Farrell, 2003-11 Many artists writers and other creative people do their best work when collaborating within a circle of likeminded friends Experimenting together and challenging one another they develop the courage to rebel against the established traditions in their field Out of their discussions they develop a new shared vision that guides their work even when they work alone In a unique study that will become a rich source of ideas for professionals and anyone interested in fostering creative work in the arts and sciences Michael P Farrell looks at the group dynamics in six collaborative circles the French Impressionists Sigmund Freud and his friends C S Lewis J R R Tolkien and the Inklings social reformers Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Susan B Anthony the Fugitive poets and the writers Joseph Conrad and Ford Maddox Ford He demonstrates how the unusual interactions in these collaborative circles drew out the creativity in each member Farrell also presents vivid narrative accounts of the roles played by the members of each circle He considers how working in such circles sustains the motivation of each member to do creative work how collaborative circles shape the individual styles of the persons within them how leadership roles and interpersonal relationships change as circles develop and why some circles flourish while others flounder Conrad Without Borders Brendan Kavanagh, Grazyna Maria Teresa Branny, Agnieszka Adamowicz-Pospiech, 2022-12-01 A diverse and multinational volume this book showcases the passages of Joseph Conrad's narratives across geographical and disciplinary boundaries focusing on the transtextual and transcultural elements of his fiction. Featuring contributions from distinguished and emergent Conrad scholars, it unpacks the transformative meanings which Conrad's narratives have achieved in crossing national cultural and disciplinary boundaries. Featuring studies on the reception of Conrad in modern China, an exploration of Conrad's relationship with India, a comparative study of the hybrid art of Conrad and Salman Rushdie, and the responses of Conrad's narratives to alternative media forms, this volume brings out transtextual relations among Conrad's works and various media forms, world narratives, philosophies, and emergent modes of critical inquiry. Gathering essays by contributors from Canada, Hong Kong, India, Japan, Norway, Poland, Taiwan, the United Kingdom, and the United States, this volume constitutes an inclusive transnational networking of emergent border-crossing scholarship.

Conrad's Presence in Contemporary Culture, 2024-04-30. The anthology consists of essays authored by scholars of different nationalities from diverse cultures, nations, and primary languages. They cover Conrad's presence across multiple media: fiction, films, comics, and graphic novels. The collection is unique because the contributors focused on Conrad's presence in contemporary culture, a constantly changing field rather than well-trodden paths. The exploration of Polish, French, Italian, Spanish, English, and American works of art strengthens its originality. The artists discussed in connection with Conrad include Olga Tokarczuk, Stanisław Lem, Robert Silveberg, Loïc Godart, Christian Bobin, Christian Perrissin, Tom Tirabosco, Eduardo Berti, J. M. Coetzee, Michelangelo Antonioni. Last but not least, the volume contains 20 stunning reproductions in full colour from films, graphic novels, and comics.

A Preface to Conrad, Cedric, M.A. Ph.D. (Professor) Watts, 2014-10-20. Widely recommended, this guide to Conrad offers a vivid and incisive account of his life and literary career and gives detailed attention to the contexts, themes, problems, and paradoxes of his works.

The Life and the Art, Keith Carabine, 2022-05-20. The Life and the Art: A Study of Conrad's Under Western Eyes has a twofold origin. Over the past ten years, as an associate editor of the prospective Cambridge Edition of Under Western Eyes, the author Keith Carabine has worked on the genesis and composition of the novel in its several versions and on its literary, ideological, social, and historical contexts. At the same time, during these years, he has taught seminar courses on Conrad for undergraduates and on Conrad and Dostoevsky for postgraduates. This interpenetration of teaching and research constantly reminded the author that his many hours devoted to textual minutiae and manuscript variations or to a study of Conrad's Polish background should result not only in a scholarly edition of the novel, but in a book that will demonstrate the ways in which Conrad's life and his protracted, uncertain composition of Under Western Eyes enrich his art. And the title of this book deliberately invokes Conrad's belief in the inseparability of the art and the life. This study's six chapters concentrate in different ways and with differing emphases on the complex interrelations between the art and the life, on the intersections between Conrad's personal preoccupations, fictional aesthetic, and working practices with regard to what he described as, without doubt, the most deeply meditated novel that came from under my pen.

Public Eye John Gerard Peters, 2008 This is a collection of difficult to find and typically early commentary on Conrad's life and works. The selections contained shed light on Conrad's life and works as well as the way in which his works were promoted to the public. Selections include those by the American novelist Christopher Morley and the Irish novelist Liam O'Flaherty. Also included is a previously unpublished essay by Conrad's friend Richard Curle. Of particular interest are the promotional materials which are collected together for the first time and reveal how Conrad was perceived by the general reading public and how he was marketed by his publishers.

The Business of Literary Circles in Nineteenth-Century America D. Dowling, 2011-01-31 This comprehensive study ranges from Irving's Knickerbockers, Emerson's Transcendentalists and Garrison's abolitionists to the popular serial fiction writers for Robert Bonner's New York Ledger to unearth surprising convergences between such seemingly disparate circles.
