queer culture and public life in Canada Versed in queer social history as well as leading edge gay and lesbian studies queer theory and post colonial studies In a Queer Country confronts queer culture from various perspectives relevant to international audiences Topics range from the politics of the family and spousal rights to queer black identity from pride parade fashions to lesbian park rangers Life Writing and Literary Métissage as an Ethos for Our Times Erika Hasebe-Ludt, Cynthia Chambers, Carleton Derek Leggo, 2009 This book introduces literary m tissage as a way to research teach and live ethically with all our relations in our precarious times The authors theorize and perform literary m tissage through the praxis of life writing braiding their autobiographical texts in various mixed genres into seven themes Life Writing and Literary M tissage as an Ethos for Our Times explores this writing praxis with its more inclusive and generative notions of knowledge and knowledge practices as a tool for creating more just societies and schools Passionate Communities Marilyn R. Schuster, 1999-06 In this new full length study of Jane Rule s life and work Marilyn Schuster argues that Rule s novels provide a way of writing and reading lesbian that resists and subverts dominant discourses of gender and sexuality both those of mainstream culture and of political and sexual subcultures From her earliest novel Desert of the Heart 1964 Rule s fiction has provided a challenge to the concept of a fixed identity and to the identity politics founded on such a concept Incorporating all of Jane Rule s early work including unpublished manuscripts letters magazine and newspaper columns as well as fan mail she received Schuster also draws on interviews conversations and personal encounters with the author to elicit the ways in which Rule interrogates the meanings and politics of sexuality the relationship between sexuality and language and the stakes of communities in individual claims on identity Passionate Communities is a thorough engaging and long overdue study of an important voice in lesbian literature and gay and lesbian politics Cultural Studies and Environment, Revisited Phaedra. C Pezzullo, 2013-10-31 The environment is perhaps most misunderstood as a static place somewhere out there separated from the practices of our everyday lives Given this assumption environmental movements and concerns have remained mostly marginalized or denigrated in cultural studies publications conferences and presentations Recent global developments have made changing this oversight and at times direct resistance to engaging environmental concerns a new priority This edited collection illustrates an appreciation of the dynamic palpable and significant ways the environment permeates culture and vice versa as well as a collective commitment to the ways that cultural studies has more to offer and to learn from taking environmental matters to heart Like foundational categories of identity economics and historical context this collection reminds us why the environment is and should be considered relevant to any work done in the name of cultural studies Including research from four continents and across media the authors offer insights on timely topics such as food tourism human animal relations forests queer theory indigenous rights and water This book was published as a special issue of Cultural Studies The Canadian Short Story Reingard M. Nischik, 2007 Beginning in the 1890s reaching its first full realization by modernist writers in the 1920s and brought to its heyday during the Canadian Renaissance starting in the 1960s the short story has become Canada's flagship genre. It continues to attract the country's most accomplished and innovative writers today among them Margaret Atwood, Mavis Gallant, Alice Munro, Carol Shields and many others. Yet in contrast to the stature and popularity of the genre and the writers who partake in it, surprisingly little literary criticism and theory has been devoted to the Canadian short story. This collection redresses that imbalance by providing the first collection of critical interpretations of a range of thirty well-known and often anthologized Canadian short stories from the genre's beginnings through the twentieth century. A historical survey of the genre introduces the volume and a timeline comparing the genre's development in Canada, the US and Great Britain via representative examples completes it. The collection is geared both to specialists in and to students of Canadian literature. For the latter it is of particular benefit that the volume provides not only a collection of interpretations but a comprehensive introduction to the history of the Canadian short story.

Reingard M. Nischik is professor and chair of American Literature at the University of Constance, Germany. Interpreting Censorship in Canada Allan C. Hutchinson, Klaus Petersen, 1999-01-01. Socially organized activity cannot occur without censorship. Going beyond ideological arguments, this collection of essays explores the extent of censorship in Canada today, the forms censorship takes and the interests it serves.

A History of Canadian Literature W.H. New, 2003-08-06. New offers an unconventionally structured overview of Canadian literature from Native American mythologies to contemporary texts. Publishers Weekly. A History of Canadian Literature looks at the work of writers and the social and cultural contexts that helped shape their preoccupations and direct their choice of literary form. W. H. New explains how, from early records of oral tales to the writing strategies of the early twenty-first-century writer, reader, literature and society are interrelated. New discusses both Aboriginal and European mythologies, looking at pre-Contact narratives and also at the way Contact experience altered hierarchies of literary value. He then considers representations of the real, whether in documentary, fantasy or satire, historical romance and the social construction of Nature and State and ironic subversions of power, the politics of cultural form and the relevance of the media to a representation of community, standard and individual voice. New suggests some ways in which writers of the later twentieth century codified such issues as history, gender, ethnicity and literary technique itself. In this second edition, he adds a lengthy chapter that considers how writers at the turn of the twenty-first century have reimagined their society and their roles within it and an expanded chronology and bibliography. Some of these writers have spoken from and about various social margins, dealing with issues of race, status, ethnicity and sexuality; some have sought emotional understanding through strategies of history and memory; some have addressed environmental concerns and some have reconstructed the world by writing across genres and across different media. All genres are represented with examples chosen primarily but not exclusively from anglophone and francophone texts. A chronology, plates and a series of tables supplement the commentary.

AIDS: Setting A Feminist Agenda Lesley Doyal, Jennie Naidoo, Tamsin Wilton, 2018-12-07. AIDS: Setting a Feminist Agenda presents an overview of the important issues raised for feminist theory and practice by the HIV AIDS epidemic and outlines the direction in which feminist debates about the subject are developing It makes essential links between feminism and HIV AIDS work and not only demonstrates that AIDS is a feminist issue but also suggests areas where feminism is long overdue The essays discuss medical issues the specific social and political impact of HIV AIDS on the lives of women of colour lesbians injecting drug users and prostitute women And Current Health Educational And Health Promotional Practice As It relates to women The volume is theoretical and practical suggesting theoretical models for understanding and challenging the social factors which are conducive to the spread of HIV among women and among men as well as offering models of good practice for working with and for women Women's Words Mary Biggs, 1996 A L A Booklist
