Journalism A Critical History:

Journalism Martin Conboy, 2004-05-13 Traditional news values no longer hold infotainment has the day Journalism is in a terminal state of decline Or so some contemporary commentators would argue Although there has been a great diversity in format and ownership over time Conboy demonstrates the surprising continuity of concerns in the history of journalism Questions of political influence the impact of advertising the sensationalisation of news coverage the dumbing down of the press the economic motives of newspaper owners these are themes that emerge repeatedly over time and again today In this book Martin Conboy provides a history of the development of newspapers periodicals and broadcast journalism which enables readers to engage critically with contemporary issues within the news media outlines the connections as well as the distinctions across historical periods spans the introduction of printed news to the arrival of the new news media demonstrates how journalism has always been informed by a cultural practices broader and more dynamic than the simple provision of news By situating journalism in its historical context this book enables students to more fully understand the wide range of practices which constitute contemporary journalism As such it will be an essential text for students of journalism and the media

The History of the Provincial Press in England Rachel Matthews, 2017-05-18 Regional newspapers around the globe are fighting to survive in the face of challenges to their economic model due to the constant influx of new technology At the same time while studies of the national press have created a continuous narrative on the newspaper the history of the regional press has been subject to relatively little academic scrutiny despite being a significant industry in terms of a readership circulation and profit By focusing on provincial English newspapers Matthews makes the case for the larger issue of the future of local newspapers worldwide She argues that a comprehensive approach to the history of the regional press can result in a conceptualization of the industry in terms of the shift in emphasis between the key elements of state control ownership social influence and production techniques They can be categorized into six distinct stages the local newspaper as opportunistic creation the characterization of the local newspaper as fourth estate the impact of New Journalism the growth of chain control the shock of the free paper and new technology and finally the current picture the search for a new business model

Photojournalism and Citizen Journalism Stuart Allan, 2017-06-26 If everyone with a smartphone can be a citizen photojournalist who needs professional photojournalism This rather flippant question cuts to the heart of a set of pressing issues where an array of impassioned voices may be heard in vigorous debate While some of these voices are confidently predicting photojournalism s impending demise as the latest casualty of internet driven convergence others are heralding its dramatic rebirth pointing to the democratisation of what was once the exclusive domain of the professional Regardless of where one is situated in relation to these stark polarities however it is readily apparent that photojournalism is being decisively transformed across shifting uneven conditions for civic participation in ways that raise important questions for journalism s forms and practices in a digital era This book s contributors identify and critique a range of factors currently recasting photojournalism's professional ethos devoting particular attention to the challenges posed by the rise of citizen journalism This book was originally published as two special issues in Digital Journalism and Journalism Practice

What Is Journalism For? Jon Allsop, 2025-04-08 What is at stake when journalism is threatened Does society still need journalists Journalism faces multiple threats today all over the world economic decline online disinformation the rise of AI authoritarian curbs on freedom of the press and violence against journalists In such a climate it's more urgent than ever to ask what journalism is for Drawing on his experience as a journalist and media commentator and on interviews with journalists from the US to Myanmar Jon Allsop examines key concepts that constitute journalism's role good judgement concern for truth and critical scrutiny of one or more communities Along the way he also considers the relationship between journalism and activism whether journalists should aspire to change the world and whether they can be seen as champions of democracy

The Ethical Journalist Tony Harcup, 2007 As one of the main scriptwriters of the two internal BBC training sessions which were produced following the Hutton inquiry I can heartily recommend this book Peter Stewart BBC Training Department Packed with illustrations of journalistic heroism and skulduggery This is an engaging and useful reference book and should become essential reading for serious students of journalism and for those who practise it Times Higher Education Supplement A must read for all journalists be they reporters editors or bloggers It is both a straightforward explanation of ethical dilemmas using real life examples and a subtle commentary on the state of British journalism British Journalism Review This engaging and accessible book cannot fail to inspire those who want to be good journalists in every sense of the word Journalism Practice Everything that journalists do has ethical implications and in this book Tony Harcup explores the range of issues likely to confront those studying journalism or training to become journalists The starting point for this engaging and innovative book is that ethical journalism is good journalism Building on the reflective and questioning approach of the author's acclaimed Journalism Principles and Practice this book discusses journalists' personal anecdotes alongside relevant critical studies by academics Original interviews include Andrew Gilligan on his meeting with weapons expert Dr David Kelly and Ryan Parry on being an undercover reporter in Buckingham Palace Informed by new research and the author's own experience within mainstream and alternative journalism The Ethical Journalist addresses topics such as trust the public interest deception news values source relationships crime reporting regulation and the Hutton inquiry This exciting new title discusses ethics as fundamental rather than as a set of problems or an added extra and it should become essential reading for everyone interested in journalism

