visits could be seen in any sense as a language practice more specifically as a language of healing and whether Beuys could be said to have interpreted and performed notions of Celticity in these places The book reflects on the anthropological aspect of Beuys work and includes interview material with artists who worked with or met him during this time Series European Studies in Culture and Policy Vol 10 Joseph Beuys Claudia Mesch,2017-04-15 Joseph Beuys is one of the most important and controversial German artists of the late twentieth century an artist whose persona and art is so tightly interwoven with Germany's fascist past Beuys was after all a former soldier in the Third Reich that he has been a problematic figure for postwar and post reunification Germany In illuminating the centrality of trauma and the sustained investigation of the notion of art as the two defining threads in Beuys's life and art this book offers a critical biography that deepens our understanding of his many works and their contribution Claudia Mesch analyzes the aspects of Beuys's works that have most offended audiences especially the self woven legend of redemption that many have felt was a dubious and inappropriate fantasy for a former Nazi soldier to engage As she argues however Beuys's self mythology confronted post traumatic life head on foregrounding a struggle for psychic recovery Following Beuys's exhibitions in the 1970s she traces how he both expanded the art world beyond the established regional centers and paved the way for future artists interested in activism as art Exploring Beuys's expansive conceptions of what art is and following him into the realms of science politics and spirituality Mesch ultimately demonstrates the ways that his own myth making acted as a positive force in the Germany's postwar reckoning with its past The Post-Industrial Landscape as Site for Creative Practice Gwen Heeney,2018-06-11 This book brings together experts in the fields of art history visual arts music cultural geography curatorial practice and landscape architecture to explore the role of material memory in the post industrial landscape and the ways in which that landscape can act as a site for many forms of creative practice It examines the role of material memory in the siting of public artworks and politically inspired installation art within the socio economic post industrial landscape The post industrial ruin as a place for innovation in the curatorial process is also investigated as are social memory and the complexities of inscribing memory into places A number of chapters focus on photography and its important role in recording memory as transformation abandonment and erosion Artists and musicians present personal case studies examining the siting of permanent and temporary artworks which can invoke memory of both culture and place The land itself and its associated histories of post industry are explored in artistic terms investigating dislocation wasted spaces and extinction Landscape architects and cultural geographers explore the aesthetic of the urban ruin its natural and human ecologies and the re wilding of urban spaces The volume provokes discussion by a group of diverse experts on a very contemporary subject Sculptural Materiality in the Age of Conceptualism MarinR. Sullivan,2017-07-05 Sculptural Materiality in the Age of Conceptualism is structured around four distinct but interrelated projects initially realized in Italy between 1966 and 1972 Yayoi Kusama's Narcissus Garden Michelangelo Pistoletto's Newspaper Sphere Sfera di giornali Robert Smithson's Asphalt Rundown and

Joseph Beuys's Arena These works all utilized non traditional materials collaborative patronage models and alternative modes of display to create a spatially and temporally dispersed arena of matter and action with photography serving as a connective material thread within the sculpture it reflects While created by major artists of the postwar period these particular projects have yet to receive substantive art historical analysis especially from a sculptural perspective Here they anchor a transnational narrative in which sculpture emerged as a node a center of transaction comprising multiple material phenomenon including objects images and actors When seen as entangled polymorphous entities these works suggest that the charge of sculpture in the late postwar period came from its concurrent existence as both three dimensional phenomena and photographic image in the interchanges among the materials that continue to activate and alter the constitution of sculpture within the contemporary sphere

Performative monuments Mechtild Widrich, 2024-07-30 This book answers one of the most puzzling questions in contemporary art how did performance artists of the 60s and 70s famous for their opposition both to lasting art and the political establishment become the foremost monument builders of the 80s 90s and today Not by selling out nor by making self undermining monuments This book argues that the centrality of performance to monuments and indeed public art in general rests not on its ephemerality or anti authoritarian rhetoric but on its power to build interpersonal bonds both personal and social Specifically the survival of body art in photographs that cross time and space to meet new audiences makes it literally into a monument The argument of the book spans art in Austria the former Yugoslavia and Germany Valie Export Peter Weibel and the Viennese Actionists working in Austria and abroad Marina Abramovic Sanja Ivecovic and Braco Dimitrijevic working in Yugoslavia and abroad and Joseph Beuys and Jochen Gerz working in Germany and abroad These artists began by critiquing monumentality in authoritarian public space and expanded the models developed on the streets of Vienna Munich Rome Belgrade and Zagreb to participatory monuments that delegate political authority to the audience Readers interested in contemporary art politics photography and performance will find in this book new facts and arguments for their interconnection

