Jottings Of A Genius:

Jottings of a Genius Dennis Peck, 1986      The Jottings of David Daube David Daube, Calum M. Carmichael, 2008 One of the great legal minds of our time Daube's depth of scholarship in a range of subjects ancient literature English literature ancient law medical ethics much more was matched by a dazzling agility and originality of mind for instance though raised in an Orthodox Jewish home he produced strikingly original work on the New Testament David Daube's life spanned almost the entire 20th century and he was witness to its history Born a Jew in Germany in 1909 he spent World War II and its aftermath in Britain on the faculties of Cambridge Aberdeen and Oxford He came to the United States in the 60s to the University of California at Berkeley where he revelled in what he called the unmanicured unclubbable countercultural attitudes Through it all he never lost his love for the land of his birth though it didn't love him back for many years he was on Hitler's list of those to be put to death once Germany had conquered England Not your typical fusty professor he was a brilliant and charming commentator on matters personal political social and philosophical The reader of these jottings set down in the 1970s and 80s will understand within a page or two why those who knew him treasured him as a friend mentor and intellectual provocateur These private reflections gathered by one of his most distinguished students are charming insightful thought provoking sometimes profound and sometimes just amusing His commentaries on political and social issues of his time ranged from bravely original thought on Israel and the Palestinians to an amusing and enlightening review of the sensational porn film Deep Throat Here are some sample jottings I love women They provide the unhappiness that I need in life People are more struck by the asininity of the law when they are trapped by it than when they are let off We are all of us survivors all the time everything that is is a survivor relative to what has fallen by the wayside Naturally having escaped from Hitler's clutches myself I am a bit more alive to the whole business than the average guy The book's editor Calum Carmichael Professor of Comparative Literature and Adjunct Professor of Law at Cornell has degrees in science historical theology and law from the Universities of Glasgow Edinburgh and Oxford He teaches biblical and cognate Near Eastern and Talmudic literature as well as courses on law and literature in antiquity He is the author of nine books that focus primarily on biblical law the editor of a six volume series devoted to the work of David Daube who was his teacher at Oxford and the author of a memoir Ideas and the Man Remembering David Daube      Proofs of Genius Amanda Gailey, 2015-10-19 The first extensive study of the collected edition as an editorial genre and its obscured role in shaping the American literary canon      The Life of Emily Dickinson Richard B. Sewall, 1994 A massively detailed illustrated biography of Emily Dickinson      Progress, 1878

The Westminster Papers Anonymous, 2024-01-29 Reprint of the original first published in 1875      Museum of Space Peter Boyle, 2004 Questioning what it means to be human lies at the heart of this new collection by Peter Boyle These are poems which intuit that a certain kind of looking is required in order to see It is a gaze that has retained its human innocence despite belonging to one who has grown aware through knowledge experience and understanding This innocence is the space one must retain in oneself in order to be filled and refilled with life These poems make this space available to anyone who is willing with Boyle to accept that the truth of being alive only enters us endlessly when there seems to be nothing left to enter us MTC CRONIN Boyle cuts with a sharp scalpel into the hidden bag of desires dreams and fears we drag behind us exposing a repressed world waiting to be retrieved His poetry comes directly from the unconscious and is still capable of speaking its dark language His questions are straightforward but the answers are not What temperature is the box Cold but there are small glints of burning as well This is the voice of a mature poet who knows how to calmly illuminate the human shadow MIGUEL GOMES The Yale Literary Magazine ,1866 The Rhetoric of Science Alan G. Gross,1990 Alan Gross applies the principles of rhetoric to the interpretation of classical and contemporary scientific texts to show how they persuade both author and audience This invigorating consideration of the ways in which scientists from Copernicus to Darwin to Newton to James Watson establish authority and convince one another and us of the truth they describe may very well lead to a remodeling of our understanding of science and its place in society Westminster Papers ,1875

Henry James as a Biographer Willie Tolliver, 2014-02-04 This study of Henry James's biographies of Nathaniel Hawthorne and William Wetmore Story offers an argument that he deserves greater recognition for his contributions to the development of biography based on his implicit theory of biography found in his critical commentary and on these two complicated and ultimately artistically innovative performances in the genre Although James maintained an ambivalent relationship to the art of biography in his reviews criticism letters and fiction he wrote about biography from a core of aesthetic conviction that constitutes an informal poetics It is necessary thus to scrutinize the ways in which James's theoretical convictions particularly his insistence on artistic unity fail him when he writes two biographies himself Both Hawthorne 1879 and William Wetmore Story and His Friends 1903 fail to cohere in the way traditional biographies achieve unity Neither work has at its center a dynamic and fully dimensional apprehension of the biographical subject Instead James violates one of his own essential biographical tenets He usurps his subject and places himself at the center of what should be a narrative of his subject's life The results fall short of fully achieved biography but they do not fall short of literary interest In order to write these books according to his own genius James had to reinvent the form They are rife with innovations chief among them his great experimentation with narrative point of view here brought to bear on biography This concept and others survey the terrain for the important biographical practitioners and theorists who follow him For this reason a special place must be found for James in pantheon of experimental biographers
