The Villas and Riads of Morocco Corinne Verner,2005-07-19 The austere facades that line the labyrinthine streets of

Morocco's ancient walled neighborhoods reveal almost nothing of the luminous residences within. The Villas and Riads of Morocco lifts the veil on these secret paradises from fantastic palaces in Fez and Essaouira to middle class riads in Marrakech to converted casbahs in the southern oases. With more than 200 stunning photographs this beautiful volume takes us behind the scenes to explore a side of Morocco that is largely hidden to outsiders. The book showcases exquisite interiors that combine rich materials such as cedar and marble, luxurious carpets and textiles, filigree carving and other handiwork and vibrant color palettes. Also featured is the remarkable mosaicwork found especially in the central courtyard gardens and patios that form the heart of the Moroccan house. Accompanying these sumptuous views is a vivid history of the country's residential architecture and its fascinating mix of Andalusian, Arab and Saharan influences. The Villas and Riads of Morocco not only offers a feast for the eyes but also illuminates an entire culture.

Culture and Society in Tourism Contexts

Antonio Migu Nogues-Pedregal, 2012-11-05 This book strives to understand the social and cultural dynamics in Mediterranean tourist destinations through ethnographic examples from Greece, Spain, Egypt, France, Malta and Crete. It observes and examines the social, cultural and relational processes involved as migrants, tourists and new residents converge with locals in daily life. The Report: Morocco 2019 Oliver Cornock, A number of key developments in the country are expected to support economic growth in the coming years. A rapidly improving business environment and infrastructural base, the gradual liberalisation of the local currency and increased investment into export oriented industries are all set to raise living standards and drive the emergence of a large national middle class.

Hired Daughters Mary

Montgomery, 2019-02-19 Hired Daughters examines a fading tradition of domestic service in which rural girls familiar to ordinary Moroccan families were placed in their homes until marriage. In this tradition of bringing up the girls are considered daughters of the house and part of their role in the family is to help with the housework. Gradually this tradition is transforming into one in which workers unfamiliar to their host families are paid a wage and may not stay long but where the Islamic ethics of charity, religious reward and gratitude still inform expectations on both sides. Mary Montgomery examines why Moroccans so often talk about their domestic workers as daughters, what this means for workers and employers and how this is changing in contemporary Morocco. Prioritizing the experiences and perspectives of these women, Montgomery charts the tension that has developed between socially embedded, loyal domestic workers who operate within narratives of kinship and obligation and women who seek greater individualization, privacy and self empowerment. Hired Daughters offers a nuanced understanding of a world that bridges public and private morality and money, family and outsiders. In doing so it provides an intimate consideration of contemporary Moroccan households as economic enterprises and sites of navigation between the traditional and the global. LONELY PLANET MARRAKESH. LONELY PLANET., 2023 The Rammed Earth House David Easton, Cynthia Wright, 2007 This book is an example of how dramatic innovations frequently have their origins in the distant past. By rediscovering the most ancient of all building materials, earth, homebuilders can now create structures that set new standards for beauty durability and extraordinarily efficient use of natural resources Rammed earth marks a step into a sustainable future when houses combine aesthetics and practicality with a powerful sense of place The solid masonry walls permit design flexibility while providing year round comfort and minimal need for added heating or cooling From the equatorial tropics to the coldest northern latitudes the builder and resident of a rammed earth house will experience the satisfaction of creating permanence in a world dominated by the disposable
