Great Britain: Parliament: Joint Committee on the Draft House of Lords Reform Bill

House Of Commons Reform:

The Unreformed House of Commons Edward Porritt, 1909 Parliamentary reform at Westminster Alexandra Kelso, 2013-07-19 The Labour government elected in 1997 pledged to reform the Westminster parliament by modernising the House of Commons and removing the hereditary peers from the House of Lords Events have consequently demonstrated the deep controversy that accompanies such attempts at institutional reconfiguration and have highlighted the shifting fault lines in executive legislative relations in the UK as well as the deep complexities surrounding British constitutional politics The story of parliamentary reform is about the nature of the British political system about how the government seeks to expand its control over parliament and about how parliament discharges its duty to scrutinise the executive and hold it to account This book available in paperback for the first time charts the course of Westminster reform since 1997 but does so by placing it in the context of parliamentary reform pursued in the past and thus adopts a historical perspective which lends it considerable analytical value Significantly the book examines parliamentary reform through the lens of institutional theory in order not only to describe reform but also to interpret and explain it It also draws on extensive interviews conducted with MPs and peers involved in the reform of parliament since 1997 thus offering a unique insight into how these political actors perceived the reform process in which they played a part Parliamentary reform at Westminster now available in paperback provides a comprehensive and authoritative analysis of the trajectory and outcome of the reform of parliament along with an incisive interpretation of the implications for our understanding of British politics House of Commons Debates, Official Report Canada. Parliament. House of Commons, 1883 Reform in the House of Commons Michael Jogerst, 2014-07-15 One of the most significant changes in the British House of Commons has been the development in 1979 of a system of select committees charged with monitoring government ministries Unlike previous experiments in parliamentary reform these committees are staffed exclusively with backbench MPs who regularly review executive policies and offer recommendations Michael Jogerst reappraises the relationship between the executive and legislative branches in light of these new circumstances which are likely to affect the entire governmental structure of the United Kingdom Official Report of the Debates of the House of Commons of the Dominion of Canada Canada. Draft House of Lords Reform Bill Great Britain: Parliament: Joint Committee on the Draft House of Lords Reform Bill, 2012-04-23 The history of reform of the House of Lords has a long history since the Parliament Act 1911 and since the House of Lords Act 1999 removed the right of all but 92 hereditary peers to sit in the Lords there has been a number of initiatives to further the debate on reform The latest proposals are contained in the draft Bill Cm 8077 ISBN 9780101807722 published in May 2011 which was referred to the Joint Committee In this report the Joint Committee acknowledges the controversial aspects of certain of the proposals and the members of the Committee reflect wider differences of opinion many of the report's recommendations being decided by a majority The majority supports the need for an electoral mandate provided the House has commensurate powers The current functions and role would continue but the House would probably seek to be more assertive to an extent that cannot be predicted The Committee recommends a House of 450 members 80% elected on a system of Single Transferable Voting preferably that used in New South Wales not the one proposed in the Bill for a 15 year term The main sections of the report cover functions role primacy of the Commons and conventions electoral system size voting system and constituencies appointments bishops and ministers transition salaries IPSA disqualification The Committee recommends that in view of the significance of the constitutional change the Government should submit the decision to a referendum
