Jones, 2008 Although curriculum based assessment CBA has been on the horizon for a number of years there has been a need for a practical classroom based approach for its implementation This second edition is a major revision and update that offers practical and specific methods for developing and using CBAs in an educational setting It gives educators a highly specific step by step approach to building CBAs in the area of reading word recognition reading comprehension content reading mathematics and written expression Each chapter offers detailed easy to read and easy to follow instructions for the assessment construction process To further clarify the process extensive examples are given in table format A unique feature of the text is the manner in which the author illustrates the principles of CBA by providing a case study on one student which is referred to in each chapter Its formative assessment approach gives the teacher additional detailed information about students' OCO performance which in turn should guide the type of instruction designed and implemented ultimately leading to higher performance on summative outcome measures Additionally detailed information is provided on subject area CBA construction the creation and implementation of a district wide CBA system for response to intervention and how to use IDEA S response to intervention in student evaluation      Houghton Mifflin Mathematics [level 4] Ernest Rowland Duncan, 1983
