Australian Radio Astronomy Wayne Orchiston, Peter Robertson, Woodruff T. Sullivan III, 2022-01-20 The evolution of Australian radio astronomy from 1945 to 1960 has been studied in detail by numerous historians of science in recent years This Open Access book is the first to present an overview of this remarkable chapter in Australian science The book begins in the post war period as the Radiophysics Laboratory in Sydney switched from secret wartime research on radar to peacetime applications of this new technology Next follows the detection of radio waves from space and the ensuing transformation of this fledgling science into the dominant research program at the Radiophysics Lab Drawing from this history the book shows how by 1960 the Radiophysics Lab had become the largest and most successful radio astronomy group in the world The final chapter presents an overview of Australian radio astronomy from 1960 to the present day as Australia prepares to co host the multi national multi billion dollar Square Kilometre Array Nearly 300 high quality images complement the text drawn from a wide range of sources including the extensive collection held by the CSIRO Radio Astronomy Image Archive The book will be an essential reference for readers interested in the scientific and cultural development of radio astronomy This book is published open access under a CC BY 4 0 license

Golden-winged Warbler Ecology, Conservation, and Habitat Management Henry M. Streby, David E. Andersen, David Buehler, 2016-10-26 Golden winged Warblers Vermivora chrysoptera are migratory songbirds that breed in temperate North America primarily in the Great Lakes region with remnant populations throughout the Appalachian Mountains and winter in Central and northern South America Their breeding range has contracted dramatically in the Appalachian Mountains and many populations have dramatically declined likely due to habitat loss competition and interbreeding with Blue winged Warblers Vermivora pinus and global climate change As a result of population declines in much of the eastern portion of their breeding range Golden winged Warblers are listed as endangered or threatened in 10 U S states and in Canada and have been petitioned for protection under the U S Endangered Species Act Published in collaboration with and on behalf of The American Ornithological Society this volume in the highly regarded Studies in Avian Biology series compiles extensive current research on Golden winged Warblers and summarizes what is known and identifies many remaining unknowns providing a wealth of peer reviewed science on which future research and listing decisions can be based

Chain Stores in the Golden Age of the British High Street Kathryn A Morrison, 2025-05-08 Familiar multiples like Boots Burton s Marks Spencer and Woolworth s plus a host of smaller chains forged the character of Britain s high streets in the late 19th and 20th centuries Multiple retailing was a supremely successful phenomenon loved by thrifty shoppers but feared by independent competitors It is explored here through the lens of its shops and stores which are generously illustrated with archive and modern photographs These range from the Edwardian grandeur of Boots to the Art Deco splendour of Burton s and the utilitarian post war buildings of Littlewoods Smaller chains are not neglected even if all that survives are weathered signs or mosaic pavements The time is ripe for a study of chain stores Britain s retail giants have been under scrutiny since the shocking collapse of Woolworth s in 2009 followed by BHS in 2016 Online shopping was already undermining bricks and mortar retailing when the COVID pandemic struck in 2020 accelerating the process The recent demise of Debenhams Arcadia Wilko and others leaves vast empty premises in town centres nationwide Our high streets are changing but their legacy of chain store buildings can play a constructive role in repurposing them for future generations
