Alienation of Church Wealth in Mexico Jan Bazant, 2008-10-30 Conflict between the Roman Catholic Church and the State in Mexico became prominent soon after independence in 1821 and during the next three decades national and state governments made various attempts to reduce ecclesiastical influence in the social economic and political life of the nation Few of such efforts met with much success and it was not until 1856 that a major reform was initiated Legislation was issued which affected all spheres of clerical activity but the most vital and controversial aspect of the reform involved the measures adopted to dispossess the Church of its wealth The extensive ecclesiastical holdings of urban and rural real estate and capital were nationalized and redistributed Professor Bazant examines earlier attempts at nationalization and describes in detail the implementations of the 1856 Lerdo Law and subsequent decrees Using selected areas of the country he traces the precise effects of the redistribution of Church property and capital describing the terms of sale or transfer the number of sales the buyers their nationality and occupation and the total value of the amounts involved who governed the Community longer than St Vincent de Paul Like the founder Fiat was a man of both prayer and action Also like the founder Fiat was often hesitant and delayed final decisions His confreres spread to new missions such as the republics of Central America and Argentina and several missions or provinces had grown large enough to be given more autonomy such as the two American provinces the Antilles Barcelona Ecuador Belgium and Holland Madagascar and Colombia China continued to attract many missionaries as well as local Chinese vocations despite war and unrest This volume then relates not only that the Vincentians members of the Congregation of the Mission grew in number and influence but how they exercised their ministry Persecution was their lot in some regions but they forged ahead As always they sought to align their ministries at the end of the nineteenth and the beginning of the twentieth centuries with the original mission entrusted to them by the Church through Vincent de Paul to bring the Gospel to the poor House Beautiful, 1911 Tales from American History Eliza Robbins, 1833 Construction, 1914 The Creole Jesuits in Nueva España in 1767 Robert H.
