Thomas Summers & Co. Mike Smylie,2020-02-07 After the end of hostilities in 1945 the fishing industry was quick to establish some semblance of recovery and a surge of new builds and restoration of Admiralty motor fishing vessels soon followed In Fraserburgh on Scotland s east coast several established yards satiated this desire amongst the fishing boat owners for new craft Thus it wasn't surprising that a new yard sprung up at the end of the 1940s when three local apprentices from one of the yards decided to set up their own boatbuilding yard on the breakwater in what was a very exposed position And so the yard of Thomas Summers Co was born a yard that became synonymous with fine seaworthy fishing boats suited to various methods of fishing In the space of just thirteen years they produced eighty eight fishing vessels and their output was more prolific than most of the other Scottish boatyards Many of these boats survive to this day some still working as fishing vessels and others converted to pleasure a testament to their superb design and solid construction Here Mike Smylie recounts the story of Thomas Summers Co through historic records and personal memories of both fishermen and family members with many striking photographs of the boats they built Gold Iain McCalman, Alexander Cook, Andrew Reeves, 2001-03-12 Throughout history gold has been the stuff of legends fortunes conflict and change The discovery of gold in Australia 150 years ago precipitated enormous developments in the newly settled land The population and economy boomed in spontaneous cities The effects on both the environment and indigenous Aboriginal peoples have been profound and lasting In this book a team of prominent historians and curators have collaborated to produce an innovative cultural history of gold and its impact on the development of Australian society

Reef Madness Ernest Hunter, 2022-06-01 It's a tale that doesn't seem like it would be a winner an improbable proposition of a ten mile reef of gold in the middle of the continent a cabal of scheming investors a farrago of poor planning and preposterous publicity the fiasco of the prematurely celebrated triumph of technology over unforgiving terrain a dead prospector and no gold The Central Australian Gold Exploration Company had it all and Lasseter's Last Ride was in the stores before the final chapter of the real life debacle had closed It was a runaway success Angus and Robertson sold three million copies of Ion Idriess' sixty some books before he died in 1979 But in 1931 as he was working on what would be Lasseter's Last Ride he was looking for an angle In filling the gaps between the few facts with detailed descriptions of lands and people he had never seen he found it and promoted it in Magic and Mystery Idriess' fictional account of the last months of the life of Harold Bell Lasseter gave birth to a legend that has repeated in dozens of books films poems podcasts websites and exhibitions is memorialised in the names of a highway and a casino and has spawned searches and scams that continue nearly a century later Idriess was probably surprised at its success and chose not to tamper with a winning formula when inconvenient material soon emerged To do that he had to control the evidence and continued to insist on his narrative's unimpeachable adherence to fact Reef Madness exposes how Idriess concocted his first successful book and why the story of a failed prospector became a quintessentially Australian myth The Kappa Alpha Journal, 1914 Poems Rita Francis Mosscockle, 1914 GoldQuest International, et al.: Securities and Exchange Commission Litigation Complaint,
