Smith, William J. Sutherland, 2014-05-16 Amphibian

Conservation is the fourth in the series of Synopses of Conservation Evidence linked to the online resource www.ConservationEvidence.com This synopsis is part of the Conservation Evidence project and provides a useful resource for conservationists It forms part of a series designed to promote a more evidence based approach to biodiversity conservation Others in the series include bee bird farmland and bat conservation and many others are in preparation Approximately 32% of the 7 164 amphibian species are currently threatened with extinction and at least 43% of species are declining Despite this until recently amphibians and their conservation had received little attention Although work is now being carried out to conserve many species often it is not adequately documented This book brings together and summarises the available scientific evidence and experience relevant to the practical conservation of amphibians The authors consulted an international group of amphibian experts and conservationists to produce a thorough summary of what is known or not known about the effectiveness of amphibian conservation actions across the world The book is packed with literature summaries and citations a veritable information goldmine for graduate students and researchers It also admirably provides decision makers with a well researched resource of proven interventions that can be employed to stem reverse the decline of amphibian populations John G Palis Bulletin of the Chicago Herpetological Society The Critic Jeannette Leonard Gilder, Joseph Benson Gilder, 1891 The Critic, 1891 Jersey Bulletin, 1916 The Erotics of Talk Carla Kaplan, 1996-12-12 Is feminism in crisis With many feminists now questioning identification and focusing on differences between women what is the fate of feminist criticism's traditional imperative to rescue women's stories and make their voices heard In this provocative rereading of the classic texts of the feminist literary canon Carla Kaplan takes a hard look at the legacy of feminist criticism and argues that important features of feminism's own canon have been overlooked in the rush to rescue and identify texts African American women's texts she demonstrates often dramatize their distrust of their readers their lack of faith in the cultural conversation through strategies of self silencing and self talk At the same time she argues the homoerotics of women's writing has too often gone unremarked Not only does longing for an ideal listener draw women's texts into a romance with the reader but there is an erotic excess which is part of feminist critical recuperation itself Drawing on a wide range of resources from sociolinguistics and anthropology to literary theory Kaplan's highly readable study proposes a new model for understanding and representing talk She supplies fresh readings of such feminist classics as Jane

Eyre The Yellow Wallpaper Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl Their Eyes Were Watching God and The Color Purple revealing how their erotics of talk works as a rich political allegory and form of social critique Blood Proteins—Advances in Research and Application: 2013 Edition ,2013-06-21 Blood Proteins Advances in Research and Application 2013 Edition is a ScholarlyEditions book that delivers timely authoritative and comprehensive information about Acute Phase Proteins The editors have built Blood Proteins Advances in Research and Application 2013 Edition on the vast information databases of ScholarlyNews You can expect the information about Acute Phase Proteins in this book to be deeper than what you can access anywhere else as well as consistently reliable authoritative informed and relevant The content of Blood Proteins Advances in Research and Application 2013 Edition has been produced by the world s leading scientists engineers analysts research institutions and companies All of the content is from peer reviewed sources and all of it is written assembled and edited by the editors at ScholarlyEditions and available exclusively from us You now have a source you can cite with authority confidence and credibility More information is available at <http://www.ScholarlyEditions.com> A Practical Guide for Genetic Management of Fragmented Animal and Plant Populations Richard Frankham,Jonathan D. Ballou,Katherine Ralls,Mark Eldridge,Michele R. Dudash,Charles B. Fenster,Robert C. Lacy,Paul Sunnucks,2019-10-23 The habitats of most species have been fragmented by human actions isolating small populations that consequently develop genetic problems Millions of small isolated fragmented populations are likely suffering from inbreeding depression and loss of genetic diversity greatly increasing their risk of extinction Crossing between populations is required to reverse these effects but managers rarely do so A key reason for such inaction is that managers are often advised to manage populations in isolation whenever molecular genetic methods indicate genetic differences among them Following this advice will often doom small populations to extinction when the habitat fragmentation and genetic differences were caused by human activities A paradigm shift is required whereby evidence of genetic differentiation among populations is a trigger to ask whether any populations are suffering genetic problems and if so whether they can be rescued by augmenting gene flow Consequently there is now an urgent need for an authoritative practical guide to facilitate this paradigm shift in genetic management of fragmented populations Adaptive Radiations of Neotropical Primates Marilyn A. Norconk,Alfred L. Rosenberger,Paul A. Garber,2011-06-28 This collection of 29 papers grew out of a symposium entitled Setting the Future Agenda for Neotropical Primates The symposium was held at the Department of Zoological Research National Zoological Park Washington D C on February 26 27 1994 and was sponsored by the Wenner Gren Foundation for Anthropological Research Smithsonian Institution and Friends of the National Zoo We put the symposium together with two objectives to honor Warren G Kinzey for his contributions to the growing field of platyrrhine studies and to provide researchers who work in the Neotropics with the opportunity to discuss recent developments to identify areas of research that require additional study and especially to help guide the next generation of researchers The symposium provided the opportunity to recognize Warren as a mentor and col

laborator to the contribution of the study of platyrrhines Contributions to the book were expanded in order to provide a more comprehensive view of platyrrhine evolution and ecology to emphasize the interdisciplinary nature of many of these studies and to high light the central role that New World monkeys play in advancing primatology If this vol ume were to require major revisions after just one more decade of research that would be a fitting testament to Warren s enthusiasm and his drive to continually update the field with new ideas and methods Tributes to Warren and a list of his publications have been published elsewhere Norconk 1994 1996 Rosenberger 1994 1995

Wild Life Irus Braverman,2015-04-22 Wild Life documents a nuanced understanding of the wild versus captive divide in species conservation It also documents the emerging understanding that all forms of wild nature both in situ on site and ex situ in captivity may need to be managed in perpetuity Providing a unique window into the high stakes world of nature conservation Irus Braverman describes the heroic efforts by conservationists to save wild life Yet in the shadows of such dedication and persistence in saving the life of species Wild Life also finds sacrifice and death Such life and death stories outline the modern struggle to define what conservation should look like at a time when the long established definitions of nature have collapsed Wild Life begins with the plight of a tiny endangered snail and ends with the rehabilitation of an entire island Interwoven between its pages are stories about golden lion tamarins in Brazil black footed ferrets in the American Plains Sumatran rhinos in Indonesia Tasmanian devils in Australia and many more creatures both human and nonhuman Braverman draws on interviews with more than one hundred and twenty conservation biologists zoologists zoo professionals government officials and wildlife managers to explore the various perspectives on in situ and ex situ conservation and the blurring of the lines between them
