Gold Mines Of Southern Africa 1st Edition:

Labour in the South African Gold Mines 1911-1969 Francis Wilson, 1972-06-29 A 1972 book on the determination of wages amongst miners in South Africa The Untold Story of Zama Zama Miners in South Africa Vidette Bester, 2025-04-30 This book results from a decade of in depth research on the complexities of Zama Zama mining in South Africa which has become a pressing issue of late It critiques the overly simplistic portrayal of the miners negatively and as illegal immigrants Through a sociological lens this book explores the broader socio economic conditions the profound impact of South Africa s mining history particularly the migrant labor system on today s Zama Zama miners and the role of women in the sector This book is not just about mining it interrogates issues around language poverty and power It challenges dominant societal narratives and examines how labels can further marginalize vulnerable groups Inspired by the works of Pierre Bourdieu and Michel Foucault on classification and language the book questions who holds the power to label and shape mainstream discourses Amplifying the voices of the Zama Zamas themselves the book transforms the conversation around Zama Zama mining in South Africa and beyond providing fresh insights into this complex and marginalized sector This book is more than an original and insightful study on informal mining it offers practical initiatives for businesses government and civil society to engage with and address this marginalized sector more sustainably United Kingdom Publications and Theses on Africa 1967-68 Miriam Alman, 2013-07-04 First published in 1973 This is the fifth issue in the series and covers the years 1967 and 1968 Books and pamphlets have been considered as published in the United Kingdom when their publishers are listed in Whitaker s Publishers in the United Kingdom and their addresses February 1971 This includes many foreign publishers mainly American who have branches in the United Kingdom and whose publications are listed in the British National Bibliography Books published abroad and distributed by British publishers are not included Kindell's African market manual [ed. by A. Kindell]. 1st-9th issue Kindell's African market manual, 1899 The First Dominican Friars in Boksburg, Brakpan and Springs, South Africa (1917-1927) Joseph Falkiner, 2024-08-01 This book was originally published in 2017 to commemorate the centenary of the Dominican friars presence in South Africa They arrived in the mining towns of Boksburg Brakpan and Springs Coming from a different milieu in England they found it difficult to fit in They chose not to get involved with the racial and social animosities the labour unrest and even the socio economic factors that led eventually to an apartheid government Instead they focused on the task of building up parishes The social situation they encountered led to frustration Personal relationships between them deteriorated and most of the first group returned overseas unhappy or ill It was only after 1925 with the arrival of more friars that the work of building not just churches but of living communities of priest and people could begin It was due to the persistence of two men Bede Jarrett and Lawrence Shapcote that the mission survived at all This is a reprint of the 2017 book and is the first in a newly established Southern African Dominican Series published in the ATF Africa imprint of ATF Press Publishing Group The book includes a Foreword

by the Vice Provincial of the Dominican Friars of Southern Africa in 2017 Stanslaus Muyebe OP Mining and Community in South Africa Philippe Burger, Lochner Marais, Deirdre van Rooyen, 2017-09-22 Mining has played a key role in the growth of many towns in South Africa This growth has been accompanied by a proliferation of informal settlements by pressure to provide basic services and by institutional pressures in local government to support mining Fragile municipal finance changing social attributes the pressures of shift work on mineworkers the impact on the physical environment and perceived new inequalities between mineworkers contract workers and original inhabitants have further complicated matters Mining growth has however also led to substantial local economic benefits to existing business and it has contributed to a mushrooming of new enterprises While the relationship between mining and economic development at the country level has received adequate attention in existing literature less is known about the consequences of mining at the local level This book investigates the local impacts of mining in South Africa focusing on employment inequality housing business development worker well being governance municipal finance planning and the environment Taking an interdisciplinary approach Mining and Community in South Africa will be of interest to scholars of South Africa economic development labour and industry politics and planning An Economic History of South Africa C. H. Feinstein, 2005-06-23 This book is the first economic history of South Africa in over sixty years Professor Charles H Feinstein offers an authoritative survey of five hundred years of South African economic history from the years preceding European settlements in 1652 through to the post Apartheid era He charts the early phase of slow growth and then the transformation of the economy as a result of the discovery of diamonds and gold in the 1870s followed by the rapid rise of industry in the wartime years The final chapters cover the introduction of apartheid after 1948 and its consequences for economic performance Special attention is given to the processes by which the black population were deprived of their land and to the methods by which they were induced to supply labour for white farms mines and factories This book will be essential reading for students in economics African history imperial history and politics Who's who Henry Robert Addison, Charles Henry Oakes, William John Lawson, Douglas Brooke Wheelton Sladen, 1905 An annual biographical dictionary with which is incorporated Men and women of the time