The Routledge Companion to Alternative and Community Media Chris Atton, 2015-05-15 The Routledge Companion to Alternative and Community Media provides an authoritative and comprehensive examination of the diverse forms practices and philosophies of alternative and community media across the world The volume offers a multiplicity of perspectives to examine the reasons why alternative and community media arise how they develop in particular ways and in particular places and how they can enrich our understanding of the broader media landscape and its place in society The 50 chapters present a range of theoretical and methodological positions and arguments to demonstrate the dynamic challenging and innovative thinking around the subject locating media theory and practice within the broader concerns of democracy citizenship social exclusion race class and gender In addition to research from the UK the US Canada Europe and Australia the Companion also includes studies from Colombia Haiti India South Korea and Zimbabwe enabling international comparisons to be made and also allowing for the problematisation of traditional often Western approaches to media studies By considering media practices across a range of cultures and communities this collection is an ideal companion to the key issues and debates within alternative and community media Media

Professionalism and Training Sarah Niblock, 2013-12-13 In this critical interrogation of the meaning of media professionalism and the efficacy of training in the digital age Niblock presents one of the very first texts to scrutinise professional norms and question the scope of the media's power The book's synthesis of practice and theory makes it ideal for media and journalism students Anglo-American Media Interactions, 1850-2000 Joel H. Wiener, Mark

Hampton, 2007-07-11 This volume reveals the complicated ways in which British and American media have influenced each other over the past two centuries In doing so it adds an important transatlantic dimension to media scholarship while demonstrating the crucial and varied ways in which media have helped build an Anglo American special relationship The British National Daily Press and Popular Music, c.1956-1975 Gillian A.M. Mitchell, 2019-02-28 The British National Daily Press and Popular Music c 1956 1975 constitutes a reappraisal of the reactions of the national daily press to forms of music popular with young people in Britain from the mid 1950s to the 1970s including rock n roll skiffle beat group and rock music Conventional histories of popular music in Britain frequently accuse the newspapers of generating moral panic with regard to these musical genres and of helping to shape negative attitudes to the music within the wider society This book questions such charges and considers whether alternative perspectives on press attitudes towards popular music may be discerned In doing so it also challenges the tendency to perceive evidence from newspapers straightforwardly as a mere illustration of wider social trends and considers the manner in which the post war newspaper industry as a sociocultural entity in its own right responded to developments in youth culture as it faced distinctive challenges and pressures amid changing times

The Voice of the Provinces Christopher Doughan, 2019 Ireland's regional and provincial newspapers have played a largely unrecognised role in Irish history this book charts their experiences in the dramatic and sometimes violent years leading up to independence They were not immune from the conflict they risked censorship suppression prolonged closure and sometimes violent attack This book tells their story for the first time The Journalistic Imagination Richard Keeble, Sharon Wheeler, 2007-09-14 Focusing on the neglected journalism of writers more famous for their novels or plays this new book explores the specific functions of journalism within the public sphere and celebrate the literary qualities of journalism as a genre Key features include an international focus taking in writers from the UK the USA and France essays featuring a range of extremely popular writers such as Dickens Orwell Angela Carter Truman Capote and approaches them from distinctly original angles Each chapter begins with a concise biography to help contextualise the the journalist in question and includes references and suggested further reading for students Any student or teacher of journalism or media studies will want to add this book to their reading list Reconnecting Aestheticism and Modernism Bénédicte Coste,Catherine Delyfer,Christine Reynier,2016-10-04 Charting the period that extends from the 1860s to the 1940s this volume offers fresh perspectives on Aestheticism and Modernism By acknowledging that both movements had a passion for the new it goes beyond the alleged divide between Modernism and its predecessors Rather than reading the modernist credo Make it New as a desire to break away from the past the authors of this book suggest reading it as a continuation and a reappropriation of the spirit of the New that characterizes Aestheticism Basing their arguments on recent reassessments of Aestheticism and Modernism and their articulation contributors take up the challenge of interrogating the connections continuities and intersections between the two movements thus revealing the working processes of cultural and aesthetic change so as to reassess the value of the new for each Attending to well known writers such as Waugh Woolf Richardson Eliot Pound Ford Symons Wilde and Hopkins as well as to hitherto neglected figures such as Lucas Malet L S Gibbon Leonard Woolf or George Egerton they revise assumptions about Aestheticism and Modernism and their very definitions This collection brings together international scholars specializing in Aestheticism or Modernism who push their analyses beyond their strict period of expertise and take both movements into account through exciting approaches that borrow from aesthetics philosophy or economics The volume proposes a corrective to the traditional narratives of the history of Aestheticism and Modernism revitalizing definitions of these movements and revealing new directions in aestheticist and modernist studies Media and Public Spheres R. Butsch,2016-01-05 Using examples from the US Europe and Asia this collection presents empirical studies of print recorded music movies radio television and the Internet to reveal both how media structure public spheres and how people use media to participate in the public sphere Models of Communication Mats Bergman,Kęstas Kirtiklis,Johan Siebers,2019-10-16 Models of Communication offers a timely reassessment of the significance of modelling in media and communication studies From a rich variety of different perspectives the collected essays explore the past present and future uses of communication models in ordinary discourses concerning communication as well as in academic research This book challenges received views of communication models and opens up new paths of inquiry for communication research By zooming in on the manifestations and purposes of modelling in ordinary discourses on communication as well as in theoretical expositions the essays collected in this volume cast new light on the problems and prospects of models crafted for the benefit of communication inquiry Complementing earlier studies of models of communication the volume digs deep into fundamental epistemological and ontological questions concerning modelling in the communication disciplines but it also presents several novel models that promise to be of practical use in empirical studies of media and communication The book is intended for communication scholars and students of media and will also be of interest for related disciplines in the humanities and the social sciences Communication Ethics Now Richard Keeble,2008

