Futter, Christina M. Anderson, 2022-02-24 The 19th century in Western culture was a time of both confidence and turbulence Industrial developments resulted in a number of benefits from a growing middle class to efficiency convenience and innovation across a range of fields from engineering to architecture Alongside these improvements the century began with the extended period of the Napoleonic Wars and was further disrupted by rebellions and revolutions both within Europe and in India South America and other parts of the world Slavery was abolished and urbanization increased dramatically These myriad developments were reflected throughout the period in the proliferation of types of furniture along with their categorization as industrial art at the international exhibitions and world fairs and the increasingly adventurous range of materials that were sometimes used in their construction. Nonetheless a strong antiquarian historicist strand also prompted interest in the revival of past styles in areas of art and design including furniture. Drawing upon a wealth of visual and textual sources this volume presents essays that examine key characteristics of the furniture of the period on the themes of Design and Motifs Makers Making and Materials Types and Uses The Domestic Setting The Public Setting Exhibition and Display Furniture and Architecture Visual Representations and Verbal Representations The Journal of the William Morris Society ,2000

Kakissis,2023-07-12 Byzantium was a very influential part of the development of the Arts and Crafts Movement 1880 1910 in Britain and although the influence of the Gothic Revival 1830 80 is well known that of the Byzantine Revival 1840 1910 is not. This volume is about the people and the movements that created the Byzantine Revival and shows how they influenced British heritage from architecture to the decorative arts during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. The central pillars of the volume are the architects and scholars who created the Byzantine Research Fund BRF Archive a unique collection of architectural drawings and photographs of numerous monuments across the Byzantine world and the social and professional networks in which they circulated. The BRF members an eclectic and little known group who based themselves at the newly founded British School at Athens established the research of Byzantium in Britain and Greece. They were trained in the traditions of the Arts and Crafts

Movement which sought authenticity in design and decoration in reaction to the styles that had developed through industrialisation Their work uniting a distinctively British design tradition with Byzantine arts and crafts represents a highly significant and under researched link between Britain and the Hellenic world This volume is the first contribution to try to fill this knowledge gap Byzantium and British Heritage will appeal to all those interested in the relation between Byzantine and British culture and Byzantine art

Arts and Crafts Objects Imogen Hart,2010-08-15 In this groundbreaking reassessment of the conventional understanding of a cohesive Arts and Crafts movement in Britain Imogen Hart argues that a sophisticated mode of looking at decorative art developed in England during the second half of the nineteenth century Bringing to light a significant number of little known visual and textual sources Arts and Crafts Objects insists that the history of British design between the 1830s and the 1910s is more complex and interwoven than concepts of clearly differentiated movements allow for Reinvesting the objects with the original importance ascribed to them by their makers and users this book places furniture metalwork tiles vases chintzes carpets and wallpaper at the center of a rigorous reassessment of the concept of Arts and Crafts The book offers radical new interpretations of the Arts and Crafts Exhibition Society and the homes of William Morris alongside illuminating analyses of less familiar but equally rich contexts
