Household Conveniences:

Household Conveniences Byron David Halsted, 1884 All the Modern Conveniences Maureen Ogle, 1996 Until 1840 indoor plumbing could be found only in mansions and first class hotels Then in the decade before mid century Americans representing a wider range of economic circumstances began to install household plumbing with increasing eagerness Ogle draws on a wide assortment of contemporary sources sanitation reports builders manuals fixture catalogues patent applications and popular scientific tracts to show how the demand for plumbing was more by an emerging middle class culture of convenience reform and domestic life than by fears about poor hygiene and inadequate sanitation She also examines advancements in water supply and waste management technology the architectural considerations these amenities entailed and the scientific approach to sanitation that began to emerge by century s end Household Conveniences and How to Make Them Jack McConnell, Lyons Press, 2001-09 Time honored devices for improving simplifying household chores maintenance first published in 1884 The Business of the Household Clarence Wilbur Taber, Sophronia Maria Elliott, 1926 The Domestic House Planner, and The Sanitary Architect , 1891 Rebuilding the Rural Southern Community Mary S. Hoffschwelle, 1998 In this book Mary Hoffschwelle shines a much needed light on the efforts of rural reformers She focuses on Tennessee because its varied geography and the large number of rural reform programs it hosted make it a particularly rich subject for study Also the state typified the burdens of poverty and racial division that characterized the South as a whole and as the author shows such problems attracted considerable attention from reformers

Children's Bureau, Robert Morse Woodbury, Sophonisba Preston Breckinridge, 1921 The Library of Home Economics: The house, its plan, decoration and care , 1907 Annual Report General Motors Corporation, 1929 Measuring Social and Economic Change in Rural Russia David J. O'Brien, V. V. Patsiorkovskii, 2006-01-01 Measuring Social and Economic Change in Rural Russia is based upon nine household surveys in seven rural regions of Russia from 1991 to 2003 including a four wave panel study over an eight year period The findings that O'Brien and Patsiorkovsky share in this important work are the only long term indicators of how ordinary people have learned to adapt to an economic system that was thrust upon them when the Soviet Union collapsed Three main themes are explored the relationship between formal and informal institutional change regional responses to reforms and the impact of household labor social networks and community involvement and physical capital on inequality in material social and psychological conditions This comprehensive study s conceptual and interdisciplinary approach will appeal to anyone interested in the transition of countries from socialist to market economies

Guidelines on the Collection of Demographic and Socio-economic Information on Fishing Communities for Use in Coastal and Aquatic Resources Management Lolita V. Villareal, Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2004-01-01 These guidelines specify key indicators for the identification of demographic issues in coastal area management and for monitoring the impact of management measures on the socio economic well being of coastal and fishing communities The guidelines also identify data sources and methods for the collection of data Case studies on the use of demographic data in coastal area management in Italy and the United States of America and a summary of the proceedings of a regional workshop on the use of demographic data in coastal area management in the Philippines and other Southeast and South Asian countries provide practical examples of how demographic indicators are used Putting the Barn Before the House Grey Osterud,2012-03-27 Putting the Barn Before the House features the voices and viewpoints of women born before World War I who lived on family farms in south central New York As she did in her previous book Bonds of Community for an earlier period in history Grey Osterud explores the flexible and varied ways that families shared labor and highlights the strategies of mutuality that women adopted to ensure they had a say in family decision making Sharing and exchanging work also linked neighboring households and knit the community together Indeed the culture of cooperation that women espoused laid the basis for the formation of cooperatives that enabled these dairy farmers to contest the power of agribusiness and obtain better returns for their labor Osterud recounts this story through the words of the women and men who lived it and carefully explores their views about gender labor and power which offered an alternative to the ideas that prevailed in American society Most women saw putting the barn before the house investing capital and labor in productive operations rather than spending money on consumer goods or devoting time to mere housework as a necessary and rational course for families who were determined to make a living on the land and if possible to pass on viable farms to the next generation Some women preferred working outdoors to what seemed to them the thankless tasks of urban housewives while others worked off the farm to support the family Husbands and wives as well as parents and children debated what was best and negotiated over how to allocate their limited labor and capital and plan for an uncertain future Osterud tells the story of an agricultural community in transition amid an industrializing age with care and skill Farmer's Advocate and Home Magazine ,1904 Studies of Family Living in the United States and Other Countries Faith Moors Williams,Carle Clark Zimmerman,1935 Studies of Family Living in the United States and Other Countries Charles Edwin Kellogg,Edward Norfolk Munns,Faith Moors Williams,Herbert Spencer Barber,James Donald MacLean,Carle C. Zimmerman,1935 This publication is the fourth in a series designed to aid in the recognition and identification of pathological conditions of economic importance affecting fruits and vegetables in the channels of marketing to facilitate the market inspection of these food products and to prevent losses from such conditions The Journal of Home Economics ,1914 A Study of Home and Farm Conditions Affecting a Joint Program of Agriculture and Home Economics Robert Emmett Cammack,1927
