Housing And Social Policy:

Housing and Social Policy Chester W. Hartman,1975 Housing, Social Policy and the State Joseph Melling,2025-07-15 The topic of housing is central to urban history as well as to social policy Historians have focussed either on local conditions or national developments but until first publication of this book in 1980 there had been few systematic attempts to relate local amenities to general policy The essays provide an interdisciplinary approach to the study of housing blending original local studies with a novel theoretical perspective on the development of social policy Covering a wide geographical area the book focusses on housing conditions within the locality surveyed and the intervention of both local and central government in the provision of working class dwellings The studies relate specific cases to general problems of economic and social development and changes in class relations Housing, Social Policy and Difference Malcolm Harrison,Cathy Davis,2001-04-18 How does the welfare state and its institutions respond to impairment ethnicity and gender This book provides an overview of issues set in the context of housing From ethnic minority housing needs to the housing implications of domestic violence it shows how difference is regulated in housing Social Policy and Discourse Analysis Greg Marston,2004 Despite the fact that policy is increasingly led by the mass media social policy research has so far focused on variables and quantitative measurement rather than cultural meanings and moral welfare debates Taking a critical examination of social policy on public housing by way of illustration this book demonstrates how critical discourse theory can be used in applied research It shows how the theory and method of critical discourse analysis can be worked together in an intricate and accessible way Housing and Social Policies Central Policy Review Staff,1978 Housing and Social Policies Great Britain. Central Policy Review Staff,1978 Housing and Social Services for the Elderly Elizabeth D. Huttman,Ilse J. Volinn,1977 Housing Policies in the Context of Social Welfare Goals in Periods of Economic Restraint Satya Brink,1988 Housing and Social Policy Peter Somerville,2005 Housing and Social Policy Maureen Rhoden,2012-02-12 Health, Housing and Social Policy Lorna Arblaster,Murray Hawtin,1993 Housing Policy and Equality Lennart J. Lundqvist,2023-03-31 Originally published in 1986 this book compares and evaluates the effects of converting rental housing into owner occupancy in the USA the UK and Germany The evaluation examines the pros and cons of such conversions The conversion controversy is more than a technical discussion of outcomes of different housing strategies By viewing tenure conversions as strategies for limiting direct governmental involvement this comparative evaluation indicates something about the effects not only on housing but on general social welfare of such strategies

Housing Policy Paul Balchin, Maureen Rhoden,2019-01-09 Now in its fourth edition this textbook has been completely revised to examine the current state of housing policy in the UK Exploring developments in housing policy made since Labour s 1997 electoral victory the book addresses current issues including the brownfield versus greenfield debate the phasing out of renovation grants the transfer of local authority housing to registered social landlords boom slump and boom in the owner occupied sector Other topics addressed range from regional policy and housing across the UK to social exclusion community care and homelessness

Housing Policy In The United States Paul Balchin, Maureen Rhoden, 2020-10-28 Housing Policy in the United States is an essential guidebook to and textbook for housing policy it is written for students practitioners government officials real estate developers and policy analysts It discusses the most important issues in the field introduces key concepts and institutions and examines the most important programs Written as an introductory text it explains all concepts trends and programs without jargon and includes empirical data concerning program evaluations government documents and studies carried out by the author and other scholars The first chapters present the context surrounding US housing policy including basic trends and problems the housing finance system and the role of the federal tax system in subsidizing homeowner and rental housing The middle chapters focus on individual subsidy programs The closing chapters discuss issues and programs that do not necessarily involve subsidies including homeownership mixed income housing and governmental efforts to improve access to housing by reducing discriminatory barriers in the housing and mortgage markets The concluding chapter also offers reflections on future directions of US housing policy

Housing Needs and Policy Approaches Willem Van Vliet, Elizabeth D. Huttman, Sylvia Fleis Fava, 1985 Drawing upon research from six continents Housing Needs and Policy Approaches analyzes the social problems involved with providing housing in the industrialized nations and in the Third World The book focuses on four areas of concern current trends in housing in specific Western countries the role of Western governments in creating this housing housing provisions in less developed nations and the relationship of societal structure and housing particularly with respect to the decentralization of population occurring in many regions

Young People, Housing and Social Policy Julie Rugg, 2002-01-22 Presenting up to date empirical research on the subject of young people housing and social policy in contemporary Britain this book considers the issue of young people s early housing histories in the context of a range of government policy initiatives aimed at the group It offers a critique of aspects of social policy that specifically address the housing of young people Topics covered include young people leaving care young people in the parental home youth homelessness housing services for young people students in the private rented sector young owner occupiers housing benefit for the under 25s young single parent families young people and housing in rural areas social housing

Comparative Housing Policy John Doling, 1997-09-01 This text introduces the reader to the comparative study of housing policy It looks first at the benefits limitations and difficulties of the comparative method as well as the reasons behind governmental involvement in housing and particular policy choices It then identifies and discusses key themes of value to the analysis of a range of countries in the advanced capitalist world offering an understanding of national differences and similarities and drawing on examples from for instance Europe the USA Australia and Japan

Creating Mixed Communities through Housing Policies Anna Maria Santiago, Iris Levin, Kathy Arthurson, 2024-02-08 This book focuses on socially mixed e g by income tenure ethnicity or any other characteristic communities developed through housing renewal and critically examines the policies and practices in view of the growing urban inequality The volume expands the discussion to the second phase of social mix social mix version 2 0 and offers constructive reflections on how social mix can be better conceived and delivered with fewer negative side effects The chapters in this book cover diverse national contexts and policy backgrounds and represent the perspectives of many key stakeholders including national and local governments services and NGOs developers and most importantly residents Chapters present diverse case studies from Europe the Middle East Africa India Australia and the United States and discuss projects that range in scale from small housing initiatives to neighborhoods and to whole districts They focus on diverse experiences of social mix between university students and young professionals and low income social housing tenants between older low income residents and younger middle class residents between diverse ethnic and social class groups sharing a neighborhood and between private and public housing residents Chapters also vary on the tools used to create social mix from local non for profit initiatives a national policy intervention and urban policies that aim to enhance social mix Lastly the book shows the range of analytical tools researchers have used to understand the diverse appearances of social mix its underlying goals and its consequent outcomes These include comparative analyses of social mix in diverse national and political settings including the Global East an evaluation of social mix from the perspective of social justice a historical analysis of the development of an urban district and a design analysis of urban renewal projects The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Journal of Urban Affairs
