House And Home In The Victorian City:

House and Home in the Victorian City Martin J. Daunton, 1984      The Cambridge Urban History of Britain Peter Clark, David Michael Palliser, Martin J. Daunton, 2000 The process of urbanisation and suburbanisation in Britain from the Victorian period to the twentieth century      Crime Control and Everyday Life in the Victorian City David Churchill, 2017 The history of modern crime control is usually presented as a narrative of how the state wrested control over the governance of crime from the civilian public Most accounts trace the decline of a participatory discretionary culture of crime control in the early modern era and its replacement by a centralized bureaucratic system of responding to offending The formation of the new professional police forces in the nineteenth century is central to this narrative henceforth it is claimed the priorities of criminal justice were to be set by the state as ordinary people lost what authority they had once exercised over dealing with offenders This book challenges this established view and presents a fundamental reinterpretation of changes to crime control in the age of the new police It breaks new ground by providing a highly detailed empirical analysis of everyday crime control in Victorian provincial cities revealing the tremendous activity which ordinary people displayed in responding to crime alongside a rich survey of police organization and policing in practice With unique conceptual clarity it seeks to reorient modern criminal justice history away from its established preoccupation with state systems of policing and punishment and move towards a more nuanced analysis of the governance of crime More widely the book provides a unique and valuable vantage point from which to rethink the role of civil society and the state in modern governance the nature of agency and authority in Victorian England and the historical antecedents of pluralized modes of crime control which characterize contemporary society      The Victorian City Harold James Dyos, Michael Wolff, 1999 Victorian City is a study of the social and intellectual attitudes of Victorian society to the challenge of urbanization      The Victorian City Judith Flanders, 2014-07-15 From the New York Times bestselling and critically acclaimed author of The Invention of Murder an extraordinary revelatory portrait of everyday life on the streets of Dickens London The nineteenth century was a time of unprecedented change and nowhere was this more apparent than London In only a few decades the capital grew from a compact Regency town into a sprawling metropolis of 6.5 million inhabitants the largest city the world had ever seen Technology railways street lighting and sewers transformed both the city and the experience of city living as London expanded in every direction Now Judith Flanders one of Britain's foremost social historians explores the world portrayed so vividly in Dickens novels showing life on the streets of London in colorful fascinating detail From the moment Charles Dickens the century's best loved English novelist and London's greatest observer arrived in the city in 1822 he obsessively walked its streets recording its pleasures curiosities and cruelties Now with him Judith Flanders leads us through the markets transport systems sewers rivers slums alleys cemeteries gin palaces chop houses and entertainment emporia of Dickens London to reveal the Victorian capital in all its variety vibrancy and squalor From the colorful cries of street sellers to the uncomfortable reality of travel by omnibus to the many uses for the body parts of dead horses and the unimaginably grueling working days of hawker children no detail is too small or too strange No one who reads Judith Flanders's meticulously researched captivantly written The Victorian City will ever view London in the same light again The Poverty of Planning Benno Engels,2021-01-15 Using a neo Marxian perspective Benno Engels examines the absence of urban planning in nineteenth century England In his analysis of urbanization in England Engels considers the influences of property owners inheritance laws local government structures fiscal crises of the local and central state shifts in voter sentiments fluctuating economic conditions and class based pressure group activity A History of Housing in New York City Richard Plunz,2016-10-18 Since its emergence in the mid nineteenth century as the nation's metropolis New York has faced the most challenging housing problems of any American city but it has also led the nation in innovation and reform The horrors of the tenement were perfected in New York at the same time that the very rich were building palaces along Fifth Avenue public housing for the poor originated in New York as did government subsidies for middle class housing A standard in the field since its publication in 1992 A History of Housing in New York City traces New York's housing development from 1850 to the present in text and profuse illustrations Richard Plunz explores the housing of all classes with comparative discussion of the development of types ranging from the single family house to the high rise apartment tower His analysis is placed within the context of the broader political and cultural development of New York City This revised edition extends the scope of the book into the city's recent history adding three decades to the study covering the recent housing bubble crisis the rebound and gentrification of the five boroughs and the ecological issues facing the next generation of New Yorkers More than 300 illustrations are integrated throughout the text depicting housing plans neighborhood changes and city architecture over the past 130 years This new edition also features a foreword by the distinguished urban historian Kenneth T Jackson Houses for All Jill Wade,1994-01-01 Houses for All is the story of the struggle for social housing in Vancouver between 1919 and 1950 It argues that however temporary or limited their achievements local activists played a significant role in the introduction implementation or continuation of many early national housing programs Ottawa's housing initiatives were not always unilateral actions in the development of the welfare state The drive for social housing in Vancouver complemented the tradition of housing activism that already existed in the United Kingdom and to a lesser degree in the United States The British Working Class 1832-1940 Andrew August,2014-06-11 In this insightful new study Andrew August examines the British working class in the period when Britain became a mature industrial power working men and women dominated massive new urban populations and the extension of suffrage brought them into the political nation for the first time Framing his subject chronologically but treating it thematically August gives a vivid account of working class life between the mid nineteenth and mid twentieth centuries examining the issues and concerns central to working class identity Identifying shared patterns of experience in the lives of workers he avoids the limitations of both traditional historiography dominated by economic determinism and party politics and the revisionism which too readily dismisses the importance of class in British society

