Journalism And Human Development Making Of The Global Newsperson:

Journalism and Human Development Rabin Khemchand, 2000      Journalism and Journalism Education in Developing Countries Beatrice Dernbach, Beate Illg, 2020-02-17 Free and fair media are at the heart of any democratic set up A thriving field of journalism and zealous and ethical journalists in that sense become torch bearers of a brighter and promising tomorrow In this light the status of journalists the most important actors in the field becomes increasingly important as a matter of study They act as gatekeepers of information that is flooding in the era of new media a wave that is not so new anymore Their roles remain intact and even becomes prominent in the chaos of many to many communication Not concentrating on specific countries selected contributions in the book reflect on the developments of media and journalism education across different countries Introducing the book with an overview about the state of the art of journalism education and the research on a meta level the book moves on to talk about media studies in the Asian countries and in Arab world the African States and Brazil This book is an interesting read for all those who care about a vital media landscape and an open democratic society The recent economic and social developments present both opportunities and risks for journalism Freedom of expression and freedom of press even in democratic countries are under pressure This book provides an international perspective on the different aspects of journalism the situation in which journalists work their working conditions educational backgrounds struggles and successes It is aimed at an international public interested in the field of journalism and freedom of speech It addresses journalists trainers and academics Furthermore institutions in the field of development cooperation education or cultural policy and cultural education are the focus of this work Though the book is focused on journalism and journalism education in developing countries contributions are from across the globe      The New World of Transitioned Media Gali Einav, 2014-10-01 The media industry is undergoing an accelerated pace of change driven in large part by the proliferation of digital platforms In many cases the speed of adoption has exceeded our ability to process the impact of these changes on individuals and society at large This book provides a behind the scenes look at the media industry's transition into the digital era and examines its impact on marketing advertising innovation and other economic and social activities The impact of digital technologies on traditional media sectors such as advertising video games film and television is well documented Less understood is its effect on our perceptions thought processes and inter personal relationships Social media for example represents a fundamental change in the ways we interact with media communicate with each other and even present ourselves to the world This has shaped the way we communicate with institutions and brands Similar to the first Transitioned Media book Transitioned Media A Turning Point into the Digital Realm this book combines media industry leaders and academics to explore various transformative trends and issues Themes include measuring cross platform behaviour artificial intelligence in journalism the evolution of video games digital media and physical space the mobile use trends social media and the corporate world the changes in the television and newspaper business and the evolving relationship between advertisers and target audiences The varied backgrounds of contributors and array of topics make for a unique and insightful point of view      Making the University Matter Barbie Zelizer,2012-03-29

Making the University Matter investigates how academics situate themselves simultaneously in the university and the world and how doing so affects the viability of the university setting The university stands at the intersection of two sets of interests needing to be at one with the world while aspiring to stand apart from it In an era that promises intensified political instability growing administrative pressures dwindling economic returns and questions about economic viability lower enrolments and shrinking programs can the university continue to matter into the future And if so in which way What will help it survive as an honest broker What are the mechanisms for ensuring its independent voice Barbie Zelizer brings together some of the leading names in the field of media and communication studies from around the globe to consider a multiplicity of answers from across the curriculum on making the university matter including critical scholarship interdisciplinarity curricular blends of the humanities and social sciences practical training and policy work The collection is introduced with an essay by the editor and each section has a brief introduction to contextualise the essays and highlight the issues they raise      The Global Journalist in the 21st Century David H. Weaver,Lars Willnat,2020-10-25

The Global Journalist in the 21st Century systematically assesses the demographics education socialization professional attitudes and working conditions of journalists in various countries around the world This book updates the original Global Journalist 1998 volume with new data adding more than a dozen countries and provides material on comparative research about journalists that will be useful to those interested in doing their own studies The editors put together this collection working under the assumption that journalists backgrounds working conditions and ideas are related to what is reported and how it is covered in the various news media round the world in spite of societal and organizational constraints and that this news coverage matters in terms of world public opinion and policies Outstanding features include Coverage of 33 nations located around the globe based on recent surveys conducted among representative samples of local journalists Comprehensive analyses by well known media scholars from each country A section on comparative studies of journalists An appendix with a collection of survey questions used in various nations to question journalists As the most comprehensive and reliable source on journalists around the world The Global Journalist will serve as the primary source for evaluating the state of journalism As such it promises to become a standard reference among journalism media and communication students and researchers around the world      Reporting Global while being Local Saumava Mitra,Chris Paterson,2021-05-10

Reporting Global while being Local International news has long been studied and understood as produced by outsiders foreign correspondents working in exotic international locales This book challenges this established view by putting the spotlight on the insiders working in their own countries producing news for international audiences Western male foreign correspondents who report from areas affected by crises and conflicts for an audience back home have long stood in as visible metaphors of international news production But the understanding of who produces international news is starting to shift as scholars come to take into account the often invisible role played by locally based non Western news workers who have always been part and parcel of international news production The roles and responsibilities of these professional specialised locals within the global flow of news have only increased as falling news industry revenues have meant reductions in non local staff in foreign news bureaus Available research shows that the involvement of local journalists and fixers as well as NGOs as sources of news and information in international news production is marked by economic socio cultural and practice related tensions To shed light on these growing yet relatively less investigated changes happening in international news making this book brings together the latest of studies conducted on this form of journalistic labour around the world This book will contribute to both the breadth and depth of our future understanding of local news work that benefits distant audiences and also help cement the place of such journalistic work as a vital topic of analysis in its own right The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Journalism Studies
