Imagery Of Identity In South African Edu:

Imagery of Identity in South African Education, 1880-1990 Michael Cross, 1999 Imagery of Identity in South African Education examines the role that images embedded in the language and discourses of colonialism and apartheid have played in shaping diverse and conflicting identities in South Africa It explores images and modes of discursive representation in South African education and the associated struggles for constitution and hegemony of group identities over years Images should be understood in the context of the struggle in words and by words in the sense that images and representations of group identities are not neutral intellectual activity They are action and practice with profound implications for the affirmation of desire power and interests within society Cross shows how the question of group identity has dominated the history of intellectual and cultural production in South Africa particularly within the educational field African Identity in Post-Apartheid Public Architecture Jonathan Alfred Noble, 2016-12-05 Since the end of Apartheid there has been a new orientation in South African art and design turning away from the colonial aesthetics to new types of African expression This book examines some of the fascinating and impressive works of contemporary public architecture that concretise imaginative dialogues with African landscapes craft and indigenous traditions Referring to Frantz Fanon s classic study of colonised subjectivity Black Skin White Masks Noble contends that Fanon s metaphors of mask and skin are suggestive for architectural criticism in the context of post Apartheid public design Taking South Africa s first democratic election of 1994 as its starting point the book focuses on projects that were won in architectural competitions Such competitions are conceived within ideological debates and studying them allows for an examination of the interrelationships between architecture politics and culture The book offers insights into these debates through interviews with key parties concerned architects competition jurors politicians council and city officials artists and crafters as well as people who are involved in the day to day life of the buildings in question Visual Culture, Heritage and Identity: Using Rock Art to Reconnect Past and Present Andrzej Rozwadowski, Jamie Hampson, 2021-06-17 This book presents a fresh perspective on rock art by considering how ancient images function in the present It focuses on how ancient heritage is recognized and reified in the modern world and how rock art stimulates contemporary processes of cultural identity making Image into Identity, 2006-01-01 The pervading theme of this book is the construction and allocation of identity especially through images and imagery The essays analyse how the dominant social discourses and imageries construct identity or assign subject positions in relation to the categories of race nation region gender and language The volume is designed to inform the study of those categories in cultural studies sociology anthropology gender studies literary studies philosophy and history Its coverage is geographically global multidisciplinary and theoretically eclectic but also accessible The authors include both established and rising scholars from historical literary media gender and cultural studies This innovative collection will appeal to all those who are interested in the mechanisms of constructing and evolving personal and group identities in past and present Reflections on Identity in Four African Cities S. B. Bekker, Anne Leildé, 2006 Identity has become the watchword of our times In sub Saharan Africa this certainly appears to be true and for particular reasons Africa is urbanising rapidly cross border migration streams are swelling and globalising influences sweep across the continent Africa is also facing up to the challenge of nurturing emergent democracies in which citizens often feel torn between older traditional and newer national loyalties Accordingly collective identities are deeply coloured by recent urban as well as international experience and are squarely located within identity politics where reconciliation is required between state nation building strategies and sub national affiliations They are also fundamentally shaped by the growing inequality and the poverty found on this continent These themes are explored by an international set of scholars in two South African and two Francophone cities The relative importance to urban residents of race class and ethnicity but also of work space and language are compared in these cities This volume also includes a chapter investigating the emergence of a continental African identity A recent report of the Office of the South African President claims that a strong national identity is emerging among its citizens and that race and ethnicity are waning whilst a class identity is in the ascendance The evidence and analyses within this volume serve to gauge the extent to which such claims ring true in what everyone knows is a much more complex and shifting terrain of shared meanings than can ever be captured by such generalisations Crisis, Identity and Migration in Post-Colonial Southern Africa Hangwelani Hope Magidimisha, Nene Ernest Khalema, Lovemore Chipungu, Tamuka C. Chirimambowa, Tinashe Lukas Chimedza, 2017-07-24 This book offers a socio historical analysis of migration and the possibilities of regional integration in Southern Africa It examines both the historical roots of and contemporary challenges regarding the social economic and geo political causes of migration and its consequences i e xenophobia to illustrate how diaspora migrations have shaped a sense of identity citizenry and belonging in the region By discussing immigration policies and processes and highlighting how the struggle for belonging is mediated by new pressures concerning economic security social inequality and globalist challenges the book develops policy responses to the challenge of social and economic exclusion as well as xenophobic violence in Southern Africa This timely and highly informative book will appeal to all scholars activists and policy makers looking to revisit migration policies and realign them with current globalization and regional integration trends Power, Politics and Identity in South African Media Adrian Hadland, 2008 South Africa offers a rich context for the study of the interrelationship between the media and identity The essays collected in this book explore the many diverse elements of this interconnection and give fresh focus to topics that scholarship has tended to overlook such as the pervasive impact of tabloid newspapers Interrogating contemporary theory the authors shed new light on how identities are constructed through the media and provide case studies that illustrate the complex process of identity renegotiation taking place currently in post apartheid South Africa The contributors include established scholars as well as many new voices Collectively they represent some of South Africa s finest media analysts pooling skills to grapple with one of the country s most vexing issues who are we