Houses and Society in Pompeii and Herculaneum Andrew Wallace-Hadrill, 2022-05-10 Few sources reveal the life of the ancient Romans as vividly as do the houses preserved by the eruption of Vesuvius Wealthy Romans lavished resources on shaping their surroundings to impress their crowds of visitors The fashions they set were taken up and imitated by ordinary citizens In this illustrated book Andrew Wallace Hadrill explores the rich potential of the houses of Pompeii and Herculaneum to offer new insights into Roman social life Exposing misconceptions derived from contemporary culture he shows the close interconnection of spheres we take as discrete public and private family and outsiders work and leisure Combining archaeological evidence with Roman texts and comparative material from other cultures Wallace Hadrill raises a range of new questions How did the organization of space and the use of decoration help to structure social encounters between owner and visitor man and woman master and slave What sort of households did the inhabitants of the Roman house form How did the world of work relate to that of entertainment and leisure How widely did the luxuries of the rich spread among the houses of craftsmen and shopkeepers Through analysis of the remains of over two hundred houses Wallace Hadrill reveals the remarkably dynamic social environment of early imperial Italy and the vital part that houses came to play in defining what it meant to live as a Roman

A World of Their Own Making John R. Gillis, 1997 Discusses ritual events we regard as family traditions and how they must be open to perpetual revision so we can satisfy our human needs and changing circumstances

The City as a Work of Art Donald J. Olsen, 1986-01-01 Examines public buildings and homes in nineteenth century London Paris and Vienna and explains how each city reflected the characteristic lifestyle of its population

The Making of Our Urban Landscape Geoffrey Tyack, 2022-03-02 Britain was the first country in the world to become an essentially urban country And England is still one of the most urbanized countries in the world The town and the city is the world that most of us inhabit and know best But what do we actually know about our urban world and how it was created The Making of the English Urban Landscape tells the story of our towns and cities and how they came into being over the last two millennia from Roman and Anglo Saxon times through the Norman Conquest and the later Middle Ages to the great rebuilding in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries the polite townscapes of the eighteenth and the commercial and industrial towns and cities of the nineteenth and early twentieth century The final chapter then takes the story from the end of the Second World War to the present from the New Towns of the immediate post war era to the trendy converted warehouses of Shoreditch This is a book that will make the world you live in come alive If you are a town or a city dweller you are unlikely ever to look at the everyday world around you in quite the same way again

Housing and Dwelling Barbara Miller Lane, 2006-11 A collection of thought provoking essays on the changing face of domestic architecture over two centuries highlighting the wide range of source materials and theoretical perspectives available to scholars of architectural history
