Moulton, 2002-01-01 Lively and curious possessing a keen eye for detail and a knack for skin dressing Private Joseph Whitehouse produced an account that stands as the only surviving record by any army private in the Corps of Discovery expedition In simple and well paced sentences he painted full portraits of the unusual group of men he accompanied on one of the greatest adventures in American history Whitehouse s journal is published here in full for the first time including entries from a second copy of his journal that extend the narrative for five months beyond previous editions Although Whitehouse s career after the expedition was checkered and he disappeared after 1817 his vivid eyewitness account will long be remembered Whitehouse's journal joins the celebrated Nebraska edition of the complete journals of the Lewis and Clark expedition which feature a wide range of new scholarship dealing with all aspects of the expedition from geography to Indian cultures and languages to plants and animals The Journals of the Lewis and Clark Expedition Meriwether Lewis, William Clark, 2002-09 Since the time of Columbus explorers dreamed of a water passage across the North American continent President Thomas Jefferson shared this dream He conceived the Corps of Discovery to travel up the Missouri River to the Rocky Mountains and westward along possible river routes to the Pacific Ocean Meriwether Lewis and William Clark led this expedition of 1804-6 Along the way they filled hundreds of notebook pages with observations of the geography Indian tribes and natural history of the trans Mississippi West This complete set of the celebrated Nebraska edition incorporates the journals along with a wide range of new scholarship dealing with all aspects of the expedition including geography Indian languages plants and animals in order to recreate the expedition within its historical context The Journals of the Lewis and Clark Expedition: The journals of Joseph Whitehouse, May 14, 1804-April 2, 1806 Meriwether Lewis, William Clark, Gary E. Moulton, Thomas W. Dunlay, 1983-01-01 The University of Nebraska Press editions of The Journals of the Lewis and Clark Expedition are widely heralded as a lasting achievement In all thirteen volumes are projected which together will provide a complete record of the expedition Volume 11 contains the journals of expedition member Joseph Whitehouse His journals are the only surviving account written by an army private on the expedition and he is one of the least known of the expedition party Following the expedition Whitehouse had a checkered army career and he disappeared after 1817 His capabilities have been unfairly slighted by previous commentators despite his narrative skill and evidence that he was a man of a lively and curious mind His extensive journal entries contribute to our understanding of the epochal journey and of the unusual group of men who undertook one of the defining events in our history The last part of his journals was not found until 1966 this is the first publication of the complete record of his account Original Journals of the Lewis and Clark Expedition. Selections; The Journals of Lewis and Clark Meriwether Lewis, Original Journals of the Lewis and Clark Expedition: 1804-1806; Reuben Gold Thwaites, 2001 This set was first published in 1904 from the manuscripts of the American Philosophical Society together with manuscript material of Lewis and Clark and from other sources including notebooks letters and maps and the journals of Charles Floyd and Joseph Whitehouse The Journals of the Lewis and Clark Expedition: August 30, 1803-August 24, 1804 Meriwether Lewis, 1983-01-01 The journey of the Corps of Discovery under the command of Captains Meriwether Lewis and William Clark across the American West to the Pacific Ocean and back in the years 1804-1806 seems to me to have been our first really American adventure one that also produced our only really American epic The Journals of the Lewis and Clark Expedition now at last available in a superbly edited easily read edition in twelve volumes of an eventual thirteen almost two centuries after the Corps of Discovery set out This important text has not been fully appreciated for what it is because of two centuries of incomplete and inadequate editing All three editions previous to this excellent one from the University of Nebraska were flawed by significant omission Thus my gratitude to the present editor Gary Moulton and his assistant editor Thomas Dunlay for bringing what I believe to be a national epic into plain view at last For almost two hundred years their Lewis and Clark s strong words waited there but not there printed but not read our silent epic But words can wait now the captains writings have at last spilled out and fully in this regal edition When the Atlas of the Lewis and Clark Expedition appeared in 1983 critics hailed it as a publishing landmark This eagerly awaited second volume of the new Journals of the Lewis and Clark Expedition begins the actual journals of those explorers whose epic expedition still enthalls Americans Instructed by President Jefferson to keep meticulous records bearing on the geography ethnology and natural history of the trans Mississippi West Meriwether Lewis and William Clark and four of their men filled hundreds of notebook pages with observations during their expedition of 1804 6 The result was in is a national treasure a complete look at the Great Plains the Rockies and the Pacific Northwest reported by men who were intelligent and well prepared at a time when almost nothing was known about those regions so newly acquired in the Louisiana Purchase Volume 2 includes Lewis s and Clark s journals for the period from August 1803 when Lewis left Pittsburgh to join Clark farther down the Ohio River to August 1804 when the Corps of Discovery camped near the Vermillion River in present South Dakota The general introduction by Gary E Moulton discusses the history of the expedition the journal keeping methods of Lewis and Clark and the editing and publishing history of the journals from the time of Lewis and Clark s return Superseding the last edition published early in this century the current edition brings together new materials discovered since then It greatly expands and updates the annotation to take account of the most recent scholarship on the many subjects touched on by the journals and four of their men filled hundreds of notebook pages with observations during their expedition of 1804-1806. The result was and is a national treasure: a complete look at the Great Plains, the Rockies, and the Pacific Northwest reported by men who were intelligent and well prepared at a time when almost nothing was known about those regions so newly acquired in the Louisiana Purchase. Volume 3 consists of the journals during the expedition's route from the Vermillion River to Fort Mandan, North Dakota, and their winter encampment there. It describes their encounters with Sioux, Arikara, Mandan, and Hidatsa Indians, including considerable ethnographic material on these tribes. Some miscellaneous documents containing information gathered during the first year of the expedition, originally published in a separate volume, are here brought together in an appropriate chronological sequence. Superseding the last edition published early in this century, the current edition contains new materials discovered since then. It greatly expands and updates the annotation to take account of the most recent scholarship on the many subjects touched on by the journals.