The Reliquary Effect Cynthia Hahn, 2016-11-15 From skeletons to strips of cloth to little pieces of dust reliquaries can be found in many forms and while sometimes they may seem grotesque on their surface they are nonetheless invested with great spiritual and memorial value In this book Cynthia Hahn offers the first full survey in English of the societal value of reliquaries showing how they commemorate religious and historical events and more important inspire awe faith and for many the miraculous Hahn looks deeply into the Christian tradition examining relics and reliquaries throughout history and around the world going from the earliest years of the cult of saints through to the post Reformation response She looks at relic footprints incorrupt bodies the Crown of Thorns the Shroud of Turin and many other renowned relics and she shows how the architectural creation of sacred space and the evocation of the biblical tradition of the temple is central to the reliquary's numinous power She also discusses relics from other traditions especially from Buddhism and Islam and she even looks at how reliquaries figure in contemporary art

Fascinatingly illustrated throughout this book is a must read for anyone interested in the enduring power of sacred objects

Multidisciplinarity Luisa Santos, 2018-06-27 In Manifesto for an Independent Revolutionary Art Andr Breton and Diego Rivera under the effects of German fascism and Russian Stalinism in society argued that art can only impact society and be revolutionary if it becomes independent of any social constructs Almost six decades later in the rise of what became known as relational aesthetics the field of multidisciplinarity is expanding and many artistic projects for social change claim to be multidisciplinarity However such projects show that we are still far from a broad discourse of multidisciplinarity Multidisciplinarity takes a step towards a down to earth discussion of the relation between disciplinary discourses and grand narratives in three different projects focusing mainly on its artistic cultural and management aspects Indeed drawing from the eclectic construction of these three multidisciplinary projects this volume serves to bridge the gap between the theoretical debates of disciplinary discourses and the harshness of everyday life in communities where projects for social change are being implemented Presenting a panoptical view that places academic research side by side with daily life Multidisciplinarity unveils the bigger picture of both projects and interdisciplinary discourses This insightful volume will appeal to students and researchers interested in fields such as Project Management Multidisciplinarity Culture Studies and Organisational Studies

Applied Puppetry Matt Smith, 2024-10-03 Drawing on thirty years of making theatre with objects this field defining book maps the terrain of applied puppetry Through a range of case studies both personal and practical Matt Smith offers a reflective and engaging study which provides makers thinkers and students alike with a toolkit for thinking about and making puppetry in community settings Through eight chapters Smith muses on the nature of creativity explores approaches to puppetry through ecology and considers how puppets and objects affect the act of making and in turn how they affect those who make use and experience them in performance Along the way Applied Puppetry offers practical

Performing the East Amy Bryzgel, 2013-05-30 Performance art in Western Europe and North America developed in part as a response to the commercialisation of the art object as artists endeavoured to create works of art that could not be bought or sold But what are the roots of performance art in Eastern Europe and Russia where there was no real art market to speak of While many artworks created in the East may resemble Western performance art practices their origins as well as their meaning and significance is decidedly different By placing specific performances from Russia Latvia and Poland from the late and post communist periods within a local and international context this book pinpoints the nuances between performance art East and West Performance art in Eastern Europe is examined for the first time as agent and chronicle of the transition from Soviet and satellite states to free market democracies Drawing upon previously unpublished sources and exclusive interviews with the artists themselves Amy Bryzgel explores the actions of the period from Miervaldis Polis s Bronze Man to Oleg Kulik s Russian Dog performances Bryzgel demonstrates that in the late 1980s and early 1990s performance art in Eastern Europe went beyond the modernist critique to express ideas outside the official discourse shocking and empowering the citizenry both effecting and mirroring the social changes taking place at the time Performing the East opens the way to an urgent reassessment of the history function and meaning of performance art practices in East Central Europe

Performance and the Politics of Space Erika Fischer-Lichte, Benjamin Wihstutz, 2013 This collection asks what s at stake when a theatrical space is created and when a performance takes place under what circumstances the topology of theatre becomes political It visits a politics of inclusion and exclusion of distributions and placements and of spatial appropriation and utopian concepts in theatre history and contemporary performance

Contemporary Perspectives on Art and International Development Polly Stupples, Katerina Teaiwa, 2016-10-26 Visual artists craftspeople musicians and performers have been supported by the development community for at least twenty years yet there has been little grounded and critical research into the practices and politics of that support This new Routledge book remedies that omission and brings together varied perspectives from artists policy makers and researchers working in the Pacific Africa Latin America and Europe to explore the challenges and opportunities of supporting the arts in the development context The book offers a series of grounded analyses which cover strategies for the sustainability of arts enterprises innovative evaluation methods theoretical engagements with questions of art agency and social change artists entanglements with legal and structural frameworks processes of cultural mapping and the artist donor interface The creative economy is increasingly recognized as a driver of development and this book also investigates the contribution made by the arts to the processes of international development and considers how those processes can best be supported by development agencies Contemporary Perspectives on Art and International Development gives scholars of Development
