Barbellion, 2016-01-10 Bruce Frederick Cummings 1889 1919 who wrote under the pseudonym W N P Barbellion was a naturalist who worked in the Natural History Department of the British Museum Much of his short life was overshadowed by ill health and he died shortly after the publication of his most famous work The Journal of a Disappointed Man noted for its keen observations of the world around him and its alternating moods of exhilaration and despair Two subsequent titles A Last Diary and Enjoying Life and other literary remains appeared posthumously All three plus a new introduction are contained in the present volume The Journal of a Disappointed Man W. Barellion, 2017-09-25 Wilhelm Nero Pilate Barbellion was the nom de plume of Bruce Frederick Cummings 7 September 1889 22 October 1919 an English diarist who was responsible for The Journal of a Disappointed Man Ronald Blythe called it among the most moving diaries ever created Odin s Library Classics is dedicated to bringing the world the best of humankind s literature from throughout the ages Carefully selected each work is unabridged from classic works of fiction nonfiction poetry or drama Diary Poetics Anna Jackson, 2020-08-26 The diary is a genre that is often thought of as virtually formless a capacious hold all for the writer s thoughts and as offering unmediated access to the diarist s true self Focusing on the diaries of Katherine Mansfield Virginia Woolf Antonia White Joe Orton John Cheever and Sylvia Plath this book looks at how six very different professional writers have approached the diary form with its particular demands and literary potential As a sequence of separate entries the diary is made up of both gaps and continuities and the different ways diarists negotiate these aspects of the diary form has radical effects on how their diaries represent both the world and the biographical self The different published editions of the diaries by Katherine Mansfield Virginia Woolf and Sylvia Plath show how editorial decisions can construct sometimes startlingly different biographical portraits Yet all diaries are constructed and all diary constructions depend on how the writer works with the diary form The Journal of a Disappointed Man ; &, A

Barbellion, 1984 History, 1922 Chronological coverage with articles on social political cultural economic and ecclesiastical history Book Review Section provides up to date critical analyses of up to 600 titles in each volume Multiple Sclerosis T. Jock Murray, 2004-12-01 Multiple Sclerosis The History of a Disease won a 2005 ForeWord Book of the Year Silver Medal The basic facts about multiple sclerosis are well known it is the most common neurologic disease of young adults usually beginning with episodic attacks of neurologic symptoms then entering a progressive phase some years later Its onset has an average age of 30 and occurs in about 1 in 500 individuals of European ancestry living primarily in temperate climates There appears to be a complex interaction between a genetic predisposition and an environmental trigger that initiates the disease But these facts do not convey the impact of the disease on the people whose lives it affects In this elegantly written and comprehensive history we meet individuals who suffered with MS in the centuries before the disease had a name including blessed Lidwina of Holland who took joy from her misery believing that she was sent to accept suffering for the sins of others Augustus d Est grandson of George III and cousin of Queen Victoria whose case shows how someone with access to the best of medical care of the age was understood and managed and Heinrich Heine the great German poet who also had access to all medical services that were available but who progressed into his mattress grave in two decades aware of the loss of physical ability while still able to compose great poetry to the end From these early cases the author demonstrates how progress in diagnosing and managing multiple sclerosis has paralleled the development of medical science from the early developments in modern studies of anatomy and pathology to the framing of the disease in the nineteenth century and eventually to modern diagnosis and treatment From beginning to end Dr Murray takes us on a fascinating journey of discovery in the process showing how the evolution of our understanding of multiple sclerosis has been part of the greater history of medical knowledge The Spectator, 1920 The Penguin Classics Book Henry Eliot, 2019-02-21 Shortlisted for Waterstones Book of the Year The Penguin Classics Book is a reader s companion to the largest library of classic literature in the world Spanning 4 000 years from the legends of Ancient Mesopotamia to the poetry of the First World War with Greek tragedies Icelandic sagas Japanese epics and much more in between it encompasses 500 authors and 1 200 books bringing these to life with lively descriptions literary connections and beautiful cover designs The Bookman, 1919 Virginia Woolf's Modernist Path Barbara Lounsberry, 2019-02-04 Choice Outstanding Academic Title In this second volume of her acclaimed study of Virginia Woolf s diaries Barbara Lounsberry traces the English writer s life through the thirteen diaries she kept from 1918 to 1929 what is often considered Woolf s modernist golden age During these interwar years Woolf penned many of her most famous works including Mrs Dalloway To the Lighthouse Orlando and A Room of One s Own Lounsberry shows how Woolf s writing at this time was influenced by other diarists Anton Chekhov Katherine Mansfield Jonathan Swift and Stendhal among them and how she continued to use her diaries as a way to experiment with form and as a practice ground for her evolving modernist style Through close readings of Woolf's journaling style and an examination of the diaries she read Lounsberry tracks Woolf's development as a writer and unearths new connections between her professional writing, personal writing and the diaries she was reading at the time. Virginia Woolf's Modernist Path offers a new approach to Woolf's biography, her life as she marked it in her diary from ages 36 to 46.

Comparative Criticism: Volume 12, Representations of the Self E. S. Shaffer, 1990-09-27 This volume explores a theme that has become central in our time as the death of God is widely seen to be succeeded by the death of Man. Our contributors set forth its urgency in a variety of contexts. Among these Peter Stern gives the paradigmatic history of the bereft, damaged and repudiated self in German philosophy and literature from Kleist to Ernst Jilnger. In Not I Michael Edwards pursues the theological and psychological consequences of a self without substance. Peter France supplies a witty account of the marriage of self and commerce more at home in the eighteenth century tradition of British empiricism and the challenge of Rousseau's refusal of the terms of commerce. Raman Selden explores views of the self from the Romantics to the poststructuralists. Roger Cardinal probes the secret diary as the genre, a contradiction in terms. Stephen Bann explores the representations of Narcissus in recent psychoanalytic theory. Other contributors include Pierre Dupuy, David James, Julie Scott Meisami, Gregory Blue, Mark Ogden and A. D. Nuttall.

Medicine and Modernism L. S. Jacyna, 2016-09-12 This is the first in depth study of the English neurologist and polymath Sir Henry Head 1861-1940. Head bridged the gap between science and the arts. He was a published poet who had close links with such figures as Thomas Hardy and Siegfried Sassoon. His research into the nervous system and the relationship between language and the brain broke new ground. L. S. Jacyna argues that these advances must be contextualized within wider Modernist debates about perception and language. In his time Head was best known for his research into the human nervous system. He did a series of experiments in collaboration with W. H. R. Rivers in which cutaneous nerves were surgically severed in Head's arm and the stages by which sensation returned were charted over several years. Head's friend the philosopher Alfred North Whitehead drew out the epistemological implications of how in this new conception the nervous system furthered the knowledge of the world.
