

HOUSING IS HEALTH

“Your zip code is a better predictor of your health than your genetic code.”

— Melody Goodman, assistant professor at Washington University

HOUSING IMPACTS ASTHMA | DID YOU KNOW?

- Older houses with mold, pests, contaminants, and lead paint can be a trigger for asthma.
- For children, exposure to air pollution is a key driver of the development of asthma, along with poor quality housing (through mold exposure), second hand smoke, diet and obesity and socioeconomic status.¹
- Poverty, air pollution, and high numbers of medicine use are the key risk factors that have placed Cleveland at the top of the Asthma and Allergy Foundation of America's (AAFA) report.²
- The Asthma and Allergy Foundation of America (AAFA) analyzes eight risk factors that can influence asthma outcomes: poverty, lack of health insurance, air pollution, pollen count, long-term controller medicine use, quick-relief medicine use, smoke-free laws, and access to asthma specialists.²
- Black and indigenous populations experience higher rates of asthma morbidity, asthma attacks, and asthma related healthcare utilization.³
- Black, Latinx, and Indigenous populations are more likely to be exposed to higher levels of pollutants, occupational and environmental hazards, and poorer housing quality than white counterparts.³

Housing Asthma:

Housing and Asthma Stirling Howieson, 2005 Asthma is on the rise in a number of countries in this volume Howieson asks what role the built environment has to play and what the construction industry can do to either slow the increase or reverse the trend Based on the findings of a six year research project this book considers all aspects of housing to develop new strategies for dealing with the asthma pandemic in Britain and beyond With the focus on the design and use pattern of our dwellings the book looks at tackling the problems inherent in existing housing as well as forging guiding principles for the design of new dwellings together with a financial assessment of the proposals Ethical Considerations for Research on Housing-Related Health Hazards Involving Children Institute of Medicine, National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Board on Children, Youth, and Families, Committee on Ethical Issues in Housing-Related Health Hazard Research Involving Children, Youth, and Families, 2005-12-10 Ethical Considerations for Research on Housing Related Health Hazards Involving Children explores the ethical issues posed when conducting research designed to identify understand or ameliorate housing related health hazards among children Such research involves children as subjects and is conducted in the home and in communities It is often conducted with children in low income families given the disproportionate prevalence of housing related conditions such as lead poisoning asthma and fatal injuries among these children This book emphasizes five key elements to address the particular ethical concerns raised by these characteristics involving the affected community in the research and responding to their concerns ensuring that parents understand the essential elements of the research adopting uniform federal guidelines for such research by all sponsors Subpart D of 45 CFR 46 providing guidance on key terms in the regulations and viewing research oversight as a system with important roles for researchers IRBs and their research institutions sponsors and regulators of research and the community Housing and Health Gill Paramjit, Gilles De Wildt, 2017-11-22 Housing is an important determinant of health This book provides a concise overview of the impact of housing policy and the effect of housing on health It covers the issues of homelessness and health collaboration between organisations in delivering housing needs and focusses on the role of primary care teams as part of the Primary Care Trusts It will be of interest to all members of primary care organisations especially those concerned with health and social policy including clinicians nurses psychologists managers statutory and voluntary housing organisations policy makers shapers and influencers The Affordable Housing Reader Elizabeth Mueller, J. Rosie Tighe, 2022-07-14 This second edition of The Affordable Housing Reader provides context for current discussions surrounding housing policy emphasizing the values and assumptions underlying debates over strategies for ameliorating housing problems experienced by low income residents and communities of color The authors highlighted in this updated volume address themes central to housing as an area of social policy and to understanding its particular meaning in the United States These include the long history of racial exclusion and the role that public policy has played in racializing access to decent housing and well serviced neighborhoods the tension between the economic and social goals of housing policy and the role that housing plays in various aspects of the lives of low and moderate income residents

Scholarship and the COVID 19 pandemic are raising awareness of the link between access to adequate housing and other rights and opportunities This timely reader focuses attention on the results of past efforts and on the urgency of reframing the conversation It is both an exciting time to teach students about the evolution of United States housing policy and a challenging time to discuss what policymakers or practitioners can do to effect positive change This reader is aimed at students professors researchers and professionals of housing policy public policy and city planning

Alter, Preeti Dalawari, Kelly M. Doran, Maria C. Raven, 2021-09-06 Social Emergency Medicine incorporates consideration of patients social needs and larger structural context into the practice of emergency care and related research In doing so the field explores the interplay of social forces and the emergency care system as they influence the well being of individual patients and the broader community Social Emergency Medicine recognizes that in many cases typical fixes such as prescriptions and follow up visits are not enough the need for housing a safe neighborhood in which to exercise or socialize or access to healthy food must be identified and addressed before patients health can be restored While interest in the subject is growing rapidly the field of Social Emergency Medicine to date has lacked a foundational text a gap this book seeks to fill This book includes foundational chapters on the salience of racism gender and gender identity immigration language and literacy and neighborhood to emergency care It provides readers with knowledge and resources to assess and assist emergency department patients with social needs including but not limited to housing food economic opportunity and transportation

Core emergency medicine content areas including violence and substance use are covered uniquely through the lens of Social Emergency Medicine. Each chapter provides background and research implications and recommendations for practice from the bedside to the hospital healthcare system and beyond and case studies for teaching Social Emergency Medicine. Principles and Practice is an essential resource for physicians and physician assistants, residents, medical students, nurses, and nurse practitioners, social workers, hospital administrators, and other professionals who recognize that high quality emergency care extends beyond the ambulance bay. Textbook of Children's Environmental Health Ruth A.
