Vande Kappelle,2023-01-04 Everyone loves a good story one with interesting characters an intriguing plot lots of twists and turns and a surprise ending Storytelling is an entertaining art but it is also instructive and essential to intellectual moral and spiritual growth Literature as all art is a gift of divine grace a pathway to mystery Each literary experience is slightly beyond our horizon of understanding What a gift literature is When it enhances spirituality each literary moment confounds in order to keep us going and growing The restoration of wonder is the beginning of the inward journey toward the awaiting God Soul Food contains stories that are both entertaining and inspiring wholesome and heart warming Some are humorous others are tragic or sad but all are memorable The collection is divided into five sections 1 personal stories 2 biblical and faith stories 3 classic stories fables and tales 4 literary and historical stories and 5 inspirational stories Some of these stories come from personal experience my own and that of family and friends Others including myths legends fantasies and tales come from folklore and oral tradition while others are taken from the public domain As you read these stories sequentially or randomly I trust they will aid you in your quest for meaning direction and stability Enjoy these stories and may they enhance your journey through life and its manifold seasons I hope you will return to this collection repeatedly finding in these stories courage wisdom and inspiration

Lost in the Customhouse Jerome Loving, 2005-08 In this spirited challenge to dominant American literary criticism Jerome Loving extends the traditional period of American literary rebirth to the end of the nineteenth century and argues for the intrinsic value of literature in the face of new historicist and deconstructionist readings Bucking the trend for prophetic and revisionist interpretations Loving discusses the major work of the last century's canonized writers as restorative adventures with the self and society From Washington Irving to Theodore Dreiser Loving finds the American literary tradition filled with narrators who keep waking up to the central scene of the author's real or imagined life They travel through a customhouse of the imagination in which the Old World experience of the present is taxed by the New World of the utopian past where life is always cyclical instead of linear and ameliorative Loving argues that the central literary experience in nineteenth century America is the puritanical desire for the time before the loss of innocence that endless chance of coming into experience anew Lost in the Customhouse begins with a discussion of Irving Hawthorne Melville Poe Thoreau and Emerson and finds these seminal Renaissance writers waking up primarily to psychological facts which blossomed into the fiction of a self begotten out of the nothingness of experience In part 2 Loving shifts his attention to the urbanization of the American imagination and discusses Whitman Twain Dickinson James Chopin and Dreiser Here the dream driven impulse is more clearly influenced by social history abolition women's suffrage industrialization and the growth of professionalism Loving focuses upon the role of the woman who finds herself on the same frontier as her male precursors with nothing but a carpetbag that is to say the American ego Throughout the study Loving challenges the notion that American literature is preponderately cultural work In the epilogue he packs up his own carpetbag and passes through the European customhouse to find that American writers are more readily perceived as literary geniuses outside of their culture than within it
