Vienna Art and Design Klimt Schiele Hoffmann Loos is a stylish and timeless publication that highlights this extraordinary and provocative period when a unique generation of artistic and intellectual geniuses laid the foundations for life in the twentieth century Beginning in 1897 artists such as Gustav Klimt Josef Hoffmann Koloman Moser Adolf Loos and Egon Schiele transformed Vienna into a dynamic vibrant metropolis at the forefront of groundbreaking modernism     A Century of Austrian Design Tulga Beyerle, Karin Hirschberger, 2013-03-04 A Century of Austrian Design offers a highly accessible overview of Austrian design culture from 1900 to the present against the background of the country's extremely turbulent industrial history In the process the key aspects are explained in essays by celebrated experts The book attempts to delineate a specifically Austrian formal language citing as examples specific achievements in historical and contemporary design As it does so it also sheds light on other defining moments of Austria's design culture including the enormous potential of its inventors the phenomenon of semi industrial manufacturing and the innovative design solutions advanced by the Austrian sporting goods industry A yellow pages section with selected design addresses rounds off the volume     German Façade Design Randall Ott, 2016-09-17 German architecture prior to the modern period has received less systemic analytical study than that of Italy France and Britain Scholarly discussion of broad traditions or continuities within Germanic or Central European façade design is even sparser Baroque era studies of the region mostly devote themselves to isolated architects monuments or movements Modernism's advent decisively changed this Germanic architecture enjoyed sudden ascendancy Yet even so study specifically of that region's façades still lagged nothing compares to the dozens of treatments of Le Corbusier's façade systems for example and how these juxtapose with French neoclassical or Italian Renaissance methods Given the paucity of multi period studies one can be forgiven for believing Germany's effervescence of radical modern works seems unprecedented This book takes up these multiple quandaries It identifies and documents a previously unrecognized compositional tradition characterized here as the screen façade and posits it as a counter narrative critiquing the essentialist authentic canon currently dominant in Western architectural history By crossing evenly over the dividing line between the historical and modern periods it offers valuable insights on indigenous roots underlying some aspects of Germany's invigorating early twentieth century architectural developments The book chronologically examines 400 years of closely related facades concentrated in Germany but also found in Austria the Czech Republic German speaking Switzerland and nearby areas of Central Europe While nearly 75 buildings are mentioned and illustrated a dozen are given extensive analysis and the book focuses on the works of three architects Schinkel Behrens and Mies Relationships between examples of these three architects' façades far transcend mere homage amongst masters Glimmers of the system they eventually codify are apparent as early as at Heidelberg Castle in 1559 and Nürnberg's Rathaus in 1622. The book argues that in Germany northern Gothic affinities for bisection, intense repetition and rote aggregation intersected with southern Classical affinities for symmetry, hierarchy and centrality, thereby spawning a unique hybrid product: the screen. Instead of graphic formality, this study is guided by on-site perceptions, propositional contrasts, means of approach, interpretive conflicts and emotion, and it relates the design of these façades to concepts proposed by contemporary philosophers including Novalis, Hegel, Nietzsche, Freud, Adorno and most importantly Gadamer on hermeneutics. Architect's Drawings Kendra Schank Smith, 2006-08-11

The sketch is a window into the architect's mind. As creative designers, architects are interested in how other architects, particularly successful ones, think through the use of drawings to approach their work. Historically, designers have sought inspiration for their own work through an insight into the minds and workings of people they often regard as geniuses. This collection of sketches aims to provide this insight. Here, for the first time, a wide range of world-famous architects' sketches from the Renaissance to the present day can be seen in a single volume. The sketches have been selected to represent the concepts or philosophies of the key movements in architecture in order to develop an overall picture of the role of the sketch in the development of architecture. The book illustrates the work of designers as diverse as Andrea Palladio, Erich Mendelsohn, Sir Edwin Lutyens, Gianlorenzo Bernini, Le Corbusier, Michelangelo, Alvaró Aalto, Sir John Soane, Francesco Borromini, Walter Gropius and contemporary architects Tadao Ando, Zaha Hadid and Frank Gehry, to name but a few. Each chronologically placed sketch is accompanied by text providing details about the architect's life, a look at the sketch in context and the connection to specific buildings where appropriate. Style, media and meaning are also discussed, developing an explanation of the architect's thinking and intentions. As creative designers themselves, architects are interested in how other architects, particularly successful ones, think and draw and approach their work. Historically, designers have sought inspiration for their own work through an insight into the minds and workings of people they often regard as geniuses. This collection of sketches aims to provide this insight. Listed chronologically, each sketch will be accompanied by a text which provides a short synopsis, history of the architect's life, a look at the sketch in this context, the connection to a specific building, where appropriate, techniques of the sketch style and media, meaning, what the sketch shows about the architect's thinking and intentions, followed by a select bibliography for each section. Design, Vienna, 1890s to 1930s Joann Skrypzak, Barbara Copeland Buenger, 2003. Barbara Buenger traces the development of Viennese modernism from turn of the century Jugendstil as Art Nouveau was known in German-speaking countries to early twentieth-century Expressionism and interwar Art Deco. This exhibition catalogue features 103 fine and decorative art works produced by the Vienna Secession and Wiener Werkstätte movements between the 1890s and 1930s. The fully illustrated catalog features textiles, furniture, ceramics, paintings and prints, books, metalwork, glass and a variety of other objects from a private midwestern collection. Distributed for the Chazen Museum of Art, University of Wisconsin-Madison. Gustav Klimt Gustav Klimt, Tate Gallery

