Johnny Novel:

A Johnny Novel Robert Richard, 1997 A Johnny Novel is a daring beautiful book that skirts the surreal while ironically inserting itself into the contemporary conflict between knowledge literature and the body The different sections of this novel work are three streams that converge to form one flowing river of words that in the end whisk the characters away toward an ending as unexpected as it is spectacular

Private Eyes Robert Allen Baker, Michael T. Nietzel, 1985 Private Eyes is the complete map to what Raymond Chandler called the mean streets the exciting world of the fictional private eye It is intended to entertain current PI fans and to make new ones

Sidney Lumet Frank R. Cunningham, 2014-10-17 Since 1957 Sidney Lumet the most prolific American director of his generation has deepened audiences awareness of social ethical and feminist issues through such distinguished films as 12 Angry Men The Verdict Running on Empty and Critical Care Especially praised for his literary adaptations including Long Day s Journey into Night and Murder on the Orient Express Lumet has also directed such trenchant urban films as Dog Day Afternoon Serpico and Network In this new edition Frank Cunningham expands his analysis of Lumet s earlier films and examines his most recent work from A Stranger Among Us 1992 to Gloria 1999 Also new to this edition are discussions of five other films including The Appointment Murder on the Orient Express and Running on Empty Cunningham studies in depth over thirty of Lumet s most significant films and surveys other films and the television productions to reveal their enduring artistic and humanistic importance

Science Fiction Television Series, 1990-2004 Frank Garcia, Mark Phillips, 2013-09-27 This is a detailed examination of 58 science fiction television series produced between 1990 and 2004 from the popular The X Files to the many worlds of Star Trek The Next Generation onward as well as Andromeda Babylon 5 Firefly Quantum Leap Stargate Atlantis and SG I among others A chapter on each series includes essential production information a history of the series critical commentary and amusing often provocative interviews with overall more than 150 of the creators actors writers and directors The book also offers updates on each series regular cast members along with several photographs and a bibliography Fully indexed

Representations of Child Soldiers in Contemporary African Narratives Ademola Adesola, 2024-09-11 In Representations of Child Soldiers in Contemporary African Narratives Ademola Adesola examines the dominant factors that writers privilege in their portrayals of child soldiering in sub Saharan Africa In his textual interpretive analyses of selected novels in the African child soldier genre Adesola contends that critical discussions of African child soldier literature have depended on the interpretive frameworks supplied by Western humanitarian discourses which oversimplify and de historicize experiences of war in Africa The author argues that such reductive decontextualization of war realities serve to champion a narrow vision of war in African contexts centered on a moral and humanitarian urge for Western intervention Regardless of whether the casus belli legitimating those wars are genuine or not those conflicts and children s involvement in them are understood within the same racist colonial and ethnocentric stereotypes about Africa that have been privileged in Western thought and the Western moral political imagination for centuries Thus in studying African child soldier narratives this book provides an alternative reading of novels whose settings feature African ethnopolitical conflicts such as in Sierra Leone Liberia Congo Brazzaville Nigeria notable for their exploitation of children for military ends The author maintains that these works are significant in the varying ways they reify and challenge the Western ideas of child and childhood as well as privilege child soldiers as social actors whose intricate makeups disavow being simply understood as innocent victims or irredeemable perpetrators of atrocities

Melancholia and Maturation Eric L. Tribunella, 2010-01-15 Coming of age in children's fiction often means achieving maturity through the experience of trauma In classics ranging from Old Yeller to The Outsiders a narrative of psychological pain defies expectations of childhood as a time of innocence and play In this provocative new book Eric L. Tribunella explores why trauma especially the loss of a loved object occurs in some of the most popular and critically acclaimed twentieth century American fiction for children Tribunella draws on queer theory and feminist revisions of Freud's notion of melancholia which is described as a fundamental response to loss arguing that the low grade symptoms of melancholia are in fact what characterize the mature sober and responsible American adult Melancholia and Maturation looks at how this effect is achieved in a society that purports to protect youngsters from every possible source of danger thus requiring melancholia to be induced artificially Each of the book's five chapters focuses on a different kind of lost object sacrificed so as to propel the child toward a distinctively gendered sexual ethical and national adulthood from same sex friends to the companionship of boy and his dog stories from the lost ideals of historical fiction about the American Revolution to the children killed or traumatized in Holocaust novels The author examines a wide spectrum of works including Jack London's dog tales the contemporary realistic novels of S. E. Hinton and Newbery Medal winners like Johnny Tremain and Bridge to Terabithia Tribunella raises fundamental questions about the value of children's literature as a whole and provides context for understanding why certain books become required reading for youth Eric L. Tribunella is assistant professor of English at the University of Southern Mississippi His articles have been published in Children's Literature Association Quarterly Children's Literature in Education The Lion and the Unicorn A Critical Journal of Children's Literature and Children's Literature The Spectator, 1890 Everything I Need to Know I Learned from a Children's Book Anita Silvey, 2009-10-13 What children's book changed the way you see the world Anita Silvey asked this question to more than one hundred of our most respected and admired leaders in society and she learned about the books that shaped financiers actors singers athletes activists artists comic book creators novelists illustrators teachers The lessons they recall are inspiring instructive and illuminating And the books they remember resonate as influential reading choices for families EVERYTHING I NEED TO KNOW I LEARNED FROM A CHILDREN'S BOOK with its full color excerpts of beloved children's books is a treasury and a guide a collection of fascinating essays and THE gift book of the year for families Unity in Barsetshire Hugh L. Henneidy, 2019-01-29 No detailed description available for Unity in Barsetshire Mediating Violence from Africa George S. MacLeod, 2023-10