Canadian Mining Journal , 1921 South Africa's water governance hydraulic mission (1912-2008) in a WEF-Nexus context Johann W.N. Tempelhoff, 2018-12-01 Geologists physicists and ecologists currently promote the idea of a post Holocene epoch the Anthropocene As a result of constant innovation and modernisation in the fields of engineering natural science management studies and environmental studies there has been a growing awareness of the intrinsic interaction between humankind and the environment Humankind has become part of the environmental dynamics to the extent that they are literally able to change ecosystems Nowhere is the impact more evident than in the anthropogenic engagement with the hydrosphere from the smallest pool of water to the earth's atmosphere Comprehensive infrastructure development in water and sanitation the growing trend to seek additional resources in the form of groundwater desalinated seawater and recycled wastewater as well as special attention being given to capturing and preserving rainwater bear evidence of a timely response to climate change population growth and rapid development in many water stressed regions of the world The purpose of the book is to provide a historical overview of the manner in which South Africa's water resources have been governed from a time when the Union of South Africa was formed in 1910 up to 2008 a time of a growing global awareness of the potential impact that climate change may have on water resources in a key region of southern Africa notable for increasing levels of aridity and more erratic rainfall patterns This focus on the history of water affairs in South Africa makes it possible for scholars to comprehend the contemporary transitions made in the country's water governance system since the establishment in 2014 of the Department of Water and Sanitation The focus is on the Water Energy Food nexus a strategy which holistically contemplates the governance and use of water from the perspective of the interconnection between water energy and food as resources

Chocolate on Trial Lowell Joseph Satre, 2005 At the turn of the twentieth century Cadbury Bros Ltd was a successful Quaker owned chocolate manufacturer in Birmingham England celebrated for its model village modern factory and concern for employees In 1901 the firm learned that its cocoa beans purchased from Portuguese plantations on the island of S o Tom off West Africa were produced by slave labor Chocolate on Trial Cadbury Slavery and the Economics of Virtue in Imperial Britain gives a lively and highly readable account of the events surrounding the libel trial in which Cadbury Bros Ltd sued the London Standard following the newspaper's accusation that the firm was hypocritical in its use of slave grown cocoa As compelling now as at the turn of the previous century the issues probed by Lowell J Satre give invaluable historical background to contemporary issues of business ethics corporate social responsibility and globalization The story Satre tells illuminates what a stubbornly persistent institution slavery was and shows how Cadbury a company with a well regarded brand name and logo endured ethical dilemmas and challenges to its record for social responsibility Chocolate on Trial brings to life the age old conflict between economic interests and the value of human life Satre illuminates the stubborn persistence of the institution of slavery and shows how Cadbury a company with a well regarded brand name from the nineteenth century faced ethical dilemmas and challenges to its record for social responsibility Chocolate on Trial brings to life the age old conflict between economic interests and regard for the dignity of human life

Mining and Metallurgy, 1926 Labour and Economic Change in Southern Africa c.1900-2000 Rory Pilosof, Andrew Cohen, 2021-06-03 This book explores the social and economic development of Zimbabwe Zambia and Malawi over the course of the twentieth century These three countries have long shared and interconnected pasts All three were drawn into the British Empire at a similar time and the formation of the ill fated Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland formally linked these countries together for a decade in the mid twentieth century This formal political relationship created dynamics that resulted in yet closer economic and social links After Federation the economic realities of industry transport and labour supplies meant that these three countries continued to be intricately interconnected Yet despite these connected pasts comparative work on the economic histories of Malawi Zambia and Zimbabwe and how these change over time is rare This book addresses the gap by providing the first comprehensive collection of labour and census data across the twentieth century for these three countries The different economic models and performances of these states offer good comparison allowing researchers to look at different models of development and how these played out over the long term The book provides data on population growth and change industrial and occupational structure and the various shifts in what the economically active population did It will be useful for historians economists development studies scholars and non governmental organisations working on twentieth century and contemporary southern Africa
