Household Welfare In Central Asia:

Household Welfare in Central Asia Jane Falkingham, Jeni Klugman, Sheila Marnie, John Micklewright, 1997-06-12 The Central Asian republics represent the poorest area of the former Soviet Union and this book contains the first rigorous analysis of household living standards in the region Part I deals with methodological issues of measuring household welfare in transition Part II quantifies living standards in various ways and Part III looks at support given by the state firms other households and NGOs the mixed economy of welfare provision The book is characterised by analysis of newly available survey data

Tourism in Central Asia Kemal Kantarci, Muzaffer Uysal, Vincent P. Magnini, 2014-09-05 This book will be a major resource for all academic researchers and practitioners interested in issues dealing with the development of tourism its potential and challenges and policy and regulatory issues in the Central Asian countries of Kazakhstan Uzbekistan Turkmenistan Kyrgyzstan and Tajikistan These countries are gaining more attention as emerging destinations There is limited research that focuses on these countries with respect to their potential and characteristics as tourism destinations This book aims to be an invaluable source for both practitioners and academicians who are in international marketing and tourism The central Asia region also termed the Silk Road region as an emerging destination is ripe for future tourism development The region is rich with historical cultural and natural beauty that could provide significant utility to many potential visitors This book brings together key writings on this topic in a single resource

The Central Asian Economies Since Independence Richard Pomfret, 2020-12-08 The 9 11 attacks the U S invasion of Afghanistan and the oil boom of recent years have greatly increased the strategic importance of resource rich Central Asia making an understanding of its economic and therefore political prospects more important than ever In The Central Asian Economies Since Independence Richard Pomfret provides a concise and up to date analysis of the huge changes undergone by the economies of Kazakhstan the Kyrgyz Republic Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan since the collapse of the Soviet Union in 1991 The book assesses the economic prospects of each country and the likelihood that economic conditions will spur major political changes With independent chapters on each country and chapters analyzing their comparative economic performance the book highlights similarities and differences Facing common problems caused by the breakdown of Soviet economic relations and the hyperinflation of the early 1990s these countries have taken widely divergent paths in the transition from Soviet central planning to more market based economies The book ends in 2005 with the bloodless Kyrgyz revolution and the violence in Uzbekistan which signaled the end of the region's political continuity Throughout the book Pomfret emphasizes the economic forces that foster political instability from Kazakhstan's resource boom and Turkmenistan's lack of reform to Tajikistan's abject poverty

Youth and Globalization in Central Asia Stefan B. Kirmse, 2013 The former Soviet republic of Kyrgyzstan in the heart of Central Asia is home to the city of Osh which is commonly discussed as an epicenter of radical Islamism and political instability yet also fully globalized Stefan Kirmse explores what this means for the everyday lives of the city's young people By focusing on the myriad ways in which young Muslims experience globalization this book offers an alternative to the standard sensationalist accounts of post Soviet Central Asia that discuss the region in terms of an Islamic threat political instability and inter ethnic strife Poverty in Transition Economies Sandra Hutton, Gerry

Redmond, 2013-01-11 This study addresses the experience of and responses to poverty in a range of transition economies including Russia Ukraine Hungary Slovenia Uzbekistan Romania Albania and Macedonia It covers topics such as the definition of poverty lines and the measurement of poverty the role of income in kind in supporting families homelessness and destitution housing the design targeting and administration of welfare and personal responses to economic transition

Living Standards and Public Policy in Central Asia Suraiya Ismail, John Micklewright, 1997 Food Security and

Political Stability in Tajikistan Raj Kumar Sharma, 2018-10-01 There are links between food security and political stability as was evident during the world food crisis of 2007-08 Food riots were witnessed in a number of countries contributing to political instability There are a number of dimensions to the problem of food insecurity in Tajikistan This book is an attempt to fill the academic void on Tajikistan especially pertaining to its food security This work traces the history of agriculture and food production in Tajikistan from mid 19th century when it came under Russian rule From its inception Tajikistan has been facing the geographic handicap as it is a mountainous country and only 7 percent of the total land is arable which limits its food production This book is a detailed study of how Soviet economic geography introduced intensive cotton cultivation in Tajikistan at the expense of food crops Soviet economic planners felt that a region with hot climate and large water resources should not attempt to grow grains but cotton In the contemporary context this book focuses on how the state and international actors have responded to the food insecurity in Tajikistan Most importantly the book also analyses the relationship between food security and political stability in Tajikistan The Transformation of Central Asia Pauline

