while making a national effort to document the country's shared history and culture. The American Guide series consists of individual guides to each of the states. Little known authors many of whom would later become celebrated literary figures were commissioned to write these important books. John Steinbeck, Saul Bellow, Zora Neale Hurston, and Ralph Ellison are among the more than 6,000 writers, editors, historians, and researchers who documented this celebration of local histories. Photographs, drawings, driving tours, detailed descriptions of towns, and rich cultural details exhibit each state's unique flavor. The WPA Guide to Washington exhibits the beauty and individuality found in the Pacific Northwest. The guide takes the reader on a journey across the Evergreen State from Seattle to Spokane with the Cascades in between. Essays on the state's large lumber industry and its role in the westward expansion are included. Oklahoma Treasures and Treasure Tales Steve Wilson, 1989-05-01. Contains stories, some true, some legendary, about caches of lost treasure. Mines Register, 1971.

Interpreting Agriculture at Museums and Historic Sites Debra A. Reid, 2017-01-23. Interpreting Agriculture in Museums and Historic Sites orients readers to major themes in agriculture and techniques in education and interpretation that can help you develop humanities-based public programming that enhance agricultural literacy. Case studies illustrate the ways that local research can help you link your history organization to compelling local, national, even international stories focused on the multidisciplinary topic. That ordinary plow, pitch fork, and butter paddle can provide the tangible evidence of the story worth telling, even if the farm land has disappeared into subdivisions and agriculture seems as remote as the nineteenth century. Other topics include discussion of alliances between rural tourism and community-supported agriculture, farmland conservation and stewardship, heritage breed and seed preservation efforts, and antique tractor clubs. Any of these can become indispensable partners to history organizations searching for a new interpretive theme to explore and new partners to engage. Charlie's Pride Dee Hubbard, 2015-04-15. An intriguing novel about a great river. Jimmy Carter, Charlie, the proud hero of this strong and gripping story, is known to his fellow truckers, loggers, and fishermen as Hawk. His father, a full-blooded Hupok, taught him his Indian heritage; his Scots-Irish mother gave him a lifelong love of reading. He feels connected to both roots, but he is most himself when he's by himself out in the forest on the banks or in the flow of his beloved Klamath River. The language in this novel is lush and romantic. Lots of thoughtful philosophy is verbalized in internal thoughts and stream of consciousness. In the mix, we are treated to solid information on fly fishing, trucking, logging, the marijuana industry, and most of all, the ecology of the forests and rivers of the California far north, a land that still enjoys wildness. Treasures of the Santa Catalina Mountains Robert E. Zucker, 2014. The famous legend of the Iron Door Mine, a forgotten mission, and a lost city somewhere in the Santa Catalina Mountains north of Tucson, Arizona, has lured prospectors and treasure hunters for hundreds of years. The discoveries of early Spanish placer mining sites, stone ruins, and stories of the mountains only fueled speculation about the riches still left behind. Common knowledge among the locals eventually gained legendary status. Even more surprising was the abundance in gold, silver, and copper etched into the mountains. These stories became embedded in Arizona's early history and were spun into some sensational legends and featured in numerous literary and film adventures. Treasures of the Santa Catalina Mountains explores the legends and history of the Catalinas compiled from out of print books, magazines, newspapers, and recollections from local prospectors. More than 430 pages and over 1,200 references. The Mining Congress Journal, 1924 Chambers's Journal, 1906 Chambers's Journal of Popular Literature, Science and Arts, 1906
