Bovine Tuberculosis - International Perspectives on Epidemiology and Management Andrew W. Byrne, Adrian R. Allen, Daniel J.

O'Brien, Michele A. Miller, 2019-10-17 Bovine tuberculosis bTB is a significant zoonotic pathogen with a global distribution and a considerable economic impact. It has a notoriously complex epidemiology varying by affected region and often involving multiple host species. Here we present an international collection of papers that address both national and international factors impacting on the control of bovine tuberculosis. We hope this Research Topic will provide a forum which may generate a greater understanding of the disease in a wider context and inform future eradication efforts through the design of more effective interventions. Handbook of Entrepreneurial Cognition J. Robert Mitchell, Ronald K. Mitchell, Brandon

Randolph-Seng, 2014-12-31 Entrepreneurial cognition research is at a crossroads where static views give way to dynamic approaches. This Handbook draws on a variety of perspectives from experts in the field of entrepreneurial cognition to highlight the key elements in a soci Validating Psychological Constructs Kathleen Slaney, 2017-07-20 This book critically examines the historical and philosophical foundations of construct validity theory CVT and how these have and continue to inform and constrain the conceptualization of validity and its application in research. CVT has had an immense impact on how researchers in the behavioural sciences conceptualize and approach their subject matter. Yet there is equivocation regarding the foundations of the CVT framework as well as ambiguities concerning the nature of the constructs that are its raison d'être. The book is organized in terms of three major parts that speak respectively to the historical, philosophical and pragmatic dimensions of CVT. The primary objective is to provide researchers and students with a critical lens through which a deeper understanding may be gained of both the utility and limitations of CVT and the validation practices to which it has given rise.

Internal Perception Sara Dellantonio, Luigi Pastore, 2017-09-19 This book investigates how bodily information contributes to categorization processes for at least some conceptual classes and thus to the individual mastery of meanings for at least some word classes. The bodily information considered is mainly that provided by the so called proprioceptive and interoceptive systems introduced by Sherrington. The authors reconsider this in a new Gibsonian fashion calling it more generally proprioception which indicates the complex of all the bodily signals we are aware of and the qualitative experiences these give rise to. The book shows that proprioceptive information understood in this sense is essential for explaining among others how we develop broad categories such as animate vs inanimate concepts denoting bodily experiences such as hunger or pain as well as emotions and abstract concepts such as friendship and freedom and in accounting for how we master the meanings of the corresponding words in our language.
