Household Strategies For Survival 1600 2000 Fission Faction And Cooperation:

Household Strategies for Survival 1600-2000 Laurence Fontaine, Jürgen Schlumbohm, 2000 This book considers the labouring poor not simply as victims but as actively pursuing a whole range of strategies for survival These strategies included many economic activities Building and maintaining networks of kinship and neighbourhood was equally important as was negotiating support from institutions Sometimes strategies were successfully integrated within a household while in other instances the domestic group was split and members preferred to pursue individual strategies This illuminating book examines the European past using case studies from present day situations in Asia and Africa Irish London Craig Bailey, 2013 This text uses case studies of law students lawyers and merchants to explore overlooked dimensions of Irish migration the middle class community and the social geography of London in the eighteenth century Female Agency in the Urban Economy Deborah Simonon, Anne Montenach, 2013-04-17 This innovative new book is overtly and explicitly about female agency in eighteenth century European towns However it positions female activity and decisions unequivocally in an urban world of institutions laws regulations customs and ideologies Gender politics complicated and shaped the day to day experiences of working women Town rules and customs as well as police and guilds regulations affected women s participation in the urban economy most of the time the formally recognized and legally accepted power of women which is an essential component of female agency was very limited Yet these chapters draw attention to how women navigated these gendered terrains As the book demonstrates exclusion is too strong a word for the realities and pragmatism of women s everyday lives Frequently guild and corporate regulations were more about situating women and regulating their activities rather than preventing them from operating in the urban economy Similarly corporate structures which were under stress found flexible strategies to incorporate women who through their own initiative and activities put pressure on the systems Women could benefit from the contradictions between moral and social unwritten norms and economic regulations and could take advantage of the tolerance or complicity of urban authorities towards illicit practices Women with a grasp of their rights and privileges could defend themselves and exploit legal systems with its loopholes and contradictions to achieve economic independence and power Human Agency in Medieval Society, 1100-1450 Ionuț Epurescu-Pascovici, 2021 Argues the case for the individual as autonomous moral agent in the later Middle Ages Bankruptcy and Debt Collection in Liberal Capitalism Mischa Suter, 2021-06-02 Debt as a social relation at the intersection of history and anthropology in the precarious economies of nineteenth century liberalism Cities and Solidarities Justin Colson, Arie van Steensel, 2017-01-06 Cities and Solidarities charts the ways in which the study of individuals and places can revitalise our understanding of urban communities as dynamic interconnections of solidarities in medieval and early modern Europe This volume sheds new light on the socio economic conditions the formal and informal institutions and the strategies of individual town dwellers that explain the similarities and differences in the organisation and functioning of urban communities in pre modern Europe It considers how communities within cities and towns are constructed and reconstructed how interactions amongst members of differing groups created social and economic institutions and how urban communities reflected a sense of social cohesion In answering these questions the contributions combine theoretical frameworks with new digital methodologies in order to provoke further discussion into the fundamental nature of urban society in this key period of change The essays in this collection demonstrate the complexities of urban societies in pre modern Europe and will make fascinating reading for students and scholars of medieval and early modern urban history

A Cultural History of Work in the Age of Enlightenment Anne Montenach, Deborah Simonton, 2020-09-17 Winner of the 2020 PROSE Award for Multivolume Reference Humanities The Enlightenment led to revised ideas about work together with new social attitudes toward work and workers Coupled with dynamism in the economy and the rise of the middling orders work was more frequently perceived positively as a commodity and as a source of social respectability This volume explores the cultural implications of the transition from older systems based on privilege control and embedded practices to a more open society increasingly based on merit and ability It examines how guild controls broke down and political and commercial systems loosened It also considers the theoretical justifications that brought new binding ideas such as the strengthening of ideology on home domesticity for the female and work and politics for the male North America embodied the extremes of these transitions with free workers able to make their way in a society based on ability and initiative while solidifying the ravages of the slavery system A Cultural History of Work in the Age of Enlightenment presents an overview of the period with essays on economies representations of work workplaces work cultures technology mobility society politics and leisure

Narratives of the Poor in Eighteenth-Century England Vol 1 Alys Levene, Steven King, Alannah Tomkins, Thomas Nutt, Peter King, Deborah A Symonds, Lisa Zunshine, 2024-10-28 Presents narratives of the poor in eighteenth century Britain This collection covers the period from the early eighteenth century through to the Poor Law Amendment Act of 1834 and includes transcriptions of hand written first hand representations of poverty to poor law officials

