The Country Houses of John F. Staub Stephen Fox, 2007 This ambitious study of Staub's work by architectural historian Stephen Fox goes beyond a description of Staub's houses Fox analyzes the roles of space structure and decoration in creating defining and maintaining social class structures and expectations and shows how Staub was able to incorporate these elements and understandings into the elegant buildings he designed for his clients In the process he contributes greatly to a fuller understanding of Houston's emergence as a premier American city BOOK JACKET      The Architect and Engineer of California, Pacific Coast States ,1916      Handbook of Urban Landscape Cliff Tandy, 2013-10-22 Handbook of Urban Landscape deals with aspects most related to architecture while at the same time it aims to serve the landscape profession itself Because the field of landscape work is so wide the present handbook is limited to urban landscape The handbook can be used at three levels Its technical studies and reviews form a general guide to current thought on the design of various kinds of open space its design guide and information sheets are a daily reference for the landscape design process and through its sources and references readers can obtain background information or more specific guidance on particular aspects This handbook is intended as a desk side guide for all designers of urban space including architects landscape architects planners and engineers and for students of these professions It should also help to improve understanding of the work and procedures of landscape architects so that all who use them as consultants will be better equipped to brief them

Architectural Record ,1915      Our Homes and Gardens ,1925      A Pattern Language Christopher Alexander, 2018-09-20 You can use this book to design a house for yourself with your family you can use it to work with your neighbors to improve your town and neighborhood you can use it to design an office or a workshop or a public building And you can use it to guide you in the actual process of construction After a ten year silence Christopher Alexander and his colleagues at the Center for Environmental Structure are now publishing a major statement in the form of three books which will in their words lay the basis for an entirely new approach to architecture building and planning which will we hope replace existing ideas and practices entirely The three books are The Timeless Way of Building The Oregon Experiment and this book A Pattern Language At the core of these books is the idea that people should design for themselves their own houses streets and communities This idea may be radical it implies a radical transformation of the architectural profession but it comes simply from the observation that most of the wonderful places of the world were not made by architects but by the people At the core of the books too is the point that in designing their environments people always rely on certain languages which like the languages we speak allow them to articulate and communicate an infinite variety of designs within a forma system which gives them coherence This book provides a language of this kind It will enable a person to make a design for almost any kind of building or any part of the built environment Patterns the units of this language are answers to design problems How high should a window sill be How many stories should a building have How much space in a neighborhood should be devoted to grass and trees More than 250 of the patterns in this pattern language are given each consists of a problem statement a discussion of the problem with an illustration and a solution As the authors say in their introduction many of the patterns are archetypal so deeply rooted in the nature of things that it seems likely that they will be a part of human nature and human action as much in five hundred years as they are today The Villa Gardener John

Claudius Loudon,1850 Early Modern Women in the Low Countries Susan Broomhall,Jennifer Spinks,2016-05-13 Combining historical historiographical museological and touristic analysis this study investigates how late medieval and early modern women of the Low Countries expressed themselves through texts art architecture and material objects how they were represented by contemporaries and how they have been interpreted in modern academic and popular contexts Broomhall and Spinks analyse late medieval and early modern women s opportunities to narrate their experiences and ideas as well as the processes that have shaped their representation in the heritage and cultural tourism of the Netherlands and Belgium today The authors study female authored objects such as familial and political letters dolls houses account books visual sources funeral monuments and buildings commissioned by female patrons and further artworks as well as heritage sites streetscapes souvenirs and clothing with gendered historical resonances Employing an innovative range of materials from written sources to artworks material objects heritage sites and urban precincts the authors argue that interpretations of late medieval and early modern women s experiences by historians and art scholars interact with presentations by cultural and heritage tourism providers in significant ways that deserve closer interrogation by feminist researchers The Villa Gardener ... Second Edition, Edited by Mrs. Loudon John Claudius Loudon,1850 Arts & Decoration ,1916 Floor Plan Manual Housing Oliver Heckmann,Friederike Schneider,2017-10-10 Revised edition of the reference work The Floor Plan Manual Housing has for decades been a seminal work in the field of architecture In its 5th revised and expanded edition approximately 160 international housing projects built after 1945 are documented and analyzed The focus is on exemplary and transferrable projects and on innovative and trendsetting concepts The systematic representation of all projects allows the reader to compare and evaluate various floor plans and to be inspired by the wealth of ideas and strategies for one s own design work The introductory theoretical and historical essays have been newly written or updated and offer a structured overview of the residential housing typology and its development Fifth revised edition with new projects and contributions With upgraded visual appearance and a new key color Access to the content is facilitated by various index functions
