Conrad's European Context Andrzej Busza, 2024-04-02 On account of Conrad's tragic and fascinating life before he became a writer critics have usually offered a historical account of his early Polish years Less attention has been paid to the cultural and literary background of that period and its subsequent influence In fact initially that influence was largely ignored My aim has been not only to rectify that deficiency but to broaden the scope of the issue In addition to dealing with his Polish background the book also relates Conrad's writing to other European literary traditions notably French and Russian Exploring the extraordinary geographical and historical range of Conrad's fictional world the book examines the rhetorical and narrative strategies employed in its vividly dramatic as well as psychologically insightful depictions

Joseph Conrad and the Anthropological Dilemma John Wylie Griffith, 1995 By situating Conrad's work in relation to other writings on primitive peoples John Griffith shows how his fiction draws on prominent anthropological and biological theories regarding the degenerative potential of contacts between European and other cultures At the same time however Conrad's work reflected an anthropological dilemma he constantly posed the question of how to bridge conceptual and cultural gaps between various peoples

Literature as Dialogue Roger D. Sell, 2014-08-15 How is it that some texts achieve the status of literature Partly at least because the relationship they allow between their writers and the people who respond to them is fundamentally egalitarian This is the insight explored by members of the bo literary communication network who in this new book develop fresh approaches to literary works of widely varied provenance The authors examined have written in Ancient Greek T'ng Dynasty Chinese Middle Modern and Contemporary English German Romanian Polish Russian and Hebrew But each and every one of them is shown as having offered their human fellows something which despite some striking appearances to the contrary amounts to a welcoming invitation This their audiences have then been able to negotiate in a spirit of dialogical interchange Part I of the book poses the question How in offering their invitation have writers respected their audiences human autonomy This is the province of what bo scholars call communicational criticism Part II asks how an audience negotiating a literary invitation can be encouraged to respect the human autonomy of the writer who has offered it In bo parlance such encouragement is the task of mediating criticism These two modes of criticism naturally complement each other and in their shared concern for communicational ethics ultimately seek to further a post postmodern world that would be global without being hegemonic

New Makers of Modern

Culture Wintle Justin, 2013-05-13 New Makers of Modern Culture is the successor to the classic reference works Makers of Modern Culture and Makers of Nineteenth Century Culture published by Routledge in the early 1980s. The set was extremely successful and continues to be used to this day due to the high quality of the writing, the distinguished contributors, and the cultural sensitivity shown in the selection of those individuals included. New Makers of Modern Culture takes into full account the rise and fall of reputation and influence over the last twenty-five years and the epochal changes that have occurred: the demise of Marxism and the collapse of the Soviet Union, the rise and fall of postmodernism, the eruption of Islamic fundamentalism, the triumph of the Internet. Containing over eight hundred essay-style entries and covering the period from 1850 to the present, New Makers includes artists, writers, dramatists, architects, philosophers, anthropologists, scientists, sociologists, major political figures, composers, film makers, and many other culturally significant individuals and is thoroughly international in its purview. Next to Karl Marx is Bob Marley; next to John Ruskin is Salman Rushdie; alongside Darwin is Luigi Dallapiccola; Deng Xiaoping runs shoulders with Jacques Derrida; Julia Kristeva with Kropotkin. Once again, Wintle has enlisted the services of many distinguished writers and leading academics such as Sam Beer, Bernard Crick, Edward Seidensticker, and Paul Preston. In a few cases, for example, Michael Holroyd and Philip Larkin, contributors are themselves the subject of entries. With its global reach, New Makers of Modern Culture provides a multi-voiced witness of the contemporary thinking world. The entries carry short bibliographies, and there is thorough cross-referencing. There is an index of names and key terms.