Jones Luong, 2018-08-06 With the fall of the Soviet Union in 1991 former Communist Party leaders in Central Asia were faced with the daunting task of building states where they previously had not existed Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan Their task was complicated by the institutional and ideological legacy of the Soviet system as well as by a more actively engaged international community These nascent states inherited a set of institutions that included bloated bureaucracies centralized economic planning and patronage networks Some of these institutions survived others have mutated and new institutions have been created Experts on Central Asia here examine the emerging relationship between state actors and social forces in the region Through the prism of local institutions the authors reassess both our understanding of Central Asia and of the state building process more broadly They scrutinize a wide array of institutional actors ranging from regional governments and neighborhood committees to transnational and non governmental organizations With original empirical research and theoretical insight the volume's contributors illuminate an obscure but resource rich and strategically significant region Improving social protection for rural populations in Europe and Central Asia Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2022-09-16 FAO's Strategic Framework 2022-2031 envisages the transformation to more efficient inclusive resilient and sustainable agrifood systems for better production better nutrition a better environment and a better life leaving no one behind In this scope FAO promotes inclusive economic growth by reducing inequalities between urban and rural areas rich and poor countries men and women to attain a better life for all This report analyses the specific risks and vulnerabilities faced by rural populations in Europe and Central Asia It highlights the gaps and barriers concerning social protection in the region which present challenges for addressing the specific vulnerabilities of rural populations and helping them to better manage risks The report discusses how social protection programmes should be designed and financed to contribute to more inclusive rural transformation processes improved nutrition and dietary outcomes women's empowerment and other social issues such as child labour In this scope the report specifies key entry points for FAO to improve social protection for rural populations in the region The report concludes that especially in the post pandemic period expanding the coverage adequacy and comprehensiveness of social protection for rural populations is key to addressing food security and nutrition rural poverty developing agriculture and building resilient and sustainable food systems in Europe and Central Asia A Survey of Health Reform in Central Asia Jeni Klugman, George Schieber, Timothy E. Heleniak, 1996-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 352 Six years into the transition from planned to market economies in Central and Eastern Europe high unemployment rates including a growing proportion of the long term unemployed represent a serious challenge to social welfare systems and policymakers This paper analyzes labor market development in nine transition countries of the region by focusing on the dynamics of labor force behavior employment and unemployment The countries include Bulgaria Croatia the Czech Republic the Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia Hungary Poland Romania the Slovak Republic and Slovenia Prospects for Improving Nutrition in Eastern Europe and Central Asia Claudia Rokx, Rae Galloway, Lynn Brown, 2002 This report presents an overview of critical nutrition issues affecting the Eastern European and Central Asian ECA countries and suggests strategies for improvement The ECA region is diverse in economic political and social structures as are the nutrition problems in the region The report finds that in addition to poverty lack of knowledge about basic nutrition among populations is also a key determinant of malnutrition in the ECA region Child well-being, child poverty and child policy in modern nations Smeeding, Timothy M., Vleminckx, Koen, 2001-02-23 Child poverty and the well being of children is an important policy issue throughout the industrialised world Some 47 million children in rich countries live in families so poor that their health and well being are at risk The main themes addressed are the extent and trend of child poverty in industrialised nations outcomes for children for example the relationship between childhood experiences and children's health country studies and emerging issues child and family policies All the contributions underline the urgent need for a comprehensive policy to reduce child poverty rates and to improve the well being of children Findings are clearly presented and key focus points identified for policy makers to consider Failed Transition, Bleak Future? Hooman Peimani, 2002-04-30 Peimani challenges the practical indifference of many Western and non Western countries with interests in Central Asia and the Caucasus to their plight Independence in 1991 suddenly worsened all the economic and social problems of the countries of the Caucasus Azerbaijan Armenia and Georgia and Central Asia Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan Their failure to address their numerous economic problems and to develop their economies has created a suitable ground for the rise of social and political popular dissent including ethnic conflicts in all these multi ethnic countries Concerned about the stability of their political systems their ruling elites have all opted for authoritarianism The prevailing intolerance of dissent and the suppression of opposition political parties have paved the way for the emergence of anti government extremist ideologies and political groups The domestic situation has become ripe for the rise of violent political activities and ethnic conflicts with a great possibility for their escalation to civil wars The ethnic structure of both the Caucasus and Central Asia makes their development into inter state wars a strong possibility The unsettled ethnic and territorial conflicts within and between countries which turned into wars in the early 1990s could easily re emerge There is a potential for the further escalation of military conflicts in those regions because of the intentional or unintentional intervention of Iran China Turkey Russia and the United States which have long term interests in the two regions Given the geographical characteristics of the Caucasus and Central Asia as a link between Asia and Europe war and instability in those regions could destabilize the two continents hosting six declared nuclear powers Of particular interest to scholars and other researchers involved with Eurasian Central Asian and Caucasian countries
