Ursula Le Guin at her best This is an important collection of eloquent elegant pieces by one of our most acclaimed contemporary writers Elizabeth Hand The Washington Post Book World I have decided that the trouble with print is it never changes its mind writes Ursula K Le Guin in her introduction to Dancing at the Edge of the World But she has and here is the record of that change in the decade since the publication of her last nonfiction collection The Language of the Night And what a mind strong supple disciplined playful ranging over the whole field of its concerns from modern literature to menopause from utopian thought to rodeos with an eloquence wit and precision that makes for exhilarating reading If you are tired of being able to predict what a writer will say next if you are bored stiff with minimalism if you want excess and risk and intelligence and pure orneriness try Le Guin Mary Mackey San Francisco Chronicle The Norton Anthology of Literature by Women: Early twentieth-century through contemporary Sandra M. Landon, 1835 Out of the Garden Christina Buchmann, Celina Spiegel, 2012-06-13 By turns witty erudite probingly serious and sparkingly irreverent these essays refresh our readings of the Bible and deepen our vision of foundational feminist figures A wonderfully thought provoking and readable collection EVA HOFFMAN Author of EXIT INTO HISTORY This is the first collection of essays in which women read and respond to the Bible out of pleasure and curiosity reclaiming the Bible for women and showing readers that the Bible is a source we can return to again and again Drawing on their own experiences and interests Louise Erdrich Cynthia Ozick Fay Weldon Phyllis Tribble Rebecca Goldstein June Jordan Ursula Le Guin and twenty one other writers boldly imaginatively and sometimes reproachfully address the Old Testament stories characters and poetry that mean the most to them As with all great works of literature it is a book that changes as we change a garden in its own right whose pleasures are there for the taking as are its surprises and thorny byways

Mysticism in Postmodernist Long Poems Joe Moffett, 2014-10-28 Written from a literary critic's perspective Mysticism in Postmodernist Long Poems borrows insights from Religious Studies and critical theory to examine the role of spirituality in contemporary poetry specifically the genre of the long poem Descending from Whitman's Song of Myself the long poem is often considered the American twentieth century equivalent of the epic poem but unlike the epic it carries few generic expectations aside from the fact that it simply must be long This makes the form particularly pliable as a tool for spiritual inquiry The period following World War II is often described as a secular age but spirituality continued as a concern for poets as evidenced by this study These writers look beyond conventional faith systems and instead seek individual paths of understanding they engage in mysticism in other words With chapters on H D and Brenda Hillman Robert Duncan James Merrill Charles Wright and Galway Kinnell and Gary Snyder this study demonstrates how these poets engage the culture of consumption in the postwar years at the same time they search for opportunities for transcendence Not content to throw over the earthly in favor of the otherworldly these poets reject the familiar binary of the worldly and metaphysical to produce distinctive paths of spiritual understanding that fuel what Wright calls a contemplation of the divine

Updating the Literary West, 1997 Western writers says Thomas J Lyon in his epilogue to Updating the Literary West have grown up with the frontier myth but now find themselves in the early stages of creating a new western myth The editors of the Literary History of the American West TCU Press 1987 hoped that the first volume would begin not conclude their exploration of the West's literary heritage Out of this hope comes Updating the Literary West a comprehensive reference anthology including essays by over one hundred scholars A selected bibliography is included with each piece In the ten years since publication of LHAW western writing has developed a significantly larger presence in the national literary stream A variety of cultural viewpoints have developed along with new tactics for literary study New authors have risen to prominence and the range of subjects has changed and widened Updating the Literary West looks at topics ranging from western classics to cowboys and Cadillacs and considers children's literature ethnicity environmental writing gender issues and other topics in which change has been rapid since publication of LHAW This volume again affirms the West's literary legitimacy status hard earned by the Western Literary Association and the lasting place of popular western writing as part of the growing and changing literary and American experience An excellent reference for a wide range of readers and an invaluable resource for scholars and libraries Selected list of contributors James Maguire Fred Erisman Susan J Rosowski Gerald Haslam Tom Pilkington A Carl Bredahl Richard Slotkin