Mediating Violence from Africa explores how African and non African Francophone authors filmmakers editors and scholars have packaged interpreted and filmed the violent histories of post Cold War Francophone Africa This violence much of which unfolded in front of Western television cameras included the use of child soldiers facilitated by the Soviet Union s castoff Kalashnikov rifles the rise of Islamist terrorism in West Africa and the horrific genocide against the Tutsi in Rwanda Through close readings of fictionalized child soldier narratives cinematic representations of Islamist militants genocide survivor testimony and Western scholarship George S MacLeod analyzes the ways Francophone African authors and filmmakers as well as their editors and scholarly critics negotiate the aesthetic political cultural and ethical implications of making these traumatic stories visible MacLeod argues for the need to periodize these productions within a post Cold War framework to emphasize how shifts in post 1989 political discourse are echoed contested or subverted by contemporary Francophone authors filmmakers and Western scholars The questions raised in Mediating Violence from Africa are of vital importance today How the world engages with and responds to stories of recent violence and loss from Africa has profound implications for the affected communities and individuals More broadly in an era in which stories and images of violence from terror attacks to school shootings to police brutality are disseminated almost instantly and with minimal context these theoretical questions have implications for debates surrounding the ethics of representing trauma the politicization of memory and Africa s place in a global as opposed to a postcolonial or Euro African economic and political landscape

Victorian Vulgarities Susan David Bernstein, Elsie Browning Michie, 2009 In Victorian England vulgarity first used to define language use and class position became implicated in behavior material possessions sexuality and race Victorian Vulgarities explores vulgarity s troubled history through dictionaries and grammars essays journalism and visual art and fiction by Dickens Eliot Gissing and Trollope Neither dismissing nor reveling in vulgarity s myriad temptations the contributors invite readers to consider the concept s implications for today s writers and artists

Child-sized History Sara L. Schwebel, 2011 The classroom canon of young adult novels in historical context

Succeeding Postmodernism Mary K. Holland, 2013-04-25 While critics collect around the question of what comes after postmodernism this book asks something different about recent American fiction what if we are seeing not the end of postmodernism but its belated success Succeeding Postmodernism examines how novels by DeLillo Wallace Danielewski Foer and others conceptualize threats to individuals and communities posed by a poststructural culture of mediation and simulation and possible ways of resisting the disaffected solipsism bred by that culture Ultimately it finds that twenty first century American fiction sets aside the postmodern problem of how language does or does not mean in order to raise the reassuringly retro question of what it can and does mean it finds that novels today offer language as solution to the problem of language Thus it suggests a new way of reading antihumanist late postmodern fiction and a framework for understanding postmodern and twenty first century fiction as participating in a long and newly enlivened tradition of humanism and realism in literature

The Routledge Companion to Theatre-Fiction Graham Wolfe, 2023-11-14 Novelists have long been attracted to theatre Some have pursued success on the stage but many have sought to combine these worlds entering theatre through their fiction setting stages on their novels pages and casting actors directors and playwrights as their protagonists The Routledge Companion to Theatre Fiction has convened an international community of scholars to explore the remarkable array of novelists from many eras and parts of the world who have created fiction from the stuff of theatre asking what happens to theatre on the pages of novels and what happens to novels when they collaborate with theatre From J W Goethe to Louisa May Alcott Mikhail Bulgakov Virginia Woolf and Margaret Atwood some of history's most influential novelists have written theatre fiction and this Companion discusses many of these figures from new angles But it also spotlights writers who have received less critical attention such as Dorothy Leighton Agust n de Rojas Villandrando Ronald Firbank Syed Mustafa Siraj Li Yu and Vicente Blasco Iba ez bringing their work into conversation with a vital field A valuable resource for students scholars and admirers of both theatre and novels The Routledge Companion to Theatre Fiction offers a wealth of new perspectives on topics of increasing critical concern including intermediality theatricality antitheatricality mimesis diegesis and performativity Strange Narrators in Contemporary Fiction Marco Caracciolo, 2016-12-01 A storyteller's craft can often be judged by how convincingly the narrative captures the identity and personality of its characters In this book the characters who take center stage are strange first person narrators they are fascinating because of how they are at odds with what the reader would wish or expect to hear while remaining reassuringly familiar in voice interactions and conversations

Combining literary analysis with research in cognitive and social psychology Marco Caracciolo focuses on readers encounters with the strange narrators of ten contemporary novels including Bret Easton Ellis s American Psycho Haruki Murakami s Hard Boiled Wonderland and the End of the World and Mark Haddon s The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night Time Caracciolo explores readers responses to narrators who suffer from neurocognitive or developmental disorders who are mentally disturbed due to multiple personality disorder or psychopathy whose consciousness is split between two parallel dimensions or is disembodied who are animals or who lose their sanity A foray into current work on reception reader response cognitive literary study and narratology Strange Narrators in Contemporary Fiction illustrates why any encounter with a fictional text is a complex negotiation of interlaced feelings thoughts experiences and interpretations
