The Experimenters Eva Díaz, 2014-12-25 In the years immediately following World War II Black Mountain College an unaccredited school in rural Appalachia became a vital hub of cultural innovation Practically every major artistic figure of the mid twentieth century spent some time there Merce Cunningham Ray Johnson Franz Kline Willem and Elaine de Kooning Robert Motherwell Robert Rauschenberg Dorothea Rockburne Aaron Siskind Cy Twombly the list goes on and on Yet scholars have tended to view these artists time at the College as little more than prologue a step on their way to greatness

With The Experimenters Eva D az reveals the importance of Black Mountain College and especially of three key teachers Josef Albers John Cage and R Buckminster Fuller to be much greater than that D az s focus is on experimentation Albers Cage and Fuller she shows taught new models of art making that favored testing procedures rather than personal expression These methodologies represented incipient directions for postwar art practice elements of which would be sampled and often wholly adopted by Black Mountain students and subsequent practitioners The resulting works which interrelate art and life in a way that imbues these projects with crucial relevance not only reconfigured the relationships among chance order and design they helped redefine what artistic practice was and could be for future generations Offering a bold compelling new angle on some of the most widely studied creative figures of modern times The Experimenters does nothing less than rewrite the story of art in the mid twentieth century

Hot Art, Cold War - Western and Northern European Writing on American Art 1945-1990 Claudia Hopkins,Iain Boyd Whyte,2020-09-17 Hot Art Cold War Northern and Western European Writing on American Art 1945 1990 is one of two text anthologies that trace the reception of American art in Europe during the Cold War era through primary sources With the exception of those originally published in English the majority of these texts are translated into English for the first time from eight languages and are introduced by scholarly essays They offer a representative selection of the diverse responses to American art in Great Britain Ireland France Belgium the Netherlands West Germany FRG Austria Switzerland Denmark Norway Sweden and Finland There was no single European discourse as attitudes to American art were determined by a wide range of ideological political social cultural and artistic positions that varied considerably across the European nations This volume and its companion Hot Art Cold War Southern and Eastern European Writing on American Art 1945 1990 offer the reader a unique opportunity to compare how European art writers introduced and explained contemporary American art to their many and varied audiences Whilst many are fluent in one or two foreign languages few are able to read all twenty five languages represented in the two volumes These ground breaking publications significantly enrich the fields of American art studies and European art criticism This book together with its companion volume Hot Art Cold War Southern and Eastern European Writing on American Art 1945 1990 is a joint initiative of the Terra Foundation for American Art and the editors of the journal Art in Translation at the University of Edinburgh The journal launched in 2009 publishes English language translations of the most significant texts on art and visual cultures presently only available only in their source language It is committed to widening the perspectives of art history making it more pluralist in terms of its authors viewpoints and subject matter

The Experience Machine Gloria Sutton,2015-02-13 An argument that the collaborative multimedia projects produced by Stan VanDerBeek in the 1960s and 1970s anticipate contemporary new media and participatory art practices In 1965 the experimental filmmaker Stan VanDerBeek 1927 1984 unveiled his Movie Drome made from the repurposed top of a grain silo VanDerBeek envisioned Movie Drome as the prototype for a communications system a global network of Movie Dromes linked to orbiting satellites that would store and transmit images With networked two way communication Movie Dromes were meant to ameliorate technology's alienating impulse In The Experience Machine Gloria Sutton views VanDerBeek known mostly for his experimental animated films as a visual artist committed to the radical aesthetic sensibilities he developed during his studies at Black Mountain College She argues that VanDerBeek's collaborative multimedia projects of the 1960s and 1970s sometimes characterized as Expanded Cinema with their emphases on transparency of process and audience engagement anticipate contemporary art's new media installation and participatory practices VanDerBeek saw Movie Drome not as pure cinema but as a communication tool an experience machine In her close reading of the work Sutton argues that Movie Drome can be understood as a programmable interface She describes the immersive experience of Movie Drome which emphasized multi sensory experience over the visual display strategies deployed in the work the Poemfield computer generated short films and VanDerBeek's interest unique for the time in telecommunications and computer processing as a future model for art production Sutton argues that visual art as a direct form of communication is a feedback mechanism which turns on a set of relations not a technology

Young, 2014-10-01 In the 1950s the brethren at the Benedictine Abbey of Saint John the Baptist in Collegeville Minnesota the largest Benedictine abbey in the world decided to expand their campus including building a new church From a who's who of architectural stars such as Walter Gropius Richard Neutra Pietro Belluschi Barry Byrne and Eero Saarinen the Benedictines chose a former member of the Bauhaus Marcel Breuer In collaboration with the monks this untested religious designer produced a work of modern sculptural concrete architecture that reenvisioned what a church could be and set a worldwide standard for midcentury religious design Saint John s Abbey Church documents the dialogue of the design process as Breuer instructed the monks about architecture and they in turn guided him and his associates in the construction of a sacred space in the crucial years of liturgical reform A reading of letters drawings and other archival materials shows how these conversations gave shape to design elements from the church s floor plan to the liturgical furnishings art and incomparable stained glass installed within it The book offers a rare detailed view of how a patron and architect work together in a successful building campaign one that in this case lasted for two decades and resulted in designs for twelve buildings ten of which were completed The post World War II years were critical in the development of religious and architectural experiences in the United States experiences that came together in the construction of Saint John s Abbey and University Church and that find their full expression in Victoria M Young s account of the process Using the liturgy of the mid twentieth century as a cornerstone for understanding the architecture produced to support it her book showcases the importance of modernism in the design of sacred space and of Marcel Breuer s role in setting the standard
