Housebuilding For Children Step By Step Plans For Houses Children Can Build Themselves:

Housebuilding for Children 2nd ed Lester Walker, 2007-07-03 Step by step illustrated instructions for building six different houses with a description of the necessary tools and equipment Bear Builds a House Maxwell Eaton, III, 2022-02-01 Bear's next project is her most ambitious one yet she's going to build a house But can she and her friends finish before winter sets in The bear from Maxwell Eaton's Bear Goes Sugaring returns in this fascinating follow up and this time she's going to build a house entirely from scratch To do so she'll need time careful planning sturdy materials and a whole lot of help from most of her friends Readers will see a house built before their very eyes as they are guided through detailed descriptions of each step in the construction process from site selection to chopping trees to make wooden planks to laying down foundations insulation and power and plumbing Key to the process is Bear's attention to sustainable architecture an excellent lesson for kids who want to learn about clean energy and sustainable planning As in Bear Goes Sugaring readers will love Maxwell Eaton's humorous approach to a serious subject and the antics and funny dialogue that Bear's animal cohorts contribute An NSTA Outstanding Science Trade Book A Junior Library Guild Gold Standard Selection Maker Camp Delanie Holton-Fessler, 2021-02-23 Classic and innovative hands on projects for kids ages 3 and up designed to teach both heritage skills and how to think creatively Handcraft is part of human nature we build we create we innovate The 20 projects in this book from an experienced art educator weave a story of human innovation and creativity from the very beginnings of building shelters in the woods to tinkering with recycled materials Heritage skills teach children how to be independent and capable makers fiber and wood projects offer rewarding crafts that also teach planning preparation and safe risk taking and tinkering activities connect the low tech process of making and doing with innovation From soap carving and knot tying to building toy cars and junk robots this book brings the fun of making things with your hands to young kids and links skills of the past with the present The book also explores how to set up a maker space and teaches foundational workshop practices that can easily be applied to the home studio Each project offers extensions for different ages and abilities and provides guiding questions to enrich the experience for both the maker teacher parent and the apprentice child to encourage and celebrate creative practical play Linking Architecture and Education Anne Taylor, 2009-05-16 For the past forty years Anne Taylor has studied how schools classrooms playgrounds homes museums and parks affect children and how they learn As a result she has developed a holistic sustainable philosophy of learning environment design She argues persuasively that architects must integrate their design knowledge with an understanding of the developmental needs of learners while at the same time educators parents and students must broaden their awareness of the built natural and cultural environment to maximize the learning experience In other words schools and other environments can themselves become three dimensional textbooks When architects are cognizant of newer models of education and educators view the environment as more than a box in which to teach prescribed lessons the result is an informed architecture that enables children to discover the power of their own learning The book presents numerous examples of dynamic designs that are the result of interdisciplinary understanding of place Taylor includes designer perspectives forums derived from commentary by outside contributors involved in school planning and a wealth of photographs of thoughtful and effective solutions to create learning environments from comprehensive design criteria Because the concept of school is enlarged to a community campus the book also spawns a new model of teaching and learning This book is essential reading for educators architects and community members who are anxious to transform education in America and elsewhere Anne Taylor is the most outstanding educator leading proponent and practitioner in the three dimensional textbook field Her work is the finest resource available for connecting students young and old to their learning environments and visa versa Edward E Kirkbride NCARB REFP Before Western man divided the universe into discrete subject matter areas the order in the universe was and still is both interdisciplinary and holistic The branching of trees spiraling of shells meandering of streams and the radial designs of flowers for example represent an analogy of mathematics biology and art The current artificial separation of subject matter is in contrast to the way the world is constructed and the way children perceive it Architecture and the study of the built natural and cultural environment synthesize the world of material things and the world of ideas Further more it helps us to realize that we are a part of not apart from the environment This book is a tool and a gift to designers educators and students everywhere to assist them in seeing the meaning behind all that we view and use for living on earth To know our precious relationship to our surroundings is the intent of this book In this way life is a work of art and each of us is an artist Anne Taylor