Being poor in modern Europe Inga Brandes, 2006 Edited papers from an international conference at the University of Trier 2003

Children and Asceticism in Late Antiquity Ville Vuolanto, 2016-03-03 In Late Antiquity the emergence of Christian asceticism challenged the traditional Greco Roman views and practices of family life The resulting discussions on the right way to live a good Christian life provide us with a variety of information on both ideological statements and living experiences of late Roman childhood This is the first book to scrutinise the interplay between family children and asceticism in the rise of Christianity Drawing on texts of Christian authors of the late fourth and early fifth centuries the volume approaches the study of family dynamics and childhood from both ideological and social historical perspectives It examines the place of children in the family in Christian ideology and explores how families in the late Roman world adapted these ideals in practice Offering fresh viewpoints to current scholarship Ville Vuolanto demonstrates that there were many continuities in Roman ways of thinking about children and despite the rise of Christianity the old traditions remained deeply embedded in the culture Moreover the discussions about family and children are shown to have been intimately linked to worries about the continuity of family lineage and of the self and to the changing understanding of what constituted a meaningful life

Gender, Space and Illicit Economies in Eighteenth-Century Europe Anne Montenach,2024-02-23 This book seeks to contribute a multi dimensional multi layered and gendered approach to the illicit economy in the historiography of early modern Europe Using original source material from several countries this volume concentrates on a border and transnational area approximately the Lyon Geneva Turin triangle located at the heart of European trade It focuses on three products salt cotton and silk all of which fuelled the black market between the last decades of the seventeenth century and the French Revolution This volume offers an original contribution to wider studies of smuggling illicit markets and women s economic roles by taking into account the economic life of remote mountain communities and industrious cities Showing that irregular practices were a structural characteristic of early modern economies it provides insight into the opportunities offered to women in a highly flexible economy where licit and illicit activities were intermingled in a very complex way This research monograph is aimed at a historical audience and constitutes a useful resource for students and scholars interested in gender history social and economic history urban history and French studies

100 Years of Permanent Revolution Bill Dunn,Hugo Radice,2006-05-20 One hundred years on from their first appearance in Leon Trotsky s Results and Prospects this is a critical re evaluation of two key Marxist theories uneven and combined development and permanent revolution It brings together a formidable array of Marxist intellectuals from across the world including Daniel Bensaid Michael L wy Hillel Ticktin and Patrick Bond Marx saw societies progressing through distinct historical stages feudal bourgeois and communist Trotsky advanced this model by considering how countries at different stages of development influence each other Developed countries colonise less developed countries and exploit their people and resources Elsewhere even as many were kept in poverty the influence of foreign capital and state led industrialisation produced novel economic forms and prospects for political alliances and change The contributors show how 100 years on from its original publication Trotsky s theories are hugely useful for understanding today s globalised economy dominated by US imperialism

The Clothing Trade in Provincial England, 1800-1850 Alison Toplis,2015-10-06 This detailed study is the first exploration of rural consumption of clothing in early nineteenth century Britain Drawing on evidence from a range of sources including newspapers trade directories court records visual sources and surviving garments Toplis investigates how the apparel of the mass of the British population was acquired

Gender Matters Mara R. Wade,2013-12-05 Gender Matters opens the debate concerning violence in literature and the arts beyond a single national tradition and engages with multivalent aspects of both female and male gender constructs mapping them onto depictions of violence By defining a tight thematic focus and yet offering a broad disciplinary scope for inquiry the present volume brings together a wide range of scholarly papers investigating a cohesive topic gendered violence from the perspectives of French German Italian Spanish English and Japanese literature history musicology art history and cultural studies It interrogates the intersection of gender and violence in the early modern period cutting across national traditions genres media and disciplines By engaging several levels of discourse the volume advances a holistic approach to understanding gendered violence in the early modern world The convergence of discourses concerning literature the arts emerging print technologies social and legal norms and textual and visual practices leverages a more complex understanding of gender in this period Through the unifying lens of gender and violence the contributions to this volume comprehensively address a wide scope of diverse issues approaches and geographies from late medieval Japan to the European Enlightenment While the majority of essays focus on early modern Europe they are broadly contextualized and informed by integrated critical approaches pertaining to issues of violence and gender