Communication lies at the heart of human experience After all we know about our world largely through communication We consume books advertisements photographs letters newspapers magazines and the broadcast media This book draws together pieces from the 2005 volume of Ethical Space Journal Global humanitarianism and media culture Michael Lawrence,Rachel Tavernor,2019-01-21 This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY NC ND open access license This collection interrogates the representation of humanitarian crisis catastrophe and care

Contributors explore the refraction of humanitarian intervention from the mid twentieth century to the present across a diverse range of media forms including screen media film television and online video newspapers memoirs music festivals and social media platforms notably Facebook YouTube and Flickr Examining the historical cultural and political contexts that have shaped the mediation of humanitarian relationships since the middle of the twentieth century the book reveals significant synergies between the humanitarian enterprise the endeavour to alleviate the suffering of particular groups and its media representations particularly in their modes of addressing and appealing to specific publics The Media, Political Participation and Empowerment Richard Scullion,Roman Gerodimos,Daniel Jackson,Darren Lilleker,2013-07-18

Technological cultural and economic forces are transforming political communication posing challenges and opportunities for politicians and media organisations while at the same time many governments and civil society express concerns about the extent and nature of political empowerment and civic engagement This book offers an international perspective on current thinking and practice about civic and audience empowerment focusing on the ways and means through which media can empower or dis empower citizens as audiences It features theoretical and empirical chapters that draw specific attention to a reappraisal of the theories methods and issues that inform our understanding of citizens and audiences in contemporary politics The authors address the following questions How much and what sorts of civic and audience empowerment are most desirable and how does this differ cross nationally How do citizens relate to private and public spaces How do citizens function in online networked liminal and alternative spaces How do audiences of non political media spaces relate their experiences to politics How are political parties and movements utilising audiences as co creators of political communication and what are the consequences for democracy With examples from the UK USA Holland France Germany The Middle East South Africa and Mexico this innovative volume will be of interest to students and scholars of political science marketing journalism cultural studies public relations media and international relations News Jackie Harrison,2005-11-10 Written in a clear and lively style with examples across a range of media including print radio television and the internet Jackie

Harrison explains the different theoretical approaches that have been used to study news The SAGE International Encyclopedia of Mass Media and Society Debra L. Merskin,2019-11-12 The SAGE International Encyclopedia of Mass

Media and Society discusses media around the world in their varied forms newspapers magazines radio television film books music websites social media mobile media and describes the role of each in both mirroring and shaping society This encyclopedia provides a thorough overview of media within social and cultural contexts exploring the development of the mediated communication industry mediated communication regulations and societal interactions and effects This reference work will look at issues such as free expression and government regulation of media how people choose what media to watch listen to and read and how the influence of those who control media organizations may be changing as new media empower previously unheard voices The role of media in society will be explored from international multidisciplinary perspectives via approximately 700 articles drawing on research from communication and media studies sociology anthropology social psychology politics and business Poverty and Protest as Public Discourse during the Cotton Crisis Rachel

Broady, 2024-12-16 This book constitutes the first book length study of journalistic responses to poverty and protest during the Lancashire cotton crisis The cotton crisis of 1861 1865 is a popular subject in history culture and education Workers voices are comprehensively studied in terms of newspapers publishing fiction and poetry and the broader political response to the crisis the American Civil War and British workers support of Lincoln s Emancipation Proclamation They are though overlooked in terms of journalistic representation of workers Ironically discussions of the cotton crisis including where efforts are made to assess the workers experience have consistently relied upon journalism as primary sources and the first witness of history without assessing the news copy s political unconscious This lack of attention is especially apparent when considering workers challenging poverty through dedicated protest Amid the celebrated workers opposition to slavery and their sublime heroism as noted by American President Abraham Lincoln there were less studied local struggles for financial help for education and for the vote
