Josephite Story:

Never See a Need Marie Therese Foale, 2016-06-30 Never See a Need is an account of the lives and works of the Sisters of St Joseph of the Sacred Heart in South Australia from the time of their foundation in 1866 until Mary MacKillop's canonisation in 2010. Much happened during those 144 years. There were dark times and bright times, times of growth and expansion interspersed with times of decline, times of stability and times of change, and through it all the members of the Congregation never forgot their call to do what they could to remedy the evils and ills of their society. They were educators but they also looked out for the welfare of the poor and disadvantaged in different ways as they moved across the landscape to wherever they were needed, always a people on the move but always stable in their devotion to their ministry. A

Priceless Treasure Marie Crowley, 2017-01-11 In July 1872 three Sisters of St Joseph and one lay woman arrived at The Vale, a village near Bathurst, New South Wales. They had come from Adelaide in response to an invitation from the Catholic bishop of Bathurst to establish a foundation of the newly founded Congregation in his diocese, the first Josephite foundation in New South Wales. Sister Teresa McDonald was the leader or Superior of the founding community. Born in Scotland in 1838, she had come to Australia with her parents, finally settling in Adelaide. A friend of both Father Julian Tenison Woods and Mother Mary MacKillop, she joined the Sisters of St Joseph in 1867. This book explores her early life and her time as a Sister of St Joseph in Adelaide, where she served as the first Provincial of the Congregation in South Australia. It also gives particular attention to Teresa's short years at The Vale, her struggle with ill health and her death in January 1876. The

Josephite Story Marie Therese Foale, 1989 What Does it Mean to be a Saint? Josephine Laffin, 2010 In 2010 Mary MacKillop became the first Australian citizen to be officially proclaimed a saint by the Catholic Church. This event and the long canonisation process which preceded it has received much coverage in the Australian media. Yet confusion persists over what exactly it means to be a saint. In this book, scholars from the Catholic Theological College of South Australia and the Flinders University School of Theology share reflections from different perspectives: historical, biblical, philosophical, theological, ethical, spiritual, liturgical, and personal. Veneration of St Mary MacKillop is set in the context of a tradition which can be traced back to Christian martyrs in the ancient Roman Empire, and which it is argued is still meaningful today. St

Joseph's Island Josephine Margaret Brady, 2012-08-30 There has been little written about Tenison Woods, who as a significant figure in Australian Catholic Church life at the time of St Mary MacKillop, Australia's first Catholic Saint. This is a story about the work of the Sisters of St Joseph, an Australian Catholic Religious Order of women founded by St Mary MacKillop in Tasmania. An intriguing story of a group of women who were not part of the Centralised Josephite Sisters under Mary MacKillop, who for a variety of reasons were under the diocesan Catholic Bishop in Tasmania. The book documents their 125-year history from foundation right through to Vatican approval of the being brought under the Federation of Josephite Sisters in Australia. Ireland's Empire Colin Barr, 2020-01-16 Examines the complex relationship between Roman Catholicism

History of British and Irish Catholicism, Volume IV Carmen M. Mangion, Susan O'Brien, 2023-09-01 After 1830

Catholicism in Britain and Ireland was practised and experienced within an increasingly secure Church that was able to build a national presence and public identity. With the passage of the Catholic Relief Act (Catholic Emancipation) in 1829 came civil rights for the United Kingdom's Catholics which in turn gave Catholic organisations the opportunity to carve out a place in civil society within Britain and its empire. This Catholic revival saw both a strengthening of central authority structures in Rome creating a more unified transnational spiritual empire with the person of the Pope as its centre and a reinvigoration at the local and popular level through intensified sacramental, devotional and communal practices. After the 1840s Catholics in Britain and Ireland not only had much in common as a consequence of the Church's global drive for renewal but the development of a shared Catholic culture across the two islands was deepened by the large scale migration from Ireland to many parts of Britain following the Great Famine of 1845. Yet at the same time as this push towards a degree of unity and uniformity occurred there were forces which powerfully differentiated Catholicism on either side of the Irish Sea. Four very different religious configurations of religious majorities and minorities had evolved since the sixteenth century Reformation in England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales. Each had its own dynamic of faith and national identity and Catholicism had played a vital role in all of them either as other or in the case of Ireland as the majority's self. Identities of religion, nation and empire and the intersection between them lie at the heart of this volume. They are unpacked in detail in thematic chapters which explore the shared Catholic identity that was built between 1830 and 1913 and the ways in which that identity was differentiated by social class, gender and above all, nation. Taken together, these chapters show how Catholicism was integral to the history of the United Kingdom in this period. 'Femininity' and the History of Women's Education Tim