Migration and National Identity in South Africa, 1860–2010 Audie Klotz, 2013-09-16 An extraordinary outbreak of xenophobic violence in May 2008 shocked South Africa but hostility toward newcomers has a long history Democratization has channeled such discontent into a non racial nationalism that specifically targets foreign Africans as a threat to prosperity Finding suitable governmental and societal responses requires a better understanding of the complex legacies of segregation that underpin current immigration policies and practices Unfortunately conventional wisdoms of path dependency promote excessive fatalism and ignore how much South Africa is a typical settler state A century ago its policy makers shared innovative ideas with Australia and Canada and these peers which now openly wrestle with their own racist past merit renewed attention As unpalatable as the comparison might be to contemporary advocates of multiculturalism rethinking restrictions in South Africa can also offer lessons for reconciling competing claims of indigeneity through multiple levels of representation and rights

Deep-Time Images in the Age of Globalization Oscar Moro Abadía, Margaret W. Conkey, Josephine McDonald, 2024-05-13 This open access volume explores the impact of globalization on the contemporary study of deep time art The volume explores how early rock art research's Eurocentric biases have shifted with broadened global horizons to facilitate new conversations and discourses in new post colonial realities The book uses seven main themes to explore theoretical methodological ethical and practical developments that are orienting the study of Pleistocene and Holocene arts in the age of globalization Compiling studies as diverse as genetics visualization with the proliferation of increasingly sophisticated archaeological techniques means that vast quantities of materials and techniques are now incorporated into the analysis of the world's visual cultures Deep Time Images in the Age of Globalization aims to promote critical reflection on the multitude of positive and negative impacts that globalization has wrought in rock art research The volume brings new theoretical frameworks as well as engagement with indigenous knowledge and perspectives from art history It highlights technical methodological and interpretive developments and showcases rock art characteristics from previously unknown in the global north geographic areas This book provides comparative approaches on rock art globally and scrutinises the impacts of globalization on research preservation and management of deep time art This book will appeal to archaeologists social scientists and art historians working in the field as well as lovers of rock art

A History of Video Art Chris Meigh-Andrews, 2013-11-07 A History of Video Art is a revised and expanded edition of the 2006 original which extends the scope of the first edition incorporating a wider range of artists and works from across the globe and explores and examines developments in the genre of artists video from the mid 1990s up to the present day In addition the new edition expands and updates the discussion of theoretical concepts and ideas which underpin contemporary artists video Tracking the changing forms of video art in relation to the revolution in electronic and digital imaging that has taken place during the last 50 years A History of Video Art orients video art in the wider art historical context with particular reference to the shift from the structuralism of the late 1960s and early 1970s to the post modernist concerns of the 1980s and early 1990s The new edition also explores the implications of the internationalisation of artists video in the period leading up to the new millennium and its concerns and preoccupations including post colonialism the post medium condition and the impact and influence of the internet

Constitutional Identity and Constitutionalism in Africa Charles M. Fombad,Nico Steytler,2024-01-23 In its modern history Africa has experienced different waves of constitutional ordering The latest democratisation wave which began in the 1990s has set the stage over the past decade for what is now a hotly debated issue do recent new or fundamentally revised constitutions truly reflect an African constitutional identity Thoughtfully navigating a contested field this volume brings to the fore a number of foundational questions about African constitutionalism Constitutional Identity and Constitutionalism in Africa asks whether the concept of constitutional identity clarifies our understanding of constitutional change in Africa including an exploration of the relationship between constitutional identity and a country's unique culture's and histories Building on this contributions examine the persistent role of colonial heritages in shaping constitutional identity in post Independence African nations and the question of path dependency Given the enduring influence of the colonial experience the volume asks how why and to what end African constitutions must be decolonised to form an authentic constitutional identity This theoretical insight is supplemented and further deepened by detailed case studies of South Africa Ethiopia Cape Verde Cameroon and Egypt and their diverse experience of constitutional continuity and change This volume in the Stellenbosch Handbooks in African Constitutional Law series brings together contributions from established scholars and emerging voices on the study of constitutional processes They provide an urgent critical analysis of existing paradigms concepts and normative ideologies of modern African constitutionalism in the context of constitutional identity

Art Inspiring Transmutations of Life Patricia Trutty Coohill, 2010-09-02 Although the creative impulse surges in revolt against everyday reality breaking through its confines it makes pacts with that reality's essential laws and returns to it to modulate its sense In fact it is through praxis that imagination and artistic inventiveness transmute the vital concerns of life giving them human measure But at the same time art's inspiration imbues life with aesthetic sense which lifts human experience to the spiritual Within these two perspectives art launches messages of specifically human inner propulsions strivings ideals nostalgia yearnings prosaic and poetic profane and sacral practical and ideal while standing at the fragile borderline of everydayness and imaginative adventure Art s creative perduring constructs are intentional marks of the aesthetic significance attributed to the flux of human life and reflect the human quest for repose They mediate communication and participation in spirit and sustain the relative continuity of culture and history
