palliative and hospice care Living in Death's Shadow is essential reading for everyone seeking to understand what it means to live with someone suffering from a chronic fatal condition including cancer AIDS Alzheimer's and heart disease Library Dementia Services Timothy J.

Dickey, 2020-02-28 There are 50 million people globally living with Alzheimer's disease and related dementias and tens of millions of their caregivers Library and information professionals must learn to assist those with dementia This book explores best practice guidelines and concrete ideas for serving those with dementia and their caregivers Beyond Forgetting Holly J. Hughes, 2009 This is a literary collection that illuminates the darkness of Alzheimer's disease It is a unique collection of poetry and short prose about the disease written by 100 contemporary writers doctors nurses social workers hospice workers daughters sons wives and husbands whose lives have been touched by the disease Journal of the Assembly of the State of New York New York (State).