Allender, Stephanie Spencer, 2020-12-18 This book draws on recent deconstructions around the idea of femininity as a social, racial and class construct and explores the diversity of spaces that may be defined as educational that range from institutional contexts to family to professional outlooks to racial identity to defining community and religious groupings. It explores how notions of femininity change across time and place and within individual lives. Such changes take place at the interface of external forces and individual agency. The application of the notion of femininity that assumes a consistent definition of the term is interrogated by the authors leading to a discussion of the rich possibilities for new directions in research into women's lives across time, place and individual life histories. God's 'Good Time' Mary Cresp, 2013-12-31

Sisters of St Joseph Clare Ahern and Anne Boland joined the Aboriginal community at Yaruman Ringer Soak on the edge of the Great Sandy Desert, Western Australia in 1984. How could they relate in a real way to ideas in the Gospel that depended on an understanding of a foreign, middle eastern culture? After reflection and prayer, the following became the central message: Mark 1:15 This is the word Jesus gave to everyone. He called it Good News. God is going to change things. A good time is coming close up for everyone. Be sorry for the bad things you do. Keep thinking good things in your heart. Do these good things Believe the good word I tell you that a good time is coming up for everyone Do you have a belief in the Rights of others and the passion commitment and dedication to help make these Rights a reality Then this book is an exceptional read I urge you to read enjoy and advocate to make our world a better place for everyone Dr Alitya Rigney Dip T P S M      Sacred Threads Katharine Massam,1996 Three sections explore the complex lives of ordinary people who continually made choices about the way they expressed their faith Part one begins with a brief survey of the context of lay Catholics in Adelaide and Perth between 1922 and 1962 considering the place of Catholics in wider society and      Old Testament History for Use in Schools Walter Fletcher Burnside,1904      The Story of Suzanne Aubert Jessie Munro,2009 Reissue of bestselling biography Published by Bridget Williams Books This beautifully written story of a radical nun who founded a religious congregation sold thousands of copies when it won the Book of the Year award in the 1997 Montana Book Awards Suzanne Aubert grew up in a French provincial family in the mid nineteenth century Lyon s Catholic missionary spirit brought her to live with Maori girls in war anxious 1860s Auckland She nursed Maori and Pakeha in Hawke s Bay as the settler population swelled Later living up the Whanganui River at Jerusalem she set up New Zealand s home grown Catholic congregation published a significant Maori text broke in a hill farm manufactured medicines and gathered babies and children through the family fracturing years of economic depression The turn of the century sent her windswept skirts through the streets of the capital city There she would be a constant sign of political commitment and caring for people of all creeds and none until she died in 1926 If any New Zealand book has earned the label long awaited it is this one This is a superb book scrupulously researched stylishly written generously illustrated and rewarding to read Most importantly it speaks to our times Michael King New Zealand Listener      Mary MacKillop 1873 Sheila McCreanor,2017-12-31 This is the sixth collection to be published It focusses on the time not long after Mary MacKillop s excommunication when she was encouraged to go to Rome to seek approval for the Rule of the Sisters of St Joseph Mary set off alone travelling incognito with little money and no knowledge of where to stay or how she would travel Her letters and her diary during 1873 show her amazing trust in the Providence of God as well as her very human feelings of loneliness her worry about the Sisters back in Australia and her delight in visiting the holy places especially St Peter s Basilica Little did Mary MacKillop dream that in 2010 thousands would gather in St Peter s Square to see her photo hanging from the Basilica as she was proclaimed a Saint by Pope Benedict XVI
