Probing the depths of science and faith scientist Chet Raymo investigates the mysteries of human spirituality and meaning contained in astronomy Ranging through the stars and the myths humans have told about them for millennia Raymo delves into a pilgrimage in quest of the soul of the night Chet Raymo's elegant essays link the mysterious phenomena of the night sky with the human mind and spirit as he ranges through the realms of mythology literature religion history and anthropology Originally published two decades ago The Soul of the Night is a classic work that is a must for those interested in the relationship between science and faith

Music as Theology Maeve Louise Heaney, 2012-09-01 The conversation between music and theology dormant for too long in recent years is at last gathering pace And rightly so There will always be theologians who will regard music as a somewhat peripheral concern too trivial to trouble the serious scholar and in any case almost impossible to engage because of its notorious resistance to words and concepts But an increasing number are discovering again what many of our forbears realized centuries ago that the kinship between this pervasive feature of human life and the search for a Christian intelligence of faith is intimate and ineradicable Maeve Heaney's ambitious wide ranging and energetic book pushes the conversation further forward still Her approach is unapologetically theological grounded in the passions and concerns of mainstream doctrinal theology And yet she is insisting that music must be given its due place in the ecology of theology Although convinced that music should not be set up as a rival to linguistic or conceptual articulation let alone swallow up traditional modes of theological language and thought she is equally convinced that music is an irreducible means of coming to terms with the world a unique vehicle of world disclosure and as such can generate a particular form of understanding there are things which God may only be saying through music If this is so it is incumbent on the theologian to listen Jeremy Begbie from the Foreword

The Crowning of a Poet's Quest Paola Loreto, 2009 This first extended study of Derek Walcott's Tiepolo's Hound 2000 defines the book as the culmination of the poetry and poetic of the Caribbean writer and Nobel Prize winner In this long poem Walcott achieves three goals pursued throughout his career to develop an original Caribbean aesthetic to meld the modes of poetry and prose and to formulate the Bildung of the island artist in terms of an autobiographical narrative The analysis provides an aesthetic and cultural evaluation of the poem in terms both of the Western poetic tradition to which it refers through its rich intertextuality and of its significance as a postcolonial milestone The commentary locates Walcott in an aesthetic tradition running from Emerson through the American Pragmatists to modernist poets describes his experimental use of certain central narrative strategies in his semi autobiographical long poems which is compared to those of another openly admired bilingual writer Vladimir Nabokov explores Walcott's revision of the epic mode and of the genre of autobiography delineates his unfolding of a post Romantic internalization of the poet's Arthurian quest and discusses his complex treatment of the multi layered metaphor of light as major evidence of the maturity of his style and poetic with their conscious cross fertilization between the literary cultures of Europe and the Caribbean An appendix to this study contains the transcriptions of various Walcott events that took place in Italy in the summers of 2000 and 2001 including a creative writing seminar a press conference and readings This extensive material opens a window onto Walcott's gifts as a teacher to his stringent yet passionate commitment to the art of poetry and to the ways in which he and his students grapple with the challenges of literary translation Going beyond the Pairs Dennis McCort, 2001-06-21 Argues that German Romanticism Zen Buddhism and deconstruction for all their cultural differences are three expressions of a universal vision Selected Poems of Pablo Neruda Pablo Neruda, 1961 Collection of poems by the Chilean poet contains analysis The New Life Orhan Pamuk, 1997-04-08 A novel on Turkey featuring a group of students infatuated with a book One of them has even abandoned his studies to make copies by hand so others can share it It is never made clear what the book contains but while the young are enthusiastic their elders think the contents are degenerate another example of foreign influence ruining the country The Cambridge Handbook of American Literature Jack Salzman, 1986-08-29 The Cambridge Handbook of American Literature offers a compact and accessible guide to the major landmarks of American literature *Mayor's Annual Message and the ...