The Moral Economy Laurence Fontaine, 2014-04-21 The Moral Economy examines the nexus of poverty credit and trust in early modern Europe It starts with an examination of poverty the need for credit and the lending practices of different social groups It then reconstructs the battles between the Churches and the State around the ban on usury and analyzes the institutions created to eradicate usury and the informal petty financial economy that developed as a result Laurence Fontaine unpacks the values that structured these lending practices namely the two competing cultures of credit that coexisted fought and sometimes merged the vibrant aristocratic culture and the capitalistic merchant culture More broadly Fontaine shows how economic trust between individuals was constructed in the early modern world By creating a dialogue between past and present and contrasting their definitions of poverty the role of the market and the mechanisms of microcredit Fontaine draws attention to the necessity of recognizing the different values that coexist in diverse political economies

Women in Eighteenth Century Europe Margaret Hunt, 2014-06-11 Was the century of Voltaire also the century of women In the eighteenth century changes in the nature of work family life sexuality education law religion politics and warfare radically altered the lives of women Some of these developments caused immense confusion and suffering others greatly expanded women's opportunities and worldview long before the various women's suffrage movements were more than a glimmer on the horizon This study pays attention to queens as well as commoners respectable working women as well as prostitutes women physicists and mathematicians as well as musicians and actresses feminists as well as their critics The result is a rich and morally complex tale of conflict and tragedy but also of achievement The book deals with many regions and topics often under represented in general surveys of European women including coverage of the Balkans and both European Turkey and Anatolia of Eastern Europe of European colonial expansion particularly the slave trade and of Muslim Eastern Orthodox and Jewish women's history Bringing all of Europe into the narrative of early modern women's history challenges many received assumptions about Europe and women in past times and provides essential background for dealing with issues of diversity in the Europe of today

Family Business Julie Hardwick, 2009-06-25 In seventeenth century France families were essential as both agents and objects in the shaping of capitalism and growth of powerful states phenomena that were critical to the making of the modern world For household members neighbours and authorities the family business of the management of a broad range of tangible and intangible resources law borrowing violence and marital status among them was central to political stability economic productivity and cultural morality The business of family life involved relationships that could be intimate family and neighbours intermediate litigant and judge or distant governing authority and subject and the resources in question were the currency of the early modern world these people knew In all these regards litigation was a key means of negotiating and contesting the challenges of daily life and the larger developments in which they were embedded The relationships between families economies and states have often been reframed but the perils as well as promises have persisted Then as now husbands and wives found the experience of marriage to be fraught with uncertainty and risk economic insecurity and ubiquitous borrowing were profound challenges domestic violence was a telling marker of inequality in families Julie Hardwick examines a critical period in the long history of family business to highlight the centrality of the lived experiences of working families in major political economic and cultural transitions

Landless Households in Rural Europe, 1600-1900 Christine Fertig, Richard Paping, Henry French, 2022 First comparative study of landless households brings out their major role in European history and society The numbers of landless people those lacking formal rights to land or possessing only tiny smallholdings grew rapidly across post medieval Europe as rural population and economic growth divided landowners and farmers from increasingly landless rural workers But they have hitherto been relatively neglected a gap which this volume covering Scandinavia Germany Austria Netherlands Belgium Britain France and Spain from the sixteenth to the early twentieth centuries aims to fill making creative use of a diverse range of unexplored sources Instead of concentrating on the well documented cases of landholding peasants it explores the many different experiences of the numerous rural landless It explains how their households were formed often in the face of economic difficulties and official hostility how all the members of a family contributed to its survival how the landless related to other social groups and negotiated access to vital resources and how they adapted as rural society was changed by war politics agrarian and industrial development government policy and welfare systems Contributors Arnau Barquer i Cerd John Broad Dieter Bruneel Christine Fertig Henry French Margareth Lanzinger Jonas Lindstr m Riikka Miettinen Richard Paping Wouter Ronsijn Merja Uotila Nadine Vivierlated to other social groups and negotiated access to vital resources and how they adapted as rural society was changed by war politics agrarian and industrial development government policy and welfare systems Contributors Arnau Barquer i Cerd John Broad Dieter Bruneel Christine Fertig Henry French Margareth Lanzinger Jonas Lindstr m Riikka Miettinen Richard Paping Wouter Ronsijn Merja Uotila Nadine Vivierlated to other social groups and negotiated access to vital resources and how they adapted as rural society was changed by war politics agrarian and industrial development government policy and welfare systems Contributors Arnau Barquer i Cerd John Broad Dieter Bruneel