Liverpool, 2008-09 Gustav Klimt 1862-1918 remains one of the most popular artists of the early 20th century. Published to accompany a major exhibition at Tate Liverpool, a highlight of that city's 2008 Capital of Culture celebrations and the first such show in the UK, Gustav Klimt explores the life and work of an intriguing figure at the heart of the cultural transformation of Vienna around 1900. Central to the book is the first thorough examination of the relationship between Klimt's paintings and the work of his close friend, the architect and designer Josef Hoffmann. Reaching beyond the two-dimensional arts, it hails the advent of an all-inclusive design culture that embraced interiors, furniture, clothing, and jewellery. Essays by leading scholars and curators consider key works, events, and developments: the founding of the Viennese Secession, the inaugural display of the Beethoven Frieze, and a series of collaborative ventures in the creation of total domestic environments for the pursuit of modern life, among them the Villa Maerendorfer in Vienna and the Villa Primavesi in rural northern Moravia. In addition, Klimt is assessed as both an accomplished erotic draftsman and a seductive landscape painter. BOOK JACKET Fashion Akiko Fukai, Kyōto Fukushoku Bunka Kenkyū Zaidan, 2002. Illustrates a wide range of historical garments, underwear, shoes, and fashion accessories dating from the eighteenth century to the present day.

Maker and Muse Elyse Zorn Karlin, 2015-02-10. A new perspective on woman's role in the world of art jewelry at the turn of the twentieth century, from Art Nouveau in France and the Arts and Crafts movement in Britain to Jugendstil in Germany and Austria, Louis Comfort Tiffany in New York, and American Arts and Crafts in Chicago, and the most extensive survey to date of the sheer diversity and beauty of art jewelry during this period. Accompanying a groundbreaking exhibition at The Richard H. Driehaus Museum in Chicago, this lavishly illustrated catalog showcases nearly two hundred stunning pieces from the Driehaus Collection and prominent national collections, many of which have never been seen by the public. Women were not only the intended wearers of art jewelry during the early twentieth century but also an essential part of its creation. Their work, boldly artistic, exquisitely detailed, hand-wrought, and inspired by nature, is now widely sought after by collectors and museums alike. From the world's first independent female jewelry makers to the woman as artistic motif, this jewelry reflected rapid changes in definitions of femininity and social norms. Essays by noted scholars explore five different areas of jewelry design and fabrication and discuss the important female figures and historic social milieu associated with these movements: from the suffragists and the Rational Dress Society in England to the Wiener Werkstätte and Gustav Klimt and the Art Nouveau masters René Lalique and Alphonse Mucha, who depicted otherworldly women in jewelry for equally fascinating patrons like Sarah Bernhardt. The essays are illustrated by historic photographs and decorative arts of the period, as well as the extraordinary pieces themselves: hair combs, bracelets, brooches, and tiaras executed in moonstones, translucent horn, enamel, opals, aquamarines, and much more. As Driehaus writes in his introduction to Maker and Muse: Essential, as these elements are, the metal and gemstones of a necklace or a brooch or a bracelet are like a canvas. It is the designer who evokes true greatness, beauty, and value from them. Neither monumental nor mass-produced, the object contains a memory of a particular

Style and Seduction Elana Shapira, 2016-05-22 A recent surge of interest in Jewish patronage during the golden years of Vienna has led to the question Would modernism in Vienna have developed in the same fashion had Jewish patrons not been involved This book uniquely treats Jewish identification within Viennese modernism as a matter of Jews active fashioning of a new language to convey their aims of emancipation along with their claims of cultural authority In this provocative reexamination of the roots of Viennese modernism Elana Shapira analyzes the central role of Jewish businessmen professionals and writers in the evolution of the city's architecture and design from the 1860s to the 1910s According to Shapira these patrons negotiated their relationship with their non Jewish surroundings and clarified their position within Viennese society by inscribing Jewish elements into the buildings interiors furniture and design objects that they financed produced and co designed In the first book to investigate the cultural contributions of the banker Eduard Todesco the steel tycoon Karl Wittgenstein the textile industrialist Fritz Waerndorfer the author Peter Altenberg the tailor Leopold Goldman and many others Shapira reconsiders theories identifying the crisis of Jewish assimilation as a primary creative stimulus for the Jewish contribution to Viennese modernism Instead she argues that creative tensions between Jews and non Jews patrons and designers who cooperated and arranged well choreographed social encounters with one another offer more convincing explanations for the formation of a new semantics of modern Viennese architecture and design than do theories based on assimilation This thoroughly researched and richly illustrated book will interest scholars and students of Jewish studies Vienna and Viennese culture and modernism
