Journal De Prison 1959:

L'écriture du défi Anna Norris, 2003 Journal de prison, 1959 Albertine Sarrazin, 1976 African Diasporas in the New and Old Worlds Klaus Benesch, Geneviève Fabre, 2004 In the humanities the term diaspora recently emerged as a promising and powerful heuristic concept It challenged traditional ways of thinking and invited reconsiderations of theoretical assumptions about the unfolding of cross cultural and multi ethnic societies about power relations frontiers and boundaries about cultural transmission communication and translation The present collection of essays by renowned writers and scholars addresses these issues and helps to ground the ongoing debate about the African diaspora in a more solid theoretical framework Part I is dedicated to a general discussion of the concept of African diaspora its origins and historical development Part II examines the complex cultural dimensions of African diasporas in relation to significant sites and figures including the modes and modalities of creative expression from the perspective of both artists writers and their audiences finally Part III focusses on the resources collections and archives and iconographies that are available today As most authors argue the African diaspora should not be seen merely as a historical phenomenon but also as an idea or ideology and an object of representation By exploring this new ground the essays assembled here provide important new insights for scholars in American and African American Studies Cultural Studies Ethnic Studies and African Studies The collection is rounded off by an annotated listing of black autobiographies French Women Writers Eva Martin Sartori, Dorothy Wynne Zimmerman, 1994-01-01 Marie de France Mme De S vign and Mme De Lafayette achieved international reputations during periods when women in other European countries were able to write only letters translations religious tracts and miscellaneous fragments There were obstacles but French women writers were more or less sustained and empowered by the French culture Often unconventional in their personal lives and occupied with careers besides writing as educators painters actresses preachers salon hostesses labor organizers these women did not wait for Simone de Beauvoir to tell them to make existential choices and have projects in the world French Women Writers describes the lives and careers of fifty two literary figures from the twelfth century to the late twentieth All the contributors are recognized authorities Some of their subjects like Colette and George Sand are celebrated and others are just now gaining critical notice From Christine de Pizan and Marguerite de Navarre to Rachilde and H l _ne Cixous from Louise Labe to Marguerite Duras these women speak through the centuries to issues of gender sexuality and language French Women Writers now becomes widely available in this Bison Book edition Towards a Theory of Description , 1981 Playtexts Warren Motte, Jr., 2015-11 Not hubris but the ever self renewing impulse to play calls new worlds into being Nietzsche Parents and politicians have always taken play seriously Its formative powers its focus its energy and its ability to signify other things have drawn the attention of writers from Plato and Schiller to Wittgenstein Nabokov and Eco The ease with which an election becomes perceived as a race a political crisis as a football game or an argument as a tennis match readily proves how much play means to contemporary life Just how play confers meaning however is best revealed in literature where meaning is perpetually at stake At stake itself the risk of a gamble is only one intersection between play and life Playtexts reveals numerous junctures where literary playfulness seemingly so diverting and irrelevant instead opens the most profound questions about creativity community value and belief How do authors play with their words and readers Can literature proceed at all unless a reader is willing and able to play No moralizing monologue Playtexts is all for exuberance and creative surge Breton s construction of an antinovel Gombrowicz s struggle with adult formalities Nabokov s swats at the humorless Sarrazin s seductive notes Eco s recasting of spy and detective fiction Reyes s carnal metaphors