The Journals of Lewis and Clark Meriwether Lewis, William Clark, 2009-09-29

At the dawn of the 19th century, Meriwether Lewis and William Clark embarked on an unprecedented journey from St. Louis, Missouri, to the Pacific Ocean and back again. Their assignment was to explore the newly acquired Louisiana Territory and record the geography, flora, fauna, and people they encountered along the way. The tale of their incredible journey, meticulously recorded in their journals, has become an American classic. This single-volume landmark edition of the famous journals is the first abridgement to be published in at least a decade.

The War with Spain in 1898 David F. Trask, 1996-01-01

Remember the Maine? The war cry spread throughout the United States after the American battleship was blown up in Havana harbor on February 15, 1898. Americans already sympathetic with Cuba's struggle for independence from Spain demanded action. Brief and decisive, not too costly, the Spanish-American War made the United States a world power.

David F. Trask's War with Spain in 1898 is a cogent political and military history of that splendid little war. It describes the failure of diplomacy, the state of preparedness of both sides, the battles, including those of Theodore Roosevelt and his Rough Riders, the enlargement of conflict to rout the Spanish from Puerto Rico and the Philippines, and the misconceptions surrounding the war.

The journals of these explorers are both a priceless piece of national history and a great adventure story. With descriptions of Native American tribes and life and death struggles against the elements, this book will transport you to the early days of American exploration.

The journals of Lewis and Clark have been called a national treasure. The Corps of Discovery helped to open the Louisiana Purchase to hundreds of thousands of pioneering settlers. We're proud to bring this recreation of those handwritten texts to a new generation of readers, learners, and historians. In 1803, President Thomas Jefferson commissioned the Corps of Discovery as a scientific and military expedition to explore the newly acquired Louisiana Purchase. The expedition's goal was stated by Jefferson in a letter dated June 20 1803 to Lewis to explore the Missouri River and such principal stream of it as by its course and communication with the waters of the Pacific Ocean whether the Columbia Oregon Colorado or any other river that may offer the most direct and practicable water communication across this continent for the purpose of commerce.<sup>6</sup> In addition the expedition was to learn more about the Northwest's natural resources inhabitants and possibilities for settlement<sup>7</sup> as well as evaluating the potential interference of British and French Canadian hunters and trappers who were already well established in the area. Jefferson selected U S Army Captain Meriwether Lewis his aide and personal friend to lead the Corps of Discovery. Lewis selected William Clark as his partner. Because of bureaucratic delays in the U S Army Clark officially only held the rank of Second Lieutenant at the time but Lewis concealed this from the men and shared the leadership of the expedition always referring to Clark as Captain. They began their historic journey on May 14 1804. They soon met up with Lewis in Saint Charles Missouri and the corps followed the Missouri River westward. Soon they passed La Charrette the last caucasian settlement on the Missouri River. The expedition followed the Missouri through what is now Kansas City Missouri and Omaha Nebraska. On August 20 1804 the Corps of Discovery suffered its only death when Sergeant Charles Floyd died apparently from acute appendicitis. He was buried at Floyd's Bluff in what is now Sioux City Iowa. During the final week of August Lewis and Clark had reached the edge of the Great Plains a place abounding with elk deer bison and beavers. The expedition continued to follow the Missouri to its headwaters and over the Continental Divide at Lemhi Pass via horses. In canoes they descended the mountains by the Clearwater River the Snake River and the Columbia River past Celilo Falls and past what is now Portland Oregon. At this point clarification needed Lewis spotted Mount Hood a mountain known to be very close to the ocean. On a big pine Clark carved Clark had written in his journal Ocean in view O The Joy One journal entry is captioned Cape Disappointment at the Entrance of the Columbia River into the Great South Sea or Pacific Ocean. By that time the expedition faced its second bitter winter during the trip so the group decided to vote on whether to camp on the north or south side of the Columbia River. The party agreed to camp on the south side of the river modern Astoria Oregon building Fort Clatsop as their winter quarters. While wintering at the fort the men prepared for the trip home by boiling salt from the ocean hunting elk and other wildlife and interacting with the native tribes. The explorers began their journey home on March 23 1806. Lewis and Clark used four dugout canoes they bought from the Native Americans plus one that they stole in retaliation for a previous theft. Lewis and Clark separated until they reached the confluence of the Yellowstone and Missouri Rivers on August 11. Clark's team had floated down the rivers in bull boats. Once reunited the Corps was able to return home quickly via the Missouri River. They reached St Louis on September 23 1806.

The Definitive Journals of Lewis and Clark Meriwether Lewis, William Clark, 2002-09. Since the time of Columbus explorers dreamed of a water passage across the North American continent. President Thomas Jefferson shared this dream.

He conceived the Corps of Discovery to travel up the Missouri River to the Rocky Mountains and westward along possible river routes to the Pacific Ocean Meriwether Lewis and William Clark led this expedition of 1804-6 Along the way they filled hundreds of notebook pages with observations of the geography Indian tribes and natural history of the trans Mississippi West This set of the celebrated Nebraska edition features the seven core volumes those written by Lewis and Clark and incorporates a wide range of new scholarship dealing with all aspects of the expedition including geography Indian languages plants and animals in order to recreate the expedition within its historical context
